Section 210 Reciprocal Arrangements with Foreign Governments To the extent permissible under the laws and constitution of the United States the department is authorized to enter into or cooperate in arrangements whereby facilities and services provided under this act and facilities and services provided under the unemployment compensation law of any foreign government may be utilized for the taking of claims and the payment of benefits under this law or under a similar law of such government and to enter into arrangements of the character provided in this section with the agency of a foreign government administering an unemployment compensation law

Section 6 Subsections (a) (b) (c) (d) (e) (i) and (j) of section three hundred one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1854) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 301 Contributions by Employers Experience Rating

(a) Each employer shall pay contributions with respect to the calendar year one thousand nine hundred [forty-nine] fifty-one and each calendar year thereafter at a rate equal to two and seven-tenths per centum of wages paid by him for employment Provided however That such rate shall be adjusted between a minimum rate of [five-tenths] three-tenths of one per centum and a maximum rate of two and seven-tenths per centum in accordance with the following provisions of this section [if with respect to the adjustment of rate for the year one thousand nine hundred forty-nine the employer has paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in each of the five calendar years immediately preceding such year and with respect to the adjustment of rates for the year one thousand nine hundred fifty and thereafter] as hereby amended if the employer has paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in each of the three twelve-month periods ending on the computation date for the year for which the rate is applicable and has also paid contributions under this act for one or more of the first four of the last five calendar quarters immediately preceding such three twelve month periods And provided further however that no employer's rate of contribution for any calendar year shall be less than two and seven-tenths per centum unless all his contributions due on wages paid to the end of the second calendar quarter of the preceding calendar year together with interest and penalties due thereon have been paid by the thirty-first day of July of such preceding calendar year except that an employer who has timely filed an appeal as provided in subsection (e) of this section and who has been determined ineligible to receive a reduced rate solely on the basis that he has not paid all contributions interest and penalties within the time limits as required in this subsection shall have his rate redetermined and shall not be considered ineligible under this subsection if payment of such delinquent contributions interest and penalties is made within thirty days after the department has notified the employer of the reason for his ineligibility for rate reduction in response to the appeal filed by the employer under subsection (e)

(b) Each employer with respect to any period prior to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred [forty-nine] fifty-one shall be liable for contributions in accordance with the provisions of this act applicable to each period in effect prior to such date and for these purposes such provisions shall remain in force and effect

(c) The rate of contribution payable by an employer entitled to an adjustment as herein provided shall be as follows

(a) When as of the computation date there is a credit balance in such employer's reserve account which balance shall include (1) contributions with respect to the period ending on the computation date and paid on or before July thirty-one immediately following such computation date (2) benefits paid on or before computation date and shall also include any voluntary payments made in accordance with subsection (g) of Section 302 of this act his contribution rate shall be as set forth in the following table

As used in the foregoing table the term "Employer Percentage" means the ratio of the balance in an employer's reserve account to his average annual payroll and the term ["State Percentage"] "Fund Balance" means the [ratio of the] balance [as of July thirty-first immediately following such compensation date] in the Pennsylvania Unemployment [Trust] Compensation Fund [to the credit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania] at the end of any calendar quarter as recorded on the records of the department [to the aggregate average annual payrolls of all employers]

An employer's rate of contribution on wages paid during each calendar quarter shall be the rate specified in the column beneath his "Employer Percentage" which is on the horizontal line opposite

(1) Fund Balance (A) if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar quarter was not less than four hundred twenty million dollars ($420,000,000) or

(2) Fund Balance (B) if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar quarter was not less than three hundred forty million dollars ($340,000,000) or

(3) Fund Balance (C) if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar quarter was not less than two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000)

Provided That if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar quarter was less than two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000) or one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve (12) consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty (120) consecutive months whichever amount is greater then all employers' rates of contribution on wages paid during the next calendar quarter shall be two and seven-tenths per centum And provided further That if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar quarter was equal to or in excess of six hundred seventy million dollars ($670,000,000) then the rate of contribution on wages paid during the next calendar quarter for any employer having an "Employer Percentage" of four per centum or more shall be two-tenths of one per centum less than the rate of contribution specified in the column beneath his "Employer Percentage" which is on the horizontal line opposite Fund Balance (A) in the foregoing table And provided further however That in no case shall the rate of any employer exceed two and seven-tenths per centum or be less than [five-tenths] three-tenths of one per centum

(d) Successor-in-interest Where an employer subsequent to the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine transfers his or its organization trade or business in whole or in part to a successor-in-interest such successor-in-interest may prior to the end of the calendar year subsequent to the calendar year in which the transfer occurred make application for transfer of the whole or appropriate part of the experience record of the preceding employer to the successor-in-interest including credit for the years during which contributions were paid by the preceding employer Provided however Where such transfer involves only a part of such organization trade or business of the preceding employer the department shall transfer the appropriate part of such experience record of the preceding employer only if such preceding employer has joined in such application and has filed with the department such supporting schedules or other information with respect to such experience record as the department may require If the application for such transfer is filed in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department [and within the time limits prescribed therein] the department may allow such transfer only if all contributions interest and penalties owing by the predecessor have been or are paid [it] and the department finds that the employment experience of the preceding employer with respect to the organization trade or business or part thereof as the case may be which has been transferred may be considered indicative of the future employment experience of the successor-in-interest In the event of a part transfer of an employers organization trade or business only such portion of the experience record of the preceding employer as such employer's wages for the last calendar year's annual payroll of the organization trade or business transferred bears to his total annual payroll for such last calendar year shall be transferred and credit shall be given to the successor-in-interest only for the years during which contributions were paid by the preceding employer with respect to that part of the organization trade or business transferred. A transfer of a reserve account balance in whole or in part having been applied for and approved by the department the preceding employer [hereafter] shall not be entitled to consideration for an adjusted rate for the calendar year following the date of transfer and for subsequent calendar years based upon his reserve account balance which has been thus transferred.

A preceding employer or successor-in-interest who prior to the transfer was an employer during the calendar year in which the transfer occurred shall not have his rate of contribution adjusted under the provisions of this subsection for the remainder of such year. A successor-in-interest who prior to the transfer was not an employer during the calendar year in which the transfer occurred and who has made application for a transfer which has been approved by the department as provided herein and who together with his predecessor has paid contribution for the period required under subsection (a) of section three hundred one with respect to the organization trade or business or part thereof which has been transferred shall be assigned the same rate of contribution as the preceding employer for the remainder of such year after which his rate of contribution shall be determined on the basis of the balance in the reserve account which has been combined with any other reserve account which such successor-in-interest may have acquired.

(e) (1) The department at least once during each calendar quarter shall furnish each employer with a notice showing the amount of compensation paid during the preceding calendar quarter and charged to such employer's account including the names of the claimants the weeks for which compensation was paid and the amount of compensation charged. All questions involving the eligibility of a claimant to receive compensation [shall be] which have been resolved with notice to the employer as provided under section five hundred one of this act shall remain final and such eligibility may not be directly contested by an employer under the provisions of this section. However any determination of eligibility or allowance of benefits as to which the employer was not furnished notice under the provisions of section five hundred one of this act shall become final unless a protest contesting such determination is filed by the employer with the department within one hundred twenty (120) days from the date of the mailing of notice under the provisions of this subsection. Where such protest has been filed the department shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of section five hundred one and furnish the employer with notice of its determination or allowance. The clerical accuracy of the notice provided under the provisions of this subsection may not be contested by an employer in connection with any future appeal by the employer from the rate of contribution assigned to him unless within [sixty] one hundred and twenty days from the date of mailing of such notice the employer files with the department a protest in writing contesting the clerical accuracy of such notice and setting forth in detail the item or items to which exception is taken and the reasons therefor. Such period of [sixty] one hundred and twenty days may be extended with the approval of the department upon written application by the employer filed prior to the expiration of such period.

(2) The department shall promptly notify each employer of his rate of contribution for the calendar year determined as provided in this section. The determination of the department of the employer's rate of contribution shall become conclusive and binding upon the employer unless within [thirty] one hundred and twenty days after the mailing of notice thereof to the employer's last known post office address or prior to the expiration of the calendar year to which the notice relates whichever is the greater period the employer files an application for review and redetermination setting forth his reasons therefor [Provided That subject to the provisions of subsection (j) of this section the department at any time on its own motion may adjust an employer's contribution rate if it finds that such rate is incorrect].

Provided That if the department finds that because of an error of the department it has notified an employer that his rate of contribution is more than the rate to which he is entitled the department shall subject only to the time limitation prescribed in Section 311 for the allowance of refunds to employers adjust the rate of contribution. The department may if it deems the reasons set forth by the employer insufficient to change the rate of contribution deny the application otherwise it shall grant the employer a fair hearing. The employer shall be promptly notified of the denial of his application or of the department's redetermination both of which shall become final and conclusive within thirty days after the mailing of notice thereof to the employer's last known post office address unless the employer shall appeal by petition from the action of the department to the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County within such time.

(i) For purposes of determining whether or not an employer has paid contributions in order to be eligible for consideration for an adjusted rate an employer who shall have served in the active military or naval service of the United States at any time after the sixteenth day of September one thousand nine hundred forty and prior to the termination of [the present war] World War II and who shall have been discharged or released from active service under conditions other than dishonorable shall be deemed to have paid contributions under this act during any fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June any part of which is included in such period of military or naval service. Provided That he has actually paid contributions under this act for one or more quarters in either the fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June in which he entered such military service or in the immediately preceding fiscal year ending on the thirtieth day of June. The provisions of this section shall be operative insofar as applicable with respect to an employer who shall have served in the active military or naval service of the United States at any time after the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifty and prior to the termination of the present state of emergency.

(j) If the department finds that it has erroneously notified an employer that his rate of contribution is less than the rate to which he is entitled he shall be notified of the revision of his rate and he shall be required to make payment of additional contributions on the basis of the revised rate. Provided That no such additional contribution shall be required unless the employer is notified of his revised rate not later than [one year from the end] December thirty-first of the calendar year to which the rate is applicable unless the department finds that the employer has directly or indirectly contributed to the error. No interest shall be required to be paid in connection with such additional contributions if they are paid within thirty (30) days from the date that the employer is notified of his revised rate.

Section 7 Subsection (f) of section three hundred two of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1854) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 302 Establishment and Maintenance of Employer's Reserve Accounts. The department shall establish and maintain for each employer a separate employer's reserve account in the following manner:

(f) Subsequent to June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred forty-nine such account shall be charged with all compensation by even dollars paid to each individual who received from such employer wage credits constituting the base of such compensation in the proportion that such wage credits with such employer bears to the total wage credits received by such individual from all employers. Provided That [no compensation shall be charged to such account under the provisions of this subsection (f) if a charge has been made under any other provision of this section to such account with respect to the wages of the compensated employe upon which such compensation was based] if the department finds that such individual was separated from his most recent work for such employer due to being discharged for willful misconduct connected with such work or due to his voluntarily leaving such work without good cause attributable to his employment thereafter no compensation paid to such individual with respect to any week of unemployment occurring subsequent to such separation which is based upon wages paid by such employer with respect to employment prior to such separation shall be charged to such employer's account under the provisions of this subsection (f) provided such employer has filed a notice with the department in accordance with its rules and regulations. The findings and determinations of the department under this subsection (f) shall be subject to appeal in the manner provided in this act for appeals from determinations of compensation. The provisions of this subsection (f) as hereby amended shall become effective with respect to charges arising out of any benefit year which commences after the thirtieth day of September one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

Section 8 Section three hundred three of said act is hereby repealed.

Section 9 Section three hundred nine point one of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 60) and as last amended by the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1186) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 309.1 Compromises Where the department is satisfied (1) that the employer is unable to make payment in full of contributions interest and penalties imposed upon him by the law or that it would be inequitable to require the payment in full of delinquent interest and (2) that the employer has acted in good faith the secretary is hereby authorized to compromise delinquent interest and penalties due on any contribution and in the case of any employer that has been adjudged a bankrupt or for whom a receiver has been appointed or a deceased employer for whom an executor or administrator has been designated to compromise the principal of any delinquent contribution as well as interest and penalties thereon. Provided That any compromise of a total delinquent amount in excess of one thousand dollars shall require the approval of the Attorney General.

Section 10 Section three hundred nine point two of said act as added by the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 727) is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 309.2 Limitations Upon Enforcement of Payment of Contributions Interest and Penalties Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act to the contrary [contributions interest and penalties shall not be deemed to be due and payable under the provisions of this act more than four years after the end of the calendar year in which the wages were paid with respect to which liability for the payment of such contributions interest or penalties as the case may be was based and] no legal action for the collection [thereof] of contributions interest and penalties shall be instituted after the expiration of [such four year period] four years from the end of the calendar year in which the wages were paid with respect to which liability for the payment of such contributions interest or penalties as the case may be was based unless prior to the expiration of such four-year period and with respect thereto (1) an assessment proceeding shall have been instituted pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred four of this act or (2) an action shall have been instituted pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred nine of this act or (3) a lien shall have been entered pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred eight point one of this act. Provided That the provisions of this section shall not apply where an employer by willful failure or refusal to file a report with the department or to include in any report all wages which he has paid or otherwise has attempted to avoid or reduce liability for the payment of contributions.

Section 11 Section three hundred ten of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 60) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 310 Priorities Under Legal Dissolutions and Distributions In the event of any distribution of an employer's assets pursuant to an order of any court under the laws of this Commonwealth including any receivership assignment for benefit of creditors adjudicated insolvency composition or similar proceeding contributions or installments thereof or interest thereon then or thereafter due shall be paid in full prior to all other claims except taxes claims arising under The Workmen's Compensation Act of one thousand nine hundred fifteen and its amendments and supplements and claims for wages of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars to each claimant earned within six months of the commencement of the proceedings. In the event of an employer's adjudication in bankruptcy judicially confirmed extension proposal or composition under the Federal Bankruptcy Act of one thousand eight hundred ninety-eight as amended contributions and interest then or thereafter due shall be entitled to such priority as are now or may hereafter be granted to taxes due to a state under the said federal bankruptcy act or its amendments.

No sheriff receiver trustee assignee master or other officer shall sell the property or franchises of any corporation or similar entity unincorporated association co-partnership or individual without first filing with the Department of Labor and Industry not less than ten (10) days prior to such sale a statement containing the following information: (a) name or names of the plaintiff or party at whose instance or upon whose account the sale is made (b) the name of the corporation or similar entity unincorporated association co-partnership or individual whose property or franchise is to be sold (c) the time and place of sale and (d) the nature of the property to be sold and the location of the same.

Section 12 Section three hundred eleven of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1145) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 311 Refunds and Adjustments If any individual or organization shall make application for refund or credit of any amount paid as contribution interest or penalties under this act and the department shall determine that such amount or any portion thereof was erroneously collected the department may at its discretion either allow a credit therefor without interest in connection with subsequent contribution payments or shall refund from the Unemployment Compensation Fund without interest the amount erroneously paid. Provided That an amount equal to any refund or credit of interest and penalties allowed as provided herein shall be transferred from the Special Administration Fund to the Unemployment Compensation Fund irrespective of whether such interest or penalties were paid into the Unemployment Compensation Fund or into the Special Administration Fund. No refund or credit shall be allowed with respect to a payment as contributions interest or penalties unless an application therefor shall be made on or before whichever of the following dates shall be the later: (a) one year from the date on which such payment was made or (b) four years from the [last day] reporting due date of the reporting period with respect to which such payment was made. For a like cause and within the same period a refund may be so made or a credit allowed on the initiative of the department.

An amount paid as contribution interest or penalties shall not be deemed to have been erroneously collected within the meaning of this section if such amount was collected under and pursuant to a notice of contribution rate or a notice of assessment which because of the applicant's failure to file a timely appeal therefrom shall have become binding and final against the applicant under the provisions of this act. Provided That nothing contained herein shall be construed as prohibiting the department from granting within the period prescribed herein a refund of contribution interest or penalties.

erroneously collected due to an error of the department

Section 13 Section four hundred one of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1738) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 19 Sections six hundred one point one and seven hundred two of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1854) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 601.1 Special Administration Fund There is hereby created a special fund separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this Commonwealth to be known as the Special Administration Fund Under rules and regulations adopted by the department interest and penalties collected from employers under the provisions of this act [and fees incident to appeals as provided in section five hundred two] may be paid into the Special Administration Fund Such rules and regulations may provide for determining in any manner which payments of interest and penalties are to be paid into the Special Administration Fund and which payments of interest and penalties are to be paid into the Unemployment Compensation Fund There shall also be deposited in the Special Administration Fund moneys as provided in subsection (b) of section two hundred one of this act The moneys in this fund shall be used for the payment of costs of administration which are found not to have been properly and validly chargeable against Federal grants or other funds received for or in the administration fund and also for the purposes authorized in subsection (b) of section two hundred one of this act Said moneys shall not be expended or available for expenditure in any manner which would permit their substitution for or a corresponding reduction in Federal funds which would in the absence of said moneys be available to finance expenditures for the administration of this act Nothing in this section shall prevent said moneys from being used as a revolving fund to cover expenditures necessary and proper under the law for which Federal funds have been duly requested but not yet received subject to the charging of such expenditures against such funds when received The State Treasurer shall make payment of obligations from the Special Administration Fund as herein provided upon requisition of the secretary and certification by him that no other funds are available or can properly be used to finance such expenditures. The moneys in this fund are hereby specifically made available to replace any moneys received pursuant to section three hundred and two of the Federal Social Security Act as amended which because of any action or contingency have been lost or have been expended for purposes other than or in amounts in excess of those necessary for the proper administration of this act and are available for such replacement whether or not such moneys were expended or the obligations covering such expenditures were incurred prior or subsequent to the enactment of this amendment. The moneys in this fund shall be continuously available for expenditure in accordance with the provisions of this section and shall not lapse at any time or be transferred to any other fund except as herein provided and as provided under [sections] section three hundred eleven and five hundred two wherein an amount equal to any refund or credit of interest or penalties shall be transferred from the Special Administration Fund to the Unemployment Compensation Fund.

Section 702 Limitation of Fees No employer or employee shall be charged fees of any kind in any proceeding under this act by the department the board or any of its officers or agents [except as provided in section five hundred two]. Any individual claiming compensation in any proceeding before the department the board or referee may be represented by counsel or other duly authorized agent but no such counsel or agent shall either charge or receive any greater fee for such services than is approved by the board. Any person who violates any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or be imprisoned for not more than six months or both.

Section 20 Section eight hundred one of said act as last amended by the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1186) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 801 False Statements and Representations to Obtain or Increase Compensation Whoever makes a false statement or representation knowing it to be false or knowingly fails to disclose a material fact to obtain or increase any compensation or other payment under this act or under an employment security law of any other state or of the Federal Government or of a foreign government either for himself or for any other person shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty nor more than fifty dollars or shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not longer than thirty days or both and each such false statement or representation or failure to disclose a material fact shall constitute a separate offense.

Section 21 Section eight hundred four of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1738) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 804 Recovery and Recoupment of Compensation Any person who by reason of his fault has received any sum as compensation under this act to which he was not entitled shall be liable to repay to the Unemployment Compensation Fund to the credit of the Compensation Account a sum equal to the amount so received by him. Such sum shall be collectible (a) in the manner provided in this act for the collection of past due contributions or (b) by deduction from any future compensation payable to the claimant under this act. Provided That no administrative or legal proceedings for the collection of such sum shall be instituted after the expiration of six years following the end of the benefit year with respect to which such sum was paid.

An person who other than by reason of his fault has received with respect to a benefit year any sum as compensation under this act to which he was not entitled shall not be liable to repay such sum but shall be liable to have such sum deducted from any future compensation payable to him with respect to such benefit year or the one-year period immediately following such benefit year. Provided however That no recoupment from future compensation shall be had if such recoupment would be inequitable and unconscionable.

In determining whether or not recoupment from future compensation would be inequitable or unconscionable the claimant's financial worth shall not be considered.

The claimant and other affected parties shall be notified in writing of the department's determination to deduct any sum from future compensation under this section and such determination shall be subject to appeal in the manner provided in this act for appeals from determinations of compensation.

Transition Provisions

Section 22 After the rate of contribution for each employer has been computed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred fifty-one under the provisions of section three hundred one of this act as hereby amended an employer whose rate so computed is less than the rate computed for him in accordance with the provisions of this act in effect prior to the effective date of this amendment shall pay contributions with respect to the calendar year one thousand nine hundred fifty-one at the lesser rate.

Section 23 Notwithstanding any other provision of this act or of the act amended by this act the excess of any contribution paid by any employer with respect to the calendar year one thousand nine hundred fifty-one over the amount determined by the application of his rate of contribution for such year computed under the provisions of section three hundred one of this act as hereby amended shall be deemed to have been erroneously paid and shall be allowed by the department as a credit without interest in connection with subsequent payments of contributions by such employer.

Section 24 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. I arise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to be informed concerning the order of business for the day.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman the Chair was about to recognize the Majority Leader, for such information.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, yesterday we informed all the Members of the House that we would convene today, and immediately after convening, we would recess for each side of the House to have a caucus. We fully intended to carry out that plan. However, at this moment there are amendments to certain tax bills, amendments from our side and amendments from the other side of the House that are being drawn up in the Attorney General's office.

If it were possible for the House either to proceed with some preliminary business, or to be at ease until these amendments come over, it would help us out just a little bit. The reason for this is, if these amendments go into these bills prior to our caucus, our caucus will then have a good idea of just what the bill is going to do.

It will also save some printing time because during the time that we are in caucus the bills can go to the Printer and come back and be on third reading again today for final passage.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any advertising agency publisher or newspapers magazines or other advertising media accepting authorization for the reproduction or copy of any such trade-mark innocently and in good faith in the usual course of business

Amend the bill, Section 13, page 17, line 18, by inserting after the word "destroyed" the following

But no owner of such a trade-mark shall have such right of injunction against an advertising agency publisher or newspapers magazines or other advertising media accepting authorization for the reproduction or copy of any such trade-mark innocently and in good faith in the usual course of business

Amend the bill, Section 15, page 18, line 16, by striking out after the word "Effect" the words "Repeal of Prior Acts" and page 18, line 19 by striking out the word "all" and inserting in lieu thereof the following

Section 17 repeal of prior acts

The act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 582) entitled "An Act to provide for the registration of labels trade-marks trade-names stamps designs devices shopmarks terms brands designations descriptions or forms of advertisement and protect and secure the rights property and interest therein of the persons copartnerships or corporations adopting and filing the same and providing penalties for the violations of the act" and its amendments are hereby repealed

BILLS ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair will turn to page 37 of today's calendar, bills on third reading, House Bill 1699.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1699, entitled

An Act to further amend the title and the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 521) entitled as amended "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death" and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a nonresident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death defining and taxing transfers made in contemplation of death defining as a transfer and taxing the right of survivorship in property as to which such right exists and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal" by imposing duties on surviving parties and banks or other institutions or depositories of joint accounts or accounts in trust and by adding a new section pertaining to the opening and examining of safe deposit boxes of decedents and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 6, line 2, by inserting after the word "deposit" and before the word "Any" the following:

Provided, however, that in the case of a joint deposit with the right of survivorship, such waiver shall be produced only with respect to the pro rata share of such funds as formerly belonged to the decedent.

Amend Section 3, page 6, line 18, by inserting after the word "vault" and before the word "any" the following: or any other person

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, the bill we are considering amendments to is House Bill 1699. They do not change the purpose of the bill in any way. The purpose of this bill is to close certain doors which have lent themselves to tax moneys not getting paid to the state of Pennsylvania.

The bill in short provides, where there is a joint bank deposit, and one of the joint depositors died, the surviving party to that joint bank account, whether it be one person, two or more, is required to furnish a tax waiver from the Department of Revenue to the bank before he can withdraw any of the funds from that deposit. The purpose obviously being to insure the payment of the tax money which is due the Commonwealth.

However in about ninety-eight percent of these joint deposits there is an agreement between the depositors that the survivor shall be entitled to the balance that is in that fund after the person dies. Under the tax laws of Pennsylvania such a deposit is deemed to be the property of the decedent and the survivor in equal shares, or if there are more than two depositors, then in whatever number of depositors the ownership is divided and the tax is based on that.

This amendment that I have just offered slightly changes the bill as it is drawn and would allow the survivor, if he be one of two persons in that account, to withdraw one half of the funds because they belong to him anyway, without the necessity of waiting to get a tax revenue waiver from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It will simply mean that the surviving depositors will not be unduly inconvenienced and, in my opinion, there will be no loss of tax money at all, because the highest rate of tax that could be imposed, even if the new inheritance tax amendment passes this session, would be twenty percent on one half of that back account. So, obviously if you freeze one half of the bank account, and the tax cannot be more than twenty percent on it, the state is going to get its money before that fund can be released or withdrawn from the bank.

Those of you who practice law will know that in many cases brothers, for example, or sisters, or cousins will have a joint bank account and that will be the only money those people may have. If these accounts are completely frozen until a revenue waiver can be obtained it might mean that the survivor might have to wait two, three or four weeks to get that particular paper or document from the state, during which time he could not withdraw his own money and might have to go out and borrow money to live, or pay his rent or do something of that kind.

If I were not convinced that this would not in any way defeat the purpose of this bill, if I thought it would defeat it in any way, I would not offer the amendment, but I see no danger to the Commonwealth's tax revenue through this amendment, and I would like to ask your support of it.

Mr. Speaker, may I inquire whether the amendment to Section 3 line 18, has been read?

The SPEAKER. All the amendments have been read, for the information of the gentleman.

Mr. READINGER. The other part of the amendments that I am offering deals with the opening of safe deposit boxes. It now provides in the bill, where a decedent has such a box, or has it together with other people, the bank in which that deposit box exists, "shall deny to the executors, administrators or legal representatives of said decedent or the survivor or survivors of the joint lessees of the safe deposit box or vault any access," to it prior to the time when a representative of the Department of Revenue can be present to see what is in that box.

The amendment I am offering contains the words "or any other person," because if you strictly construe the words that are now in the bill and an attorney appears at the bank and says, "I would like to get into that box," that attorney could be allowed by the bank to get into the box, because he is not one of the persons who is named in this section.

So to close the door to that possibility I have offered this other amendment which I say adds "any other person." In other words nobody is to get at that box unless the Department of Revenue's representative is present to see what is in the box. I ask your support of these amendments.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker on this side of the House we believe the position of Mr. Readinger is well taken and we therefore ask the Members on this side to support the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker I have an additional amendment to the same section of this particular bill. I would like to submit it at this time.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an additional amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 3, page 6, line 15, by inserting after the word "persons" and before the word "the the following: except where the decedent and other party were husband and wife

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, this amendment is offered to the same section of House Bill 1699 that was amended a few minutes ago by the House. I have offered this one separately for the reason that this may be more controversial, or probably is more controversial than the other amendments which have just been acted upon.

Section 3 of this bill provides that after section 37 of the Act, the present law which we are amending, the following new section be added and they call it section 37 of the Act which is being amended, which is the inheritance tax law.

That section provides, "whenever a decedent has leased, purchased, licensed or otherwise obtained the use of a safe deposit box or vault in any safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank....." whether or not the safe deposit box is in the name of a decedent or in the joint names of the decedent and one or more other persons that box may not be opened until there is a representative of the Department of Revenue present after being notified of the time when it would be opened to examine the contents of the box.

This amendment which I am now offering would take out of that section the case where a safe deposit box was registered and owned by husband and wife. It may seem at first glance that there is no reason why a husband's and wife's safe deposit box should be treated any differently from another jointly owned box, but I believe it is true in many instances, practically ninety percent, the contents of a safe deposit box in the name of husband and wife belong to the survivor with the exception of course of things which are specifically and definitely the property of the person who died or the survivor.

For example if a man has government bonds registered in his own name in his safe deposit box obviously whether the Department of Revenue's representative was present or not those securities belong to his estate. They would have to be declared as part of it and tax paid on it. There is no way of transferring those securities except by application to the representative of the state. The same is true of stock certificates or any other evidence of ownership which would be in the name of the person who dies first.

Apart from such things which are clearly a part of the decedent's estate, usually in these boxes, I presume you would find money or jewelry or things of that nature which could pass from hand to hand. It is my belief and my conviction that in almost every case the husband and wife intended that to belong to both of them.

As you know there is no Pennsylvania inheritance tax between a husband and wife. Since there is no taxes in such an instance I see no reason why a surviving wife or husband should be made to call in a Department of Revenue representative and have him present when that box is opened after death. I believe this will not cause the state to lose any revenue and I think it will leave the people of Pennsylvania who are married, and have these boxes with securities andsoforth, a lot happier if this amendment is adopted. I ask for its support.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker I rise in opposition to the proposed amendment. I feel that the purpose of this act is to close up any possibility of the State being defrauded of any tax that it might be entitled to.

The sponsor of the amendments has suggested the fact that inasmuch as the box is registered in the name of husband and wife it is presumed that everything that is in that box is held by entirety as husband and wife, and therefore there would not be any tax placed upon whatever was found in the box.

It so happens and practically so, that often this is used as a method of avoiding payment not only of inheritance tax but the cost of administration whereby a parent of means may put cash into various envelopes and mark them for my son John or my daughter so and so, fully intending that these funds will pass directly to that son or brother or sister without any administration whatsoever and the State be deprived of the tax that it is rightly entitled to have. That situation could arise.

If this act goes through and a representative of the Revenue Department is present and there is no such designation found within the box the State will have no claim, the money will automatically go to the wife as the survivor of the husband and wife relationship or vice versa and the state will not be defrauded of anything. But it could be used as a means of transferring funds belonging to decedents to some one other than to the wife on which the State would be entitled to an inheritance tax.

I therefore feel that it would weaken the intended purpose behind the bill if this amendment were adopted.

Mr. READINGER. I would like to add one more word to what Mr. Schmidt said. What he says about the possibilities of moneys being given to children without tax being paid is true. But there are so many other ways in which that same thing could be accomplished that I do not think it is something we should really worry too much about.

For example, if this bill is passed as is, it is not hard to conceive of a man who is quite ill and thinks he is going to die; if he has such an envelope in his safe deposit box, saying "to my son John andsoforth," it would be very simple for him to have his wife go to his box and bring it home and just leave it there. In case he dies, just hand it to him. If he does not die, well it goes back in the box, or something else is done with it.

If there were an absolute guarantee that there could be no leakage whatsoever of the type concerning which Mr. Schmidt speaks, then I would be inclined to agree with him. But I think you have to weigh two things here. That is the inconvenience or the irritation to a surviving wife or husband as against the possibility of a few thousand dollars in tax money being lost to the Commonwealth. I would rather see the money lost to the Commonwealth, if it is going to be lost, than I would to impose on a surviving husband or wife the matter of having to call in a Department of Revenue representative to go through that box.

Mr. SCHMIDT. In reply to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, if it is intended by this act to close up all loopholes let us close them up.

Now, as I say, a situation as I have explained can happen and does happen. It is something that the Federal government itself is considering at this time. I know that to be a fact.

Insofar as the wife is concerned if there is no designation within the safe deposit box, she will take everything that is there, there will be no tax and no inconvenience other than what is routine insofar as the settlement of someone's estate is concerned.

I therefore ask that these amendments be defeated.

Mr. JOHNSON. The purpose of this bill, as the majority leader pointed out yesterday, was one of plugging loopholes in our present law. We feel if this amendment is permitted it will certainly leave wide open the loophole that we are trying to plug. So we, therefore, request that these amendments be voted down.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a division on the question.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division having been called forty-two Members having voted in the affirmative and ninety in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SCHMIDT. I arise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I am desirous of knowing whether or not amendments are being offered today to the tax measures that are now on third reading with the intention that later on in the day the bills with the amendments as acted upon will be presented to us for final passage.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority leader permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be informed as to whether or not amendments are to be offered today to the tax measures, and then later on in the day the bills as amended will be presented to us for final enactment?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is our plan at this time.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of parliamentary inquiry, I desire to know whether or not it is possible under the Rules of this House to follow such a procedure?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman the only requirement is that the bills be in print they having been considered three times at length on three separate days.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, in the case of amendments though, where we are going to consider a bill today that has been passed twice, is going to be amended on the floor today and then presented to us as amended on the same day, is that possible?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that that procedure is in conformity with article III, Section 4, of the Constitution.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, then may I ask this: is it not possible for these various amendments to be submitted to the caucuses of the parties prior to their being presented here on the floor?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, that is the procedure that has been agreed upon, that the amendments will be presented.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, no, I mean that they shall be presented to the various caucuses prior to their presentation upon the floor.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman the procedure agreed upon by the leadership is now being followed.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, and that is to consider them on the floor here prior to their having been heard in caucus?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is with that understanding.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, is a Member in a position to object to such a procedure?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, a Member can object to the offering of amendments on third reading if he desires.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise for the purpose of suggesting to the gentleman from Allegheny that the amendments that will be presented are designed to improve bills that may be questionable. The amendments are not as controversial as the bills themselves, and the explanation of the amendments made on the floor offers ample opportunity to the gentleman from Allegheny or any other Member to oppose them and to make inquiry concerning them.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1694, entitled:

An Act to further amend section twenty-four of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" by removing exemptions of life insurance companies and companies doing business upon the mutual plan and certain purely mutual beneficial associations from the State tax on gross premiums premium deposits and assessments received from insurance business transacted within this Commonwealth and changing the rate of tax

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I also have amendments for these bills, which as the Minority Leader just said, are amendments that are going to make better bills. We are quite sure of that because of oversights or because of errors on our part. These are not controversial amendments; they are amendments that will better the bill that is in our possession at this time.

I am offering amendments to House Bill 1694, and what they do is to provide that stock companies or insurance companies be able to take credit for the capital stock tax and the corporate net income tax paid to the Commonwealth, or to take a credit for any other state tax paid in their figuring of the previous tax.

Without these amendments a great inequality would be placed upon certain companies. With these amendments we are putting them now on a fair basis with foreign companies and with other companies in the state.

Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 24, page 3, line 15, by inserting after the word "deposits" and before the word "and" the following: "annuity considerations"

Amend Section 24, page 3, line 16, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "Commonwealth" the following: "Provided however That a credit shall be allowed in the payment of said tax in an amount equal to the capital stock and corporate net income taxes paid to the Commonwealth for the same period"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the Majority Leader have an extra copy of his amendments that he could give to the gentleman from Allegheny so that he could compare the amendments with the bill if he so desires?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I gave one to Mr. Readinger and I am sure we will have another copy for Mr. Schmidt. I will also send over to Mr. Schmidt a copy of the amendments I am going to offer to another bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that we pause an instant and give the gentleman from Allegheny an opportunity to compare the amendments with the text of the bill.

Mr. SPEAKER. The Chair will do so.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1698, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon certain documents prescribing and regulating the method and manner of evidencing the payment of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain persons partnerships associations and corporations recorders of deeds and the Department of Revenue saving certain local taxes and authorizing amendments extensions and supplements to the ordinances and resolutions relating thereto and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 2, line 17, by inserting after the word "mortgages" and before the word "and" the following: "transfers between husband and wife"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, again we have the same type of amendment to offer. We feel that we are strengthening a bill on real estate transfers.

For the benefit of the gentlemen who are in the balcony, we feel that we are strengthening the bill they sent over to us in a Senate package.

In the present bill a transfer of property, between man and wife in entirety or as a whole, the tax would be paid upon the highest assessment on that property. We are taking that out and allowing a transfer between man and wife with no monetary consideration to be free from any tax.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to cut in at this time to call the attention of the Majority Leader to the fact that his change in the program of not having a caucus immediately after we have convened will result in some confusion, because yesterday it was understood that the Minority would have an opportunity to amend the bills on third reading. That was distinctly understood. Now, without having informed me, it happens that various members of the Minority have amendments to the bills, amendments which they desire to submit to the caucus, amendments which will be submitted to the caucus, and amendments for which we will demand consideration after the caucus.

So you will amend your bills now, get them printed and in conformity with the agreement if the amendments that we may offer are accepted, they will be printed again.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to agree with the gentleman that that was our agreement, and it still is. If something can be worked out in a side bar conference I am perfectly willing to do it under parliamentary procedure.

I would like to remind the gentleman though, that I assumed that any amendments to be offered would be ready at this time from the other side, but unfortunately the Members did not tell him. So I cannot place the blame on him or on anyone else. We did accept the amendments that were offered, and I think we can work something out if it is agreeable with him.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has been Majority Leader long enough to know that not all Members on his side always inform him concerning their intentions.

It so happens that no Member of the Minority paused in his thinking to inform me that he wanted to offer amendments today to the bills.

I should have received such information prior to the opening of the present session, but there are amendments that they are entitled to offer. It was agreed that they would have the opportunity to do so, and they desire to submit their amendments to the Democratic caucus for consideration.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, if Mr. Andrews, the Speaker, the Parliamentarian and I could get together just a few minutes we might be able to work out something.

I would like to remind the gentleman that the Members on this side are so well organized that I do know when they are going to amend bills.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader, with the permission of the Members amendments by Members of the Minority can be considered if they desire to offer them after the caucus.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1449.

An Act to amend the act approved the twelfth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act Number 141) entitled "An act relating to mental health including mental illness mental defect epilepsy and inebriety and amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by further defining "qualified physician" and the rights of patients in institutions

Whereupon,

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC CAUCUSES

The SPEAKER. Immediately upon the calling of a recess, there will be a caucus of the Republican Members in the new House Caucus Room and a caucus of the Democratic Members in the old House Caucus Room.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for one hour. The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

SENATE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE BILL No. 836.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

HOUSE BILL No. 1480.

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by defining and re-defining certain terms by further providing for the submission of reports by the department to the Governor concerning the administration and operation of the act by providing for the selection of certain personnel on a civil service basis by providing for the disposition of obsolete files and records and for the admissibility of copies of such records in evidence for reciprocal arrangements with foreign governments for modification of the manner in which contribution rates are determined and redetermined for modification of the manner in which reports are filed and contributions paid for modification of the provisions with respect to eligibility for benefits and the amount thereof by conferring upon the department the right of appeal by eliminating appeal filing fees and by making further provisions for the prosecution of fraud and for recoupment of benefit payments

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read as amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 2, line 12, by inserting after the word "records" the words "and for the admissibility of copies of such records in evidence".

Amend the bill, Section 1, page 5, line 7, by striking out after the word "from" the words "the maximum" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "his"; page 5, line 9, by inserting after the word "than" the word "his"; page 5, line 10, by striking out after the word "than" the word "his" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "the maximum"; page 6, line 1, by inserting before the word "has" the words "in interest".

such taxes during such calendar or fiscal year for the preceding calendar or fiscal year or accrued during such calendar or fiscal year for such year as the case may be and on account of any dividends received from any other corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act And provided further That in the case of a corporation participating in the filing of consolidated Federal returns the additional deduction allowed from net income on account of any Federal income or excess profits taxes paid or accrued shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the total Federal income or excess profits taxes of the group after deducting therefrom an amount equivalent to any post-war refunds applicable to any such taxes as the net income of the corporation computed without a deduction for such Federal taxes bears to the sum of the net incomes of the several members of the group computed without a deduction for such Federal taxes And provided further That on reports filed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-three or for any fiscal year beginning in such calendar year or any calendar or fiscal year thereafter no deduction shall be allowed for any Federal income or excess profits taxes whatsoever except the declared value excess profits tax And provided further That on reports filed for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-six or for any fiscal year beginning in such calendar year or any calendar or fiscal year thereafter no deduction shall be allowed for net operating losses sustained by the corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred forty-six or during any fiscal year beginning in such calendar year or in any calendar or fiscal year thereafter be allowed as a deduction for any prior calendar or fiscal year And provided further That in the case of stock life fire casualty and indemnity insurance companies doing business on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policyholders out of net income

2 In case the entire business of any corporation other than a corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as may be determined by allocations and apportionments made as follows

(a) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The remainder of such net income shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property whenever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employees and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employees

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth and except rentals and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the state of Pennsylvania but performed outside the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the state but performed in the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such portion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the state under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

3 In case the entire business of any corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as shall be attributed to business transacted within this Commonwealth by multiplying such net income by a fraction of which the numerator is the gross premiums received from business transacted within the Commonwealth as hereinafter defined and of which the denominator is the amount of the gross premiums received from all its business "Gross Premiums" shall mean the amount of dues fees and premiums

(d) for the taxable years up to and including the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-two every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable For the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three every corporation upon the date its tentative report is required herein to be made shall pay on account of the tax due for the current year at its election (1) not less than two and one-half per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation last reported as received or accrued during an entire preceding year or of such multiple of the net income last reported for a portion of such year as the entire year bears to the portion of the year for which the net income had been reported or (2) not less than ten per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received or accrued during the first months of the current calendar or fiscal year whichever is applicable The remaining portion of the tax due shall be paid upon the date the corporation's annual report is required herein to be made

(e) The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until paid except that if the taxable income has been or is increased by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States interest shall be computed on the additional tax due from thirty days after the corporation receives notice of the change of income until paid Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court If it be thereafter detrimental that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

(f) If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

(g) If any corporation closes its fiscal year not upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and reports to the Federal Government as of such other date or would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government such corporation shall certify such fact to the Department of Revenue and shall make the annual report herein required within thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all other respects to the provisions of this act The tentative report required of such corporation shall be due not later than four months after the end of the next preceding fiscal year

(h) If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department shall not permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly any of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any annual report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed and in case the Federal income tax authorities at any time grant a longer extension of time for filing such reports with the Federal Government the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the annual report under this act of not more than thirty (30) days after the termination of the Federal extension but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to resettle such taxes Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(c) Where a report of change correction or redetermination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original annual report upon petition of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceeding as though it had been filed with [the] such original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary

(d) The provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to permit a resettlement based upon the allowance of any deduction on account of net operating losses sustained in other fiscal or calendar years that are not allowed as deductions under the definition of "Net Income" as contained in section two of this act

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation. The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approved by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act. The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act. Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized. Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law

Section 10 Retention of Records by Corporations Penalty Each corporation shall maintain and keep for a period of three (3) years after any report is filed under this act such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth for the period covered by such report and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Penalties (a) Any person who shall wilfully make a false and fraudulent return of net income made taxable by this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law. Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

(b) Any person who wilfully fails neglects or refuses to make a report or to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books papers and records of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court. Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

Section 12 Constitutional Construction The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 13 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes on net income of corporations for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-five one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three or for the fiscal years ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section I, page 5, lines 10 and 11, by striking out after the word corporation, the words "subject to the tax imposed by this Act."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to take a few moments to give the Majority Leader the amendments.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny if he intends to discuss these amendments, and will he be kind enough to tell the House what they do or is the Minority Leader going to do that?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the Minority Leader. He will discuss these points.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, at long last we have been given the opportunity to participate, in the course of 48 hours, in the consideration of a tax program to which very intelligent Members of this House devoted some eight weeks.

We protest the haste. It can be pointed out that we have tarried in these classic halls eight or nine months. We have witnessed inter-party feuds and personal disagreements which have obstructed the orderly procedure of the Commonwealth.

A tax program conceived early in the session has bogged down, and after eight or nine months eight Members of this House come galloping to the front saying "Here at last is your financial salvation."

We will crave the privilege, Mr. Speaker, of discussing the situation and its general aspects. We regret that no basic work has been done for the purpose of reorganizing, stabilizing and modernizing the tax structure of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We regret that this House in its wisdom has so far failed to take action designed to submit to the people of this Commonwealth the question of whether or not we should have a graduated income tax.

We have a traditional position on that matter on this side of the House. We have said that we would be willing to entertain proposals designed to give the Commonwealth a broader tax base as, if and when the people of the state had passed upon the proposals making possible a graduated income tax. The probable hint was that had a graduated income tax been possible, we could have agreed with you concerning the provisions of a general sales tax. But since you have denied us and the people of Pennsylvania, by inaction, the right to impose a graduated income tax, we are necessarily subjected to the patch work program; the tinkering necessary in order to keep the fiscal ship afloat.

We have never agreed with the estimates furnished this House by the Budget Bureau. We have intimated from time to time that the Administrative Code maybe needed some amendments. We recognized the fact that the Governor is bound by the estimates of the Budget Office, and that he is necessarily bound in determining the range of appropriations by the estimates. And we recognize the fact that however foolish those estimates may be, it is never-the-less necessary to legislate specifically sufficient money with which to conduct the affairs of the Commonwealth in orderly fashion.

We recognize the fact that the House, with the aid of the Senate, now has pink bills providing for expenditures calling for sums at least in the amount of $65,000,000 over and above the Governor's estimate.

We know further that there has been the pretense that we were going to keep the Budget for the first two years of the Fine Administration in line with the expenditures made during the last two years of the Duff Administration. While it has never suited the convenience of the Majority spokesman to comment upon the fact, it is nevertheless impossible to take the budget figures of the Duff Administration in its last two years as any indication of what it will cost the Fine Administration in its first two years. Because in the last two years of the Duff Administration they spent $140,000,000 over and above the budget figures. The Governor of the Commonwealth in his loyalty to his predecessor has never so stated.

So we are forced to admit the obligation of participating in the enactment of fiscal legislation which will finance the activities that we, as a Minority group with you, have sanctioned. So as far as I am personally concerned, and irrespective of what any other Member of the party may say, I am not coming before you today to say that no new money is needed. I only say that time will prove that receipts were underestimated, and there was not a need for the new money that is being asked. I also concede that His Excellency, the Governor, would be within his rights, if in handling the expenditure bills that came before him, to slice the schools, to slice the workers of the Commonwealth, to slice the hospitals, to slice the colleges on the plea that we did not give him enough money; not even in face of the fact that two years later it might appear that we had given him enough money.

So we are not rising in opposition to this program because of the conviction—at least so far as I am personally concerned—that no new money is needed.

We are turning your attention to House Bill 1692, an alleged acceleration bill. It was not to cost anybody any new money. You are simply to reach out and collect the equal annual quarters of revenue sooner than has been done. The idea has its merits because it does establish a deadline at which it should be possible to determine the fiscal situation of the Commonwealth—something that has never been possible before. So this bill as presented to this House is a laudable bill, because it was not going to cost anybody anything.

Now one of the amendments we have presented and the amendments that we will present to House Bill 1692 and House Bill 1695, what are they designed to do?

Under the present setup any corporation with a corporate income of $100,000 receives a dividend income from a foreign subsidiary of $10,000—if corporate income as a whole is $100,000, $10,000 comes from other companies. So it is taxed in Pennsylvania for $90,000 at a basis of $90,000, or $4,500.

Under this bill it is taxed at $100,000 and the $4,500 tax becomes a $5,000 tax. Then you say what is wrong with that? Well there are 40,000 small corporations in the State of Pennsylvania, and if only half of them are increased in the proportion that this little one is increased, you have a lot of money.

Within the hour I have had the opportunity to face the representative of one of our larger corporations in Pennsylvania, and his statement is that unless Bills 1692 and 1695 are amended in conformity with the suggestions the minority is offering, the taxes of his corporation will be hiked $2 million a year; that the increase in taxes will be so serious that it will be necessary for his company to reorganize its entire capital structure.

I do not propose to attempt to debate the technical provisions in House Bill 1692. I do say that the technical men, speaking for Pennsylvania's major corporations say that House Bill 1692 is not simply a tax collection acceleration bill but that it will bring into the coffers of this state more money, more new money than it was proposed to raise by means of the flat income tax.

I am not at this time arguing the question as to whether corporate taxes should or should not be increased. That point is not at issue. Corporate taxes should be increased. The increase should come before us in square, fair fashion. It should not be hidden within the recesses of an acceleration bill. I say to the Majority Leader if he will take the time to get on the phone and consult the attorneys of the leading corporations in this state, their fiscal officers, he can ascertain that what I am saying regarding the revenue raising features of House Bill 1692 are right.

The majority party, if it wants to and has the votes, can send this bill across. I would not weep. I would not weep if this bill in its present form passed the House and passed the Senate. It is a corporation wrecking bill. It is the kind of measure that will come back to haunt you.

It is somewhat of a new role, perhaps for me to talk in defense of corporations, and yet on this side of the House, if we are going to tax them, if we are going to increase their annual payments to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we are going to do it in such a way that every Member of the House and every Member of the Senate and the people of Pennsylvania know what we are doing. I am going to try, as I said, to debate the technical features of this bill. I simply give you my personal word that within the hour I talked with truthful men who tell me that 1692 is emphatically a money raising bill, and who are of the opinion that the amendments offered by the minority will convert that bill into what it was originally intended to be a tax collection acceleration measure.

Mr. SMITH. I will yield to the gentleman if he has something more to say Mr. Speaker. I notice him at the microphone.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I did not know in how much of a hurry the Majority Leader might be. I was simply rising to request that we probably want a roll call vote on these amendments, in the event that, in his wisdom, the Majority Leader deems it wise to oppose them.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the Minority Leader in his usual suave manner beat me to the gun. He beat me to the gun when he admitted that it was an unusual thing for him to shed tears for corporations. For a minute I had to look to see which side of the House he was on. It is unique. There are several things that the gentleman said that I would like to answer.

First of all the gentleman did make a statement about a broad base tax. I am sure that he is aware that we on this side of the House recognized months ago, many months ago, that to give any kind of a fair tax program to the citizens of our state, we had to accept and recognize the need for a broad base tax. At that time the gentleman was not too much with us on the type of tax we offered. It may have been broad but maybe it was not the type that he wanted.

He mentions the graduated income tax. I am sure that he knows and we all know that a graduated income tax would mean an amendment to our Constitution. It would have to pass two consecutive sessions and then be voted upon by the people.

In the meantime—

Mr. ANDREWS. Will the gentleman yield for a question?

Mr. SMITH. I will be only too glad to yield, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Will the Majority Leader outline the thinking of the majority in withholding from the people the opportunity to vote upon a graduated income tax amendment?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that I or anyone else has ever withheld that opportunity from the people. It has been the opinion of the Committees of the House that are part of this House. It is not up to an individual. It is not up to a few; it is up to the thinking of the entire committees.

Even if the bill were to be brought out today that certainly would not solve our fiscal program or solve our need for money, our immediate need. Certainly we cannot close hospitals while we are waiting for the people to vote on a tax measure.

The gentleman said also that if I would have considered and called on the phone certain attorneys, and I take it from his speech that those attorneys must represent vested corporations, I would have other information.

Mr. Speaker, I said yesterday and I repeat today, and I repeat it with some pride in my voice that we did not in this tax program consider any group of vested interests in the formation of this program. We considered the need of the people of this Commonwealth for the many things that we have promised them. We considered the need for money, and we considered it on a fair basis.

I am sure that I would be condemned on the floor of this House by not only some of the minority but some of the majority, if they knew we went out and pulled in every corporation lawyer and every other vested interest or anybody else who wanted to be against taxes.

The estimates that these taxes would bring in under this program were given to us by our Revenue Department. As the gentleman stated, the Governor has to accept the Revenue Department's estimate through his Budget Director. That was the fair and honest way to do it. There is nobody that can stand and point a finger at any member of the committee that formed this tax, or the entire tax package.

Now the gentleman states that—I hope I misunderstood him—1692 will bring in more money than $61,000,000.

Yesterday I hoped that I had made it clear that we understood this, and we knew under the acceleration clause it will not bring in any additional tax money and will not cost the corporations any additional tax money. It will bring it in because we are pushing it up. We are pushing the time element up. But it is not costing—and I repeat—the corporations of Pennsylvania any new money in tax dollars.

This is definitely a combination bill. In the bill we thought we did what most people would like us to do. I do not like to pay for something and have my neighbor get out of it. It is human nature. I do not think anybody in this House likes to pay for something and have somebody else get out from under because of a loophole or because of a smart lawyer's tricks.

The part that will bring in new money in House Bill 1692 is the part that the gentleman is talking about, the exemption of dividends from a corporation to another corporation—that is the only part of this bill that is going to bring in new money. We had an estimate from the Secretary of Revenue that it will bring in approximately one and a half million dollars.

There is no doubt there are loopholes and I do not think that anybody can point a finger at any one for trying to close loopholes, legal loopholes; nobody likes them. They are words that we do not like to "crawl out from under" and that is what it amounts to.

I would also like to remind the gentleman that I have authentically been told that Pennsylvania is one of the very, very few states in this country that allows the legal loophole for anybody to crawl out from under on dividends. I cannot crawl out from under on any dividends that are paid me by a corporation. I pay my taxes on them, and so does everyone sitting in this House. And so does the working man with a few shares of stock, he pays his taxes on them. Now the corporation comes along and says "Let us pay dividends to another corporation and let that ride free."

Mr. Speaker in House Bill 1692 and in the clause that the gentleman is trying to amend, he would allow loopholes for corporations to slide out from under. Mr. Speaker I ask that the Members of this House close that loophole by voting down these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I simply want to enter on the record the flat statement that there are over twelve corporations in the State of Pennsylvania each one of which will be subjected to a tax increase in excess of the amount that the revenue office says the bill as a whole will raise.

I also want to repeat my statement that if you are going to have a corporation tax measure, bring it in as such.

I further repeat that under the guise of a tax collection accelerated program you are reaching out for over $80 million that is going to come in, and which you will want the opportunity to expend, and which you would not dare ask for if you brought the proposition out into the open.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I told the gentleman where I got my estimate, I think as long as he is making something a matter of record it is only proper that he tells us who told him these facts.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will confess, I have asked for fiscal facts from a very prominent official of the Gulf Oil Company. I have asked for fiscal facts from a very prominent official of Jones and Laughlin. I have asked for fiscal facts from a very prominent official of the United States Steel Company, and I have asked for fiscal facts from several small corporations that would have an income in the $100,000 class.

I do not care at this time to enter the names on the record. Conversation was in the presence of the committee. It was not behind the door, and I would say while I appreciate the diligence with which the special committee elaborated this tax program, I am not certain that they fine-tooth combed it for possible jokers that might serve budget office purposes.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the reason I asked the gentleman that question was to find out if those corporations are now operating in Pennsylvania and paying taxes in Pennsylvania. I assume most of them are.

I would also assume that if they are paying corporation taxes a good part of their corporate setup would be known to our Department of Revenue.

We have gone to our Department of Revenue and they have given us these figures. I feel that the Department of Revenue is a responsible group. I feel that the men we consulted are responsible. I do not deny the fact that these gentlemen that the Minority Leader consulted are responsible men. But, Mr. Speaker, nobody likes taxes. Sometimes all of us have a chance to exaggerate and we do know certain interests can present their views in a light different than they actually are.

I can only say that the Department of Revenue, has all of the figures available that these groups have who consulted with Mr. Andrews, therefore, I will take the Department of Revenue's estimates.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the Majority Leader is disposed to accept the estimates he has, and since there is in our mind reason for doubting the accuracy of the figures in the possession of the Majority Leader it is with great regret that we find it necessary to oppose the major features of this tax program as far as immediate action is concerned.

We will on other measures ask for a period in which there can be a more definite ascertainment of exact facts. If, unfortunately, our proposed amendments fall, we will find it necessary to oppose this measure.

We will request, when the time comes, a roll call.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I just would like to say one more thing and that is, that again I ask the House to vote down these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Readinger and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would inquire whether the Majority Leader desires the same roll call on the bill as prevailed on the amendments?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would rather hesitate to say that in view of the fact that I do not know our Member's thinking. I would not want to put words in their mouths.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inquire if there are objections to the use of the same roll call? The Chair hears objection.

Mr. SWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, on several occasions I have appeared before this microphone stating convictions as I have felt them, and I might add, as I still feel them.

I do not like this package. I do not like most that is in it. I told a lot of people as late as a few minutes before we came in here that in all probability I was going to vote against most of these bills, these tax bills.

When I came on the floor of the House opposing an income tax, I came here opposing that tax as a matter of principle. I never stated that we did not need some extra money; I am still of the opinion maybe we do not need as much as we ask for and yet I wonder, in an inflationary period, whether I am wise to oppose by my actions the passage of certain measures that by that opposition might help to defeat measures where actually the money will prove to have been needed through this inflationary period.

As at all times, I have had to wage quite a battle here within myself as to what I want to do on these taxes. As I said, I opposed the income tax as a matter of principle. I never told the people of the Second Dauphin County District that I would come in here and vote for education, welfare, hospitals, all of the things that we need and which we must have, and then turn around and vote against tax bills. I said to them I would try to use good judgment in making my decisions.

While I do not yet know that we need all of this money, while this tax package does not include some of the things that I wish it had included, yet I have to ask myself if by my opposition here, after all these months of debate, that maybe I might be instrumental in blocking advancement of certain things which we need for our health, welfare and education.

I would be quite frank in telling the Members of this House, the minority Members especially, that I did not even attend the caucus. I have been a rather disgusted Member of this House of Representatives. But while I did not attend the caucus, my mind is on the problems of the state of Pennsylvania. In all sincerity I am going to have the courage to stand up and fight for the way that I think those problems should be solved, without any thought of trying to advance myself politically, because I repeat I have not even decided whether I will run for re-election.

I have a lot of figures here. I do not want to re-hash old things. I want to get off the floor here, I hope that I never get back on it, and that we get out of here and get our work done.

I have a lot of things here that I have advocated: Cutting of Civilian Defense, extra surplus, additional revenue from C. N. I. and all those things; the soft drink tax that I thought was wise and a lot of matters not written and talked about, but that is all over and above board, and we are today with a certain package. I do not like it. I do not like going out and collecting money that should be used by the next session of this Legislature.

While I was not a Member of this House I approved the passage of the Soldier's bonus, and I was critical of the last session for not having the nerve to pass taxation to take care of that bonus at the time it was passed. I do not like the idea of going out and taking six months' revenue that belongs to the next session. I do not like other things in here. But I have had to decide whether I am going to have everything that I want, have my own way or whether I have got to give a little bit and try to see that those things for which I voted—and I am proud to say that I did vote for the teachers' increases and all of the things for the hospitals,—and now we have to pay for them.

So today I am not going to sand up here and bicker and argue and say why we should not do this. I am asking every Member of this House to forget politics; to remember we are in an inflationary period; to think deeply about these measures and to see if in our own conscience we cannot go along with at least the most of them, because election is just around the corner and if all of these things that I have been saying are true, somebody is going to be in hot water—not myself—and the same applies to the minority side. If all the things they say are true, somebody on this side is going to be in hot water.

But let us forget about politics and let us examine our own hearts, forgetting whether we are Democrat or whether we are Republicans, and vote on each of these bills individually.

As I said, I do not know whether we need all these taxes. I still say, maybe we do not. But I am going to examine these bills as they come up, and right now I have made up my mind to vote for everyone except one and I might even vote for that.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, if you recall yesterday I informed this House that I thought they were making a mistake when they decided that they should pass this tax program this week. That statement, I think, has turned out to be the truth.

We find ourselves today opposing possibly some of the tax program that you have here due to the very fact that you do not give sufficient time that we may in our own minds be satisfied that we are doing is the right thing. I admit today that it is because of the lack of time that I warned you about that possibly many Members of this House are going to vote against your entire tax program.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1693, follows:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 694) entitled "An act imposing a tax on gross receipts as an excise on the use of the public highways by certain owners or operators of motor vehicles transporting passengers and property for hire" by eliminating certain deductions

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section three of the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 694) entitled "An act imposing a tax on gross receipts as an excise on the use of the public highways by certain owners or operators of motor vehicles transporting passengers and property for hire" as last amended by the act approved the fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 451) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 The amount of excise tax annually to be paid by each company specified in section one of this act shall be as follows (1) In case of a company operating routes which are entirely within the limits of this Commonwealth eight (8) mills upon the dollar upon the gross receipts of such company from all operations for the period covered by such report and (2) in case of a company operating over routes when only a part of such routes lies within this Commonwealth eight (8) mills upon the dollar upon such portion of the gross receipts of such company as is represented by the ratio that the number of miles of routes operated in this Commonwealth by such company during the period for which the report is filed bears to the total number of miles of all routes operated by such company during said period. The provisions hereof shall not be construed as exempting any company from complying with the laws relating to fees payable to the Department of Revenue for the registration of motor vehicles [In the event however that an excise tax shall be paid by any company to any city of this Commonwealth for the use of its highways during the period for which the report is filed the amount of such tax so paid may be deducted from the amount of tax payable to the Commonwealth as above computed upon satisfactory proof to the Department of Revenue of such payment and in addition thereto where any such company shall have paid to the Department of Revenue a registration fee or fees as provided for by the laws of this Commonwealth upon any motor vehicle or motor vehicles used in the business of carrying passengers or property for hire over the highways of this Commonwealth it shall receive a credit in each settlement for gross receipts tax made hereunder to the extent of the total amount of the registration fee or fees paid for the calendar year of which the period covered by the settlement was a part]

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that this bill will stand up in the face of various reciprocal agreements of which Pennsylvania is part. In view of that fact and in view of the fact that it is essential that the thinking of the Members be clarified somewhat as to the financial effect of the bill we have just passed, I will move without prejudice to the measure that House Bill 1693 be placed upon the postponed calendar. I ask for a roll call, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion. The gentleman might have questioned the constitutionality of this bill. If he had, I could inform him that it was drafted in the Attorney General's office. I have faith in our Attorney General. I know positively that doubts, if there were doubts, were looked into and cleared before the bill was given to us.

I oppose this motion to put this bill on the postponed calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I am not a motor carrier operator, but I am mindful of the hundreds of small motor vehicle carriers throughout the state of Pennsylvania. Those highway users are the bus companies which are operating on the proverbial shoe string. I wonder if the majority party gave these small operators consideration when they had this bill in mind.

I know in my own district I have at least three operators, operating for a very small amount of revenue. I am told that if this bill is passed by this House they would have to increase their fares. One operator transports children for a mile and a half to school at five cents apiece. I know that he cannot do this if we are going to pass this legislation.

I am not saying that this should not be done to some of the larger concerns but those who have a few buses, I think they should be given some consideration.

I am mindful of the fact also in the City of Pittsburgh we have a number of motor bus carriers in the last two years, or I will say in the last year where there have been three or four raises, and right now the public is at the mercy of the public utilities there.

I ask this House to give this bill consideration and be mindful of the small operators that they may operate in a manner which is befitting to the public in the state of Pennsylvania. I ask you to vote down this measure.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I would like to tell him that we did consider all the carriers. To say that this would put up fare rates, I doubt that. I doubt it very much. It is only an eight mill tax and it certainly cannot go so far as to put in fare raises on any of these utility companies. We considered this bill because again it is an exclusion of certain groups and it does not make a fair tax practice to exclude some and tax others.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, If I were convinced that there were no legal inhibitions as far as this bill is concerned, and if I were not convinced that the majority party having passed House Bill 1692 has all the money it needs—more than it needs twice over—I would support this bill. But being convinced that by means of a bill that was not paraded in its true aspects, that we have already oversubscribed the needs of the Commonwealth by passing House Bill 1692, I must needs oppose this measure.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and neys were taken and were as follows:

Such company association or exchange in reporting for taxation may deduct from the gross premiums premium deposits an dassessments all amounts returned on policies cancelled or not taken and all premiums received for reinsurance and mutual companies associations exchanges may for any reason be required to report under this and stock companies with participating features which act in addition to the aforesaid deductions may deduct that portion of the advanced premiums premium deposits or assessments returned in cash or credited to members or policyholders whether as dividends earnings savings or return deposits upon the expiration or termination of their contracts Provided That hereafter the annual tax upon premiums of insurance companies of ther states or foreign governments shall be at the rate of two per centum upon the gross premiums of every character and description received from business done within this Commonwealth within the entire calendar year preceding the penalties for failure to make report and pay the tax as herein required shall be as provided by law

Section 2 This amendment shall become effective the first day of November one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, for reasons already stated in connections with other measures, I move, without prejudice to the measure, that it be placed upon the postponed calendar.

I am willing to take the previous roll call to postpone if that suits the convenience of the Majority Leader.

Mr. SMITH. That will be perfectly all right with me, Mr. Speaker.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1695, as follows:

An Act to reenact the title and to reenact and amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 345) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing a property tax for a limited period of time on the net income derived from sources within the Commonwealth of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships excluding certain income providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" by further defining net income changing the due date of certain payments requiring additional reports and extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Act No. 345) entitled "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing a property tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes derived from sources within the Commonwealth of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships excluding certain income providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" are hereby reenacted and amended to read as follows

An Act

To provide revenue for State purposes by imposing a property tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes derived from sources within the Commonwealth of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships excluding certain income providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Corporation Income Tax Law"

Section 2 Definitions The following words terms and phrases when used in this act shall have the meaning ascribed to them in this section except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning

"Corporation" A corporation having capital stock joint-stock association or limited partnership either organized under the laws of this Commonwealth the United States or any other state territory or foreign county or dependency and carrying on activities in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation The word "corporation" shall not include non-profit corporations building and loan associations banks bank and trust companies national banks savings institutions trust companies title insurance companies beneficial life and limited life insurance companies mutual fire mutual casualty and mutual life insurance companies foreign stock companies registered in this Commonwealth and therein engaged in doing business as life fire and casualty insurance companies and foreign surety companies

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Net Income" 1 Net income for the calendar year or fiscal year as returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government or in the case of a corporation participating in the filing of consolidated returns to the Federal Government the net income which would have been returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government the net income which would have been returned to and ascertained by the Federal Government if separate returns had been made to the Federal Government for the current and prior taxable years subject however to any correction thereof for fraud evasion or error as finally ascertained by the Federal Government Providing That additional deductions shall be allowed from net income on account of any dividends received from any other corporation subject to the tax imposed by the act And providing further That no deduction shall be allowed for any Federal income or excess profits taxes whatsoever except the declared value excess profit tax and provided further That no deduction shall be allowed for net operating losses sustained by the corporation during any other fiscal or calendar year And provided further That in the case of stock life fire casualty and indemnity insurance companies operating on the mutual or participating plan the term "net income" shall not include the dividends paid to policyholders out of net income

2 In the case of corporations owning property or carrying on activities within and without this Commonwealth other than corporations carrying on activities as insurance or surety companies the net income of such corporation derived from sources within this Commonwealth for the fiscal or calendar year shall be determined by allocations and apportionments of net income as defined in clause one hereof made as follows

(a) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated in the Commonwealth shall be allocated to this Commonwealth

(b) Gains realized and losses sustained from the sale or exchange of capital assets if such assets consist of real estate or tangible personal property situated outside of the Commonwealth shall not be allocated in any part to this Commonwealth

(c) The resultant net income if any after allocations shall be divided into three equal parts

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employees and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employees

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its property and activities

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules. If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from property and activities carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule.

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees to the extent of services rendered or work performed in the Commonwealth and similar expenditures to employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth.

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year from services rendered work and contracts performed and sales made in the Commonwealth and all other gross receipts except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth and except rentals and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth. If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from property and activities assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state. In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year. In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the State but performed in the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the State under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year.

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth.

3 In the case of corporations carrying on activities as insurance or surety companies within and without this Commonwealth the net income of such corporations derived from sources within this Commonwealth for the fiscal or calendar year shall be determined by multiplying net income as defined in clause one hereof by a fraction of which the numerator is the gross premiums received from activities carried on within the Commonwealth as hereinafter defined and of which the denominator is the amount of the gross premiums received from all its activities everywhere.

"Gross Premiums" shall mean the amount of dues fees and premiums stated in the policy contracts and shall include gross premiums of every character and description received during the taxable year from all underwriting activities whether said premiums were received in money or in the form of notes credits or any other substitute for money less the following deductions:

(a) All premiums returned on policies cancelled or not taken.

(b) In the case of stock companies with participating features an additional deduction for that portion of the premiums returned to the policyholders.

(c) In the case of life insurance companies an additional deduction for dividends declared and actually used by policyholders in payment of renewal premiums.

"Gross premiums received from activities carried on in the Commonwealth" shall mean gross premiums received from policies and annuities written on property or risks located or resident in this Commonwealth whether such premiums were collected in this Commonwealth or elsewhere "sources within this Commonwealth" includes tangible or intangible property located or having a situs in this Commonwealth and any activities carried on in this Commonwealth regardless of whether carried on in intrastate or foreign commerce.

"Carrying on activities" shall include every act power or privilege exercised or enjoyed in this Commonwealth as an incident to or by virtue of the powers and privileges acquired by the nature of the corporate organization.

"Person" Every natural person association or corporation Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof.

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter.

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation carrying on activities in this Commonwealth or owning property in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership joint-stock association or corporation shall be subject to and shall pay a State property tax on net income derived from sources within this Commonwealth at the rate of five per centum per annum upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of five per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon each dollar of such net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three and ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred and fifty-four. Provided however That such net income shall not include income for any period for which the corporation is subject to taxation under the Corporate Net Income Tax Act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) as reenacted and amended according to or measured by net income.

Except as otherwise provided in this section the tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws.

Section 4 [Report] Reports and Payment of Tax (a) For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department [a] an annual report under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act Such report shall set forth

[(a)] (1) A true copy of its return to the Federal Government of the annual net income arising or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portion of said return as the department may designate

[(b)] (2) If no return was filed with the Federal Government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and

[(c)] (3) Such other information as the department may require

[The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

Every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of an yreport granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable The amount of all taxes imposed under the provision of this]

(b) For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act for the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the thirtieth day of April one thousand nine hundred fifty-three to transmit in like form and manner an additional tentative report Such report shall set forth

(1) The annual net income received or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding and reported to the department under the provisions of this act or

(2) The net income received or accruing in the first three months of the current calendar or fiscal year together with such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been required or made

(3) Such other information as the department may require

(c) The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

(d) For the taxable years up to and including the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-two every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable For the taxable year one thousand nine hundred fifty-three every corporation upon the date its tentative report is required herein to be made shall pay on account of the tax due for the current year at its election (1) not less than two and one-half per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation last reported as received or accrued during an entire preceding year or of such multiple of the net income last reported for a portion of such year as the entire year bears to the portion of the year for which the net income had been reported or (2) not less than ten per centum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received or accrued during the first three months of the current calendar or fiscal year whichever is applicable The remaining portion of the tax due shall be paid upon the date the corporation's annual report is required herein to be made

(e) The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the time as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until paid except that if the taxable income has been or is increased by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States interest shall be computed on the additional tax due from thirty days after the corporation receives notice of the change of income until paid Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

(f) If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

(g) If any corporation closes its fiscal year not upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and reports to the Federal Government as of such other date or would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government such corporation shall certify such fact to the Department of Revenue and shall make the annual report herein required within thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all respects to the provisions of this act The tentative report required of such corporation shall be due not later than four months after the end of the next preceding fiscal year

(h) If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department shall not permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly any of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any annual report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed and in case the Federal income tax authorities at any time grant a longer extension of time for filing such reports with the Federal Government the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the annual report under this act of not more than thirty (30) days after the termination of the Federal extension but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to resettle such taxes. Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made. The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements.

(c) Where a report of change correction or redetermination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original annual report upon petition of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceeding as though it had been filed with [the] such original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary.

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made.

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation. The tax imposed by this act shall be settled, resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of resettlement, review, appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations.

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession.

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made.

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements.

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes, penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement.

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe, adopt, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter of thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes, penalties and interest imposed by this act. The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted, printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request.

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books, papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act. Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means, facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized. Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns, investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except of official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court.

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county.

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law.

Section 10 Retention of Records by Corporations Penalty. Each corporation shall maintain and keep for a period of three (3) years after any report is filed under this act such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth for the period covered by such report and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court.

Section 11 Penalties (a) Any person who shall wilfully make a false and fraudulent return of net income made taxable by this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law. Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act.

(b) Any person who wilfully fails, neglects or refuses to make a report or to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books, papers and records of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court. Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act.

Section 12 Constitutional Construction The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein.

Section 13 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes on net income of corporations derived from sources within the Commonwealth for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred fifty-three or for the fiscal years ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-two [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-four

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section I, page 5, line 6, by striking out the words "subject to the tax imposed by this Act."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we will accept the same roll call that was had on the amendments to House Bill 1692, if that is agreeable to the Majority Leader.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is agreeable to us.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Readinger and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1696, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 828) entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations co-partnership associations and joint-stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties" by further regulating the imposition of the tax

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 828) entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in domestic and foreign corporations co-partnership associations and joint-stock associations providing the manner of collecting such tax and prescribing penalties" as amended by the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1377) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That a State tax of two cents on each one hundred dollars of the face [market] value or fraction thereof [not exceeding however two cents on each one hundred dollars of the face value or fraction thereof or in the case of shares or certificates of stock without designated monetary value not exceeding two cents per share] is hereby imposed on all sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock and upon any and all deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock in any domestic or foreign corporation or co-partnership association or joint-stock company made on or after the date when this act takes effect whether made upon or shown by the books of the corporation co-partnership association or joint-stock company or by any assignment in blank or by any delivery or by any paper or agreement or memorandum or other evidence of sale or transfer whether intermediate or final and whether investing the holder with the beneficial interest in or legal title to said stock merely with the possession or use thereof for any purpose or to secure the future payment of money or the future transfer of any stock

In cases where the shares or certificates of stock are issued without designated monetary value the tax hereby imposed shall be at the rate of two cents for each and every share of such stock instead of being based upon the face value thereof as hereinbefore provided

Every person or persons making or effectuating any such sale or transfer shall procure affix and cancel the stamps and pay the tax provided by this act Provided That stock of building and loan associations sales or agreements to sell or memoranda of sales of stock of said associations and all deliveries or transfers of shares or certificates of stock thereof shall be exempt from the provisions of this act

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this bill deserves more than passing attention. Were I convinced that the Commonwealth needed more many than was in sight and it were necessary to consider an inheritance tax, I would give much consideration to the question of whether it would be more prudent to make a slight increase in the direct inheritance tax or a drastic increase in the collateral tax.

My own view is that it would be more prudent to make a slight increase—say one percent—in the direct inheritance tax rather than double in drastic fashion the tax on collateral inheritances. I think that the majority section of this House should give consideration to that point of view.

Therefore, without prejudice to the measure, I move that House Bill 1697 be placed on the postponed calendar for serious consideration as to whether, if it is to be forced to passage, the form of it should or should not be changed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire a roll call?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire a roll call and I would inquire as to whether the Majority Leader is adamant in his position that this proposed increase in collateral inheritance taxes is to be preferred to a smaller increase in direct inheritance taxes?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, yes, I must say that I would prefer, and I am sure that the House would prefer to tax collateral inheritance rather than tax widows, children and blood lineage.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that I think is a destructive policy as far as the majority is concerned, and therefore we will accept any one of the previous roll calls as to postponing. The more of them who vote against postponing the better, from a political point of view.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Readinger and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman been able to procure from the Pennsylvania Department of Revenue any information concerning the total amount of charitable gifts made by decedents in the last several years?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I checked with the Department and they told me that that information was not available anywhere that they knew of in the state.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know whether anyone on the Majority side has any credible information on this subject?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not know and cannot answer that question, but I would assume inasmuch as the Department of Revenue said it was not available at any place, I do not believe anyone on the majority side would know. If anyone does, I would be very glad to yield to him.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman not think that we are acting very hastily on this bill, which was introduced for the first time on Monday and is on final passage today, in view of the fact that we do not have available to us at the present time the information which was requested?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the idea of this bill was known to everyone almost two weeks ago. I do not think we are acting in haste. We know whom we are taxing. Again, we cannot say exactly what it is going to bring in because we do not know who is going to die. So whether we wait two weeks, three weeks, two months—we still do not know who is going to die. We do not know whether any individuals who have a lot of money are going to will anything to charity. The Revenue Department would not be able to find that out prior to their death.

I cannot say what has been done in the past. The Revenue Department said they did not know what has happened in the past, and I am sure we do not know what is going to happen in the future so far as death or so far as bequeathing money to charity or any other collateral individual is concerned.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Whether one believes that the Commonwealth needs additional tax money or not, in my opinion this is a highly unwise bill to pass.

I have not the slightest idea how much money is left by will to various charitable institutions in Pennsylvania each year by people who die. Those amounts must necessarily vary because the number of people dying varies and the amounts they leave to charity change from year to year. But I did figure it would be very helpful if we were given an opportunity to get together the information indicating the amount of charitable gifts made in Pennsylvania which will be taxed by this bill.

To double the tax as this bill does on charitable gifts may and will, in my opinion, have a very serious effect on the willingness of testators to leave any sizable amounts to charitable institutions. If a person has no close relatives to whom he desires to leave his money, he usually does leave it to some charity or other; but if he knows that only eighty cents out of each dollar he leaves to that charity is going to go to that charity it may very likely have the effect of causing a lot of wealthy people in their late years to move out of the state of Pennsylvania and establish a domicile or a home in another state.

I do not know what the rate is in New Jersey or the rate in the surrounding States, but I dare say it is a great deal lower than 20 percent. If those people do move out of the state of Pennsylvania, there is a great likelihood that they might find new charities in the new state into which they move and might leave their money to those charities.

Of course, you want revenue, but is there any sense in obtaining 8, 10 or $12, millions in revenue and losing many, many more millions in charitable gifts? When these charities do not receive funds or funds to the extent they have received, the money usually comes from only one other source, and that is the taxpayers. If the charities are going to function the way they have in the past they cannot get that money any other place. I know that you are familiar with the operation of hospitals—they are state-aided in Pennsylvania, and many other charitable institutions receive state aid, they receive local aid—all of which come from the taxpayers money.

I do not know why there is so much haste in passing this particular tax bill. Another ten days or two weeks would not make much difference so far as we are concerned, but it might make a tremendous difference to the charities of Pennsylvania.

I am going to oppose this bill for the reason that I believe the adverse effect on charitable gifts certainly is much greater than the benefits to be derived from taxes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the colloquy between the gentleman from Berks and the Majority Leader illustrates one of the fundamental defects of this program.

What will it raise? That is the question.

$20 million.

Well how do you know?

Well, we do not know; there are no facts; there are no figures.

How many people are classed on the average of dying and leaving charitable bequests?

We do not have any figures.

Who has any figures?

Nobody has any figures; cannot tell you anything about it.

How much is the bill going to raise?

$20 million.

Now I say that is one hell of a way to make a tax program.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I did not say that I did not know how much the bill would raise. But I did say I did not know how much money was going to charities. And I repeat that.

I can give the gentleman figures of what the present collateral tax brought in for the last few years. I cannot give him exact figures; they will vary two million, three million, four million, as I say, we do not know who is going to die. Maybe Mr. Greenwood in the House here has a better idea.

1943 to 1945 under the present ten percent it raised $24 million.

1945 to 1947 it raised $22 million.

1947 to 1949 we hit the jackpot. I do not know who died, but it raised $28 million.

1949 to 1951 it raised another $28 million.

Either richer men are dying or they are making more money. I do not know. We are estimating $20 million. It could bring in another $2 million; another $4 million.

I would like to answer Mr. Readinger's question as to people moving out of our state. Some of these figures I will admit are in states where they have a graduated inheritance tax on the collateral.

In Montana they go as high as thirty-two percent.

In New York they go to twenty percent.

In North Carolina they have seventeen percent.

In North Dakota they have twenty-three percent.

In Arizona they have twenty-five percent. That is a healthy state, they tell me.

South Dakota is twenty percent.

Texas is twenty percent.

Washington is twenty-five percent.

West Virginia is thirty percent.

Wisconsin is forty percent.

And in Minnesota it goes as high as sixty percent. I do not know where these fellows are going to move, Mr. Readinger, but they do not have too much to pick from.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to ask the gentleman whether he is talking about an inheritance tax on collateral relatives or charities? In Pennsylvania we have not had the same rate proposed here, but what about the other states?

Mr. SMITH. I am not saying it is on the collateral. I cannot say whether it has been broken down in these states, Mr. Speaker, as to charities or inheritance by individuals, but I do know that is the percentage.

Mr. READINGER. Then as far as you know, Mr. Smith in all of the states the rate on charities might be as low as one-half of one percent, might it not?

Mr. SMITH. It could be, but I doubt that very much because they run anywhere from ten per cent up, they are fairly high. I would say that it would not be one a half percent to charity.

Mr. READINGER. The gentleman does admit, though, that he does not know what he is talking about on this particular subject at the moment.

Mr. SMITH. I have answered that I know so much that I would not move out of Pennsylvania for twenty percent.

Mr. READINGER. I thank the gentleman for his stability.

On the question,

SOHMER—November 30th

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, for reasons stated in connection with other measures, and without prejudice to the measure, we move that House Bill 1698 be placed upon the postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we reiterate for purposes of the record our opinion that under House Bill 1692 in the form passed by the House they have more money than anybody ever dreamed this Legislature would give a Governor.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in connection with this motion to postpone I want to point out that there are several things in the bill, at least one very important thing, that should be considered and straightened out by a possible amendment.

I believe the bill contains a provision that leases with an option to purchase shall bear a documentary tax. I do not know on what basis the tax can be collected where the option to purchase is for an indefinite sum, a sum to be determined some time in the future. And in a great many leases that is the case, leases made to the individual with an option to buy in the event the owner desires to sell at some future date.

In many instances the provision goes further and says that the option is to accept any figure which the seller can get from some other buyer. It is rather an indefinite option, and in a great many instances I do not know on what basis you can determine the tax where you have such an option.

In addition to that it is not clear in my mind whether under this bill you tax the lease which contains the option and then when the option is exercised and the deed delivered you once again tax the individual on the deal. That is one of the things that should be studied. I am quite certain this bill is not clear.

Then, of course, you have the case of judicial sales. This act does not exempt judicial sales where there is a case of distress. What is the sheriff going to do in those particular cases? You cannot compel the former owner to pay the tax. He is in distress. He has not paid his loan payments; he is not going to pay the tax. Are we going to look to the institution who is buying it in on a distress sale to pay the tax when they get it, and then later on pay the tax again when they sell it? This bill is not clear on that score.

I submit to you, members of the House, this bill needs plenty of further consideration, or we are going to be in a lot of messes before the thing is over.

For that reason I believe this motion should be agreed to. We should give it consideration. Correct it and then pass it in some form that we can administer it properly.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Readinger and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in the many times and many sessions that I have been in this House I have heard a lot of resolutions being offered; condolence, birthday, congratulatory, and I have often watched some of the Members particularly when it came to birthdays.

I have often wondered why they had such a sad look on their face. I thought maybe it was because they were getting older. But then I found that some of our Members have birthdays when we are not in session. Come June we would be out of session and, By Gosh! we would miss that fellow's birthday because we were not in session.

Well, here we are this year in just about one of the longest sessions we have ever had. Sometimes I see hope in some individual's face because he thinks, well, if we made this session just a little bit longer possibly somebody will say "happy birthday" to me or they might sing "Happy Birthday."

Then what do we do? We take a recess. It was not a Republican trick, I can assure you. All I can say is that fate stepped in. One of the very prominent men in this House had a birthday and I know in his heart he has been hoping and hoping that some day somebody would be here to offer a resolution or that we would all be here. Doggone it! we take a recess and the fellow loses his birthday again.

Now, I did want to do this before the tax program was adopted, because I did not want to be accused of influencing him, but I have gone to a lot of bother to get a very nice present for the Minority Leader of the House, and I would like to give him this present from the Tax Committee that formulated one of the best tax programs we ever passed.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the beauty of the package is only excelled by the sentiment which inspired the gift. Now, after you have waited 177 years for a Pennsylvania Legislature to be in session on your birthday, and then have the Majority Leadership declare a recess, dark thoughts can be pardoned.

I am very, very glad that the Majority Leader called attention to this situation, because I was upon the point of rising to a question of personal privilege as to whether this recess was really dedicated to the formulation of a tax program or was simply inspired by sheer malice to make certain that the occasion would never arise until I had lived 177 years more to have my birthday made a matter of note.

I would like to open the package, but the knot with which it is tied is so beautiful, and the flower is so beautiful—it is a perfectly lovely thing. I do not want to destroy it, but I wish the Majority Leader would tell me what is in it. I want to show this package to Mrs. Andrews, and I want her to see how pretty it is.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we had to dress it up nice because it is fifteen packs of Prince Albert tobacco.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, just this week at the caucus I was the recipient of a gift, a pipe that would have contained two packages of Prince Albert tobacco.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STEVENSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 853, entitled

An Act to amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 991), entitled "An act to promote elimination of blighted areas and supply sanitary housing in areas through the Commonwealth; by declaring acquisition, sound replanning and redevelopment of such areas to be for the promotion of health, safety, convenience and welfare; creating public bodies corporate and politic to be known as Redevelopment Authorities; authorizing them to engage in the elimination of blighted areas and to plan and contract with private, corporate or governmental redevelopers for their redevelopment; providing for the organization of such authorities; defining and providing for the exercise of their powers and duties, including the acquisition of property by purchase, gift or eminent domain; the leasing and selling of property, including borrowing money, issuing bonds and other obligations, and giving security therefor; restricting the interest of members and employees of authorities; providing for notice and hearing; supply certain mandory provisions to be inserted in contracts with redevelopers; prescribing the remedies of obligees of redevelopment authorities; conferring certain duties upon local planning commissions, the governing bodies of cities and counties, and on certain State officers, boards and departments," by providing for plans for partial development of a redevelopment area, and changing the procedure for the preparation and adoption of redevelopment proposals.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, we are now in the ninth or tenth month of this Session. We are all wondering as to the ultimate outcome, and when we are to adjourn sine die.

Mr. President, yesterday the House passed an alternative tax program that will come to the Senate sometime this morning, which may be the answer to our problem, but I rise in place to more or less dispel the thought that a number of my colleagues have and who are laboring under a misapprehension, and I think it is only fair on my part to give them the information that I have which may help to expedite the work of this Session.

Now, Mr. President, there are some of my colleagues on the right side of the house who definitely feel that Members from this side in sufficient number will come to their rescue to pass the wage tax. They call it an income tax, but I call it a wage tax in Pennsylvania. Mr. President, the Democratic Caucus has gone on record, twenty men have vowed that they will stand together and oppose the income tax to a man. Up to the present time not one of those twenty men has asked to be relieved from that pledge, and despite the many many rumors, I have a right to believe that the entire twenty Democratic Senators are standing pat in full opposition to the wage tax in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, a number of my good friends from the Republican side have come to me in confidence. They have wanted to know what we are going to do, and that is why I want to give a statement publicly. You have a program that has passed the House, both the wage tax and the new package, and a great many of us on this side stand ready to help to pass a portion of the new package. Some of our Members may vote for all of it. We have not caucused on it, we have not seen the package, but, speaking off the record, we find we are willing to assist, because we are very much interested in one phase of this program, and that is to help the schoolteachers. House Bill No. 333 and House Bill No. 334, came out on the floor for debate; there is no reason for it, we are not ready for it, but with the hope in mind that probably the schoolteachers would come down here in droves and put the pressure upon us to vote for the wage tax.

Now, Mr. President, we are for the schoolteachers, we will vote for taxes to help the schoolteachers, but let it be known once and for all that it will not be a wage tax.

SENIOR CLASS OF MYERSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL
PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, on behalf of my colleague, Senator Diehm, I would like to present to the Senate seventy-five Seniors of the Myerstown High School, Myerstown, Pennsylvania, who are here chaperoned by Mr. Frederick W. Lantz, Miss Mabel C. Immel and Mr. Harvey L. Nitrauer, Supervising Principal.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to welcome the class which appears under the sponsorship of Senator Diehm today, and we would ask the class to please stand in place and take a bow.

HOUSE MESSAGES

AMENDMENT TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1348 RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence, House Bill No. 1348, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 1 of the act, approved the eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 150) entitled "An act providing for the raising of revenue for State purposes, by imposing upon certain foreign corporations, limited partnership and joint stock associations a bonus of one-third of one per centum upon the capital actually employed in Pennsylvania, and requiring the filing of certain reports in the office of the Auditor General," by exempting from the provisions thereof foreign nonprofit corporations.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment, the votes had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill as amended, will appear on the Calendar.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1370 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

He also informed the Senate that the House insists on its non-concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill No. 1370, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 2004 of the act, approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "Third Class City Law," by limiting to forty hours the work week of police officers in certain cases.

and has appointed Messrs. DARLYMPLE, DOWLING and POLASKI as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to said bill.

SENATE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY THE HOUSE TO HOUSE BILL NO. 1370 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do insist upon its amendments to House Bill No. 1370, and that a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair announces on behalf of the President pro tempore the appointment of Messrs. STEVENSON, FREED and RUTH as a Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 1370.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Stevenson and myself, I am introducing at this time a series of bills designed to secure the privileges of pensions built up by employees of municipalities, county and state governments. When an individual transfers now from one or the other, his pension, or rather his retirement benefits, are lost to him. We feel that unless legislation of this type, is passed, then the only fair thing to do would be to pass all-over coverage legislation, dovetailed into the Federal Security Act, but we think we can get by with this kind of legislation rather than having a dual retirement system.

Mr. President, I know that it is late in the day and the Session ought to be about over, and there is not too much time for study, but if we can get the bills printed, various Members can take them home with them, and those that do come back at the next Session of the Legislature may be in a position to correct a condition that may give us trouble later. I present all of these bills at this time.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce bills at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. DENT and STEVENSON read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 854, entitled:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. VARNER. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 80.

In the House of Representatives, September 19, 1951.

Whereas, The Sanitary Water Board in the Department of Health is charged with the duty of protecting and maintaining the purity and cleanliness of the streams and rivers of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Sizeable sums of money have been granted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the use of the Sanitary Water Board in order to enable it to perform its assigned tasks; and

Whereas, It is of utmost importance to the residents of this Commonwealth that they be kept informed as to whether or not the Sanitary Water Board is carrying out and successfully performing its lawful functions which are vital to the health and welfare of the entire population of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, It has become necessary to investigate frequently repeated statements that many rivers and streams of this Commonwealth are polluted with sewage from various sources, contrary to the best interests of this Commonwealth and its citizenry; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to investigate and study the activities of the Sanitary Water Board and its handling of the problem of pollution and the pollution abatement program with particular emphasis on its handling of such problems in the Clarion River watershed area and its effect upon Cook Forest which is of great importance in so far as it contains the last great stand of virgin timber in Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall have the power to meet and hold public hearings throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, at such times and places as it deems advisable, and shall hold at least one such meeting in Clarion County in the vicinity of Cook Forest, and to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman commanding any proper person to appear before it and to answer questions touching on matters with respect to such investigation, for and on behalf of the General Assembly, and to procure such books, papers, records and documents as the commission may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any proper person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall report to the next regular session of the General Assembly with the results of its findings and recommendations and necessary legislation embodying the same, if it deems necessary.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. MUNLEY                      RESOLUTION No. 31.

In the House of Representatives, September 19, 1951.

Whereas, The City of Carbondale, Lackawanna County, Pennsylvania, is holding its centennial observance during the week of September 16th to 22nd. The said observance began on Sunday afternoon with the holding of religious services for all faiths at Russell Park and will end with a mammoth parade on Saturday afternoon; and

Whereas, The marking of one hundred years in the history of the City of Carbondale is a joyous occasion and the local historians have called forth many happy recollections and many occurrences which have given the citizens of Carbondale a strong sense of satisfaction and pride—a feeling which they wish to share with the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives are happy to share the said satisfaction and pride of the citizens of the City of Carbondale in the history of their fair city and extends to the people of Carbondale its congratulations upon the successful celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the incorporation of their city. It congratulates also those who planned and carried out the celebration and those who took part in it; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to William L. Monahan, the Mayor of the City of Carbondale.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 829.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, August 24, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 829, Printer's No. 316, entitled "An Act to amend clause (b) of Section 1 of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1183) entitled 'An act relating to strikes by public employes prohibiting such strikes providing that such employes by striking terminate their employment providing for reinstatement under certain conditions providing for a grievance procedure and providing for rehearings before civil service and tenure authorities and in certain cases before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board' by requiring panel to be set up within five days after the receipt of a request therefor."

The act which this bill proposes to amend provides that the panel for adjustment of grievances should consist of three members; one to be selected by the employes, one by the governmental agency and the third by the other two.

This bill would limit the time for setting up such a panel to five days after receipt of the request. I am informed that it is frequently difficult to obtain a third member of the panel who will be agreeable to the other two and be willing to act, and that in many instances this would make it impossible to set up a panel within the five day limitation provided for in this bill. There are also times when the governmental agency involved may be a Board or Commission which could not be assembled within the five days limitation.

Although it is important that there be no undue delay in the appointment of members of the panel, actual experience has demonstrated that a five day limitation is impractical and unreasonable.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. GOVERNOR.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

PUPILS OF MYERSTOWN HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair takes pleasure in welcoming to the House seventy-five Seniors of the Myerstown High School under the supervision of Frederick W. Lantz, teacher of Social Studies, and Miss Mabel C. Immel, teacher of Social Studies and Mr. Harvey L. Nitrauer, Supervising Principal. They are here as the guests of the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Light.

(d) A license shall not be granted and issued until the person applying therefor has filed with the department a surety and payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in such amount as shall be fixed by the department except that the amount shall never be less than five hundred dollars ($500). Every such bond shall have as surety a duly authorized surety company approved by the Insurance Department of this Commonwealth and signed by a resident Pennsylvania agent of the surety conditioned that the dealer-user shall faithfully comply with the provisions of this act during the effective period of his license. The department may require any dealer-user to furnish such additional surety bond as shall be necessary to secure at all times the payment by him to the Commonwealth of all fuel taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees due by him.

For the purpose of determining whether an existing bond or bonds are sufficient the department may at any time by a written notice require any dealer-user to furnish a financial statement in such form as it may prescribe. Upon failure of any dealer-user to furnish a financial statement within thirty (30) days of such written notice the department may forthwith suspend or revoke the license or licenses issued to him and shall collect all fuel taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees due by him.

And surety on a bond furnished by a dealer-user as provided herein shall be released and discharged from any and all liability to the Commonwealth accruing on such bond after the expiration of sixty (60) days from date upon which the surety shall have lodged with the department a written request to be released and discharged but this provision shall not operate to relieve release or discharge the surety from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue before the expiration of the sixty (60) day period. The department shall promptly after receiving such request notify the dealer-user who furnished the bond and unless the dealer-user shall on or before the expiration of the sixty (60) day period file with the department a new bond with corporate surety approved by the Insurance Department of this Commonwealth the department shall forthwith cancel the dealer-user's license or licenses. Whenever a new bond shall be furnished by the dealer-user as aforesaid the department shall cancel and surrender the original bond of the dealer-user as soon as it shall be satisfied that all liability under the original bond has been fully discharged.

(e) Any person required by the provisions of this section to file a surety bond may in lieu thereof deposit with the State Treasurer negotiable or assigned bonds which are direct obligations of the United States Government or of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the par value thereof to be of the amount of the surety bond required of such person as collateral guarantee of payment of all liabilities accruing under the provisions of this act. The State Treasurer shall issue to such person and to the Department of Revenue a certificate of such deposit. The said securities shall be retained by the State Treasurer after the termination of the license of such person whether by his own act or the action of the department and such securities shall not be released from any liability to the Commonwealth already accrued or which shall accrue prior to the issuance of certification by the department that all fuel taxes penalties interest fees fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fee have been paid. The department shall furnish the State Treasurer with a copy of such certification and authorize the return of said securities by the State Treasurer to the owner.

(f) Upon the surrender or revocation for cause of the license of any dealer-user the department shall return surety bonds for cancellation or deposits made in accordance with the provisions of this section only after it is satisfied that all fuel taxes penalties interest fees and fines due the Commonwealth under the terms of the bond and the provisions of this act have been paid.

Section 4 Imposition of Tax Exemptions. A permanent excise tax at the rate of three cents (3c) a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed on all dealer-users upon the use as herein defined of fuel within this Commonwealth to be computed in the manner hereinafter set forth. The tax herein imposed shall not apply on fuels not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States. Provided That the tax herein imposed and assessed shall be paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any fuels used within the Commonwealth and Provided further That no tax is hereby imposed upon (1) any fuel that is used by or sold and delivered to the United States government when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the department or (2) upon any fuel not in excess of fifty (50) gallons brought into this Commonwealth in the fuel supply tanks or other fueling receptacles or devices of a motor vehicle or (3) upon any fuel used by or sold or delivered for use in farm machinery or equipment engaged in the production or harvesting of farm or agricultural products involving the use of the public highways within a ten (10) mile radius of the domicile of the owner of the machinery or equipment when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the Department or (4) upon any fuel used by or sold or delivered to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and its political subdivisions when such sales and deliveries are supported by documentary evidence satisfactory to the department.

In addition to such tax an additional state excise tax of two cents (2c) a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed on all dealer-users upon the use as herein defined of fuel within this Commonwealth within the limitations of the provisions of this section for the period beginning December first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-three.

Section 5 By Whom Tax is Payable. Every dealer-user upon whom a tax is imposed by this act shall pay the tax into the State Treasury through the department in the manner and within the time specified in this act It shall be the duty of each dealer-user to furnish to the department such information concerning such use as the department may require

Section 6 Dealer-Users' Reports and Payments of Tax Discount Allowed Interest and Penalties for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every dealer-user on or before the last day of each month to file with the department upon forms prescribed prepared and furnished by the department a report under oath or affirmation of the fuels used by him within this Commonwealth during the preceding month This report shall include all such information as the department may require and prescribe dealer-users having more than one place of business within this Commonwealth shall combine in each report the use of fuels at all such separate place of business

Dealer-users at the time of making every report required by this section shall compute and pay to the department the tax due to the Commonwealth on fuels used by him during the preceding month Fuels not accounted for to the satisfaction of the department shall be deemed to have been used for taxable purposes and taxes imposed thereon and collected by the department

If the report required herein is filed and tax paid on time a discount of two per centum (2%) of the gross amount of tax shall be allowed the dealer-user

The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act for each month shall be due and payable on the last day of the next succeeding month and shall bear interest at the rate of one per centum (1%) per month or fractional part of a month from the date they are due and payable until paid

If any dealer-user shall fail neglect or refuse to make any report or payment as herein required an additional ten per centum (10%) of the gross amount of tax shall be added by the department and collected as hereinafter provided and in addition thereto the license of a dealer-user may forthwith be suspended or revoked by the department and required to be surrendered to the department

Section 7 Determination and Redetermination of Tax Penalties and Interest Due (a) If any dealer-user shall fail neglect or refuse to secure a license as provided in this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such dealer-user and determine the amount due by him for taxes penalties and interest as prescribed herein from which determination there shall be no right of review or appeal

(b) In the event a dealer-user shall fail neglect or refuse to file a report and pay the tax imposed by this act or if the department is not satisfied with the report and payment of tax made by any dealer-user under the provisions of this act it is hereby authorized and empowered to make a determination of the tax due by such dealer-user based upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

(c) Promptly after the date of any such determination the department shall send by registered mail a copy thereof to such dealer-user Within thirty (30) days after the date of any such determination such dealer-user may file with the department a petition for redetermination of such tax Every petition for redetermination shall state specifically the reasons which the petitioner believes entitle him to such redetermination and shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true It shall be the duty of the department within six (6) months after the date of any petition to dispose of any petition for redetermination Notice of the action taken upon any petition for redetermination shall be given to the petitioner promptly after the date of action on petition by the department

(d) Within sixty (60) days after notice by the department of the action taken on any petition for redetermination filed with it the dealer-user against whom such determination was made may by petition request the Board of Finance and Revenue to review such action Every petition for review filed hereunder shall state specifically the reasons upon which the petitioner relies and shall in such form as the board of Finance and Revenue may prescribe The petition shall be supported by affidavit that it is not made for the purpose of delay and that the facts therein set forth are true The Board of Finance and Revenue shall dispose of such petitions filed with it within six (6) months after they have been received and in the event of the failure of said board to dispose of any such petition within six (6) months the action taken by the department upon the petition for redetermination shall be deemed sustained The Board of Finance and Revenue may sustain the action taken on the petition for redetermination or it may redetermine the tax due upon such basis as it shall deem according to law and equity Notice of the action of the Board of Finance and Revenue shall be given by mail or otherwise to the department and to the petitioner

Lafore, Miller, J. C., Reidenbach.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1625, as follows:

An Act to add sections 14.1 and 14.2 to the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" by changing the provision thereof as to contributors who are qualified for retirement but who die before retirement and making such changes retroactive in certain cases

Section 1 The act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employees' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employees defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employees serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" is hereby amended by adding thereto after section 14 two new sections to read as follows

Retirement as of Time of Death

Section 14.1 Any contributor who is entitled to retire under the provisions of this act by reason of having completed twenty-five (25) years of total service or by reason of having reached superannuation retirement age may file with the retirement board a written application for retirement in the form required for such application but requesting that such retirement shall become effective as of the time of his death electing one of the options provided in section fourteen and nominating a beneficiary under said option as required in said section

In all such cases the applications shall be held by the retirement board until the contributor shall file a later application in the usual manner for retirement or until the death of the contributor occurring while in State service at which time his retirement shall become effective with the same benefits to the designated beneficiary as if the contribution had retired on the day immediately preceding his death

RESOLUTION CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. PITZER, DUBOIS, DAVIS and STONER offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 20, 1951.

Whereas, The Honorable August Metz, Jr., representative of Pike County in this august body, today celebrates the forty-ninth anniversary of his birth; and

Whereas, Mr. Metz will undoubtedly entertain his colleagues and many friends with interesting stories in celebration of this important anniversary; and

Whereas, The Lions and Wilderness Clubs, which occupy much of Mr. Metz's interest and attention, will undoubtedly celebrate this occasion with proper and fitting ceremonies to honor Mr. Metz, who has distinguished himself as a loyal and stalwart member of both organizations and

Whereas, The game animals residing in the fields and forests of this Commonwealth know that Mr. Metz will stalk them as prey with undimmed and unspent vigor and vitality for many years to come; and

Whereas, Mr. Metz has won the respect and acclaim of his fellow residents of Pike County and other parts of Pennsylvania because of his interest and activity in the field of politics, which he has always considered as affording an opportunity to serve the community and to further the science and art of government; therefore be it Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its greetings and felicitations to Mr. Metz on this anniversary of his birth, and wishes him many more happy anniversaries of this occasion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Pike, Mr. Metz.

Mr. METZ. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the Members of the House for their kind remembrance of my birthday. There is only one thing I would like to correct and that is Jack Benny and I have an agreement on that age, it is 39 years.

SENATE MESSAGES

AMENDED SENATE BILLS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

SENATE BILL No. 407.

An Act to further amend the title and section one of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine (P. L. 424) entitled as amended "An act providing that in all counties of the first second third fourth fifth and sixth class advertisements and notices required by law or rules of court to be published in newspapers of general circulation unless dispensed with by special order of court shall be published in the legal newspaper issued at least weekly of the proper county designated by rules of court for the publication of court or other legal notices" by extending the provisions of the said act to all counties and further defining publications excepted from its operation

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment. The vote had on final passage and third reading on said bill was reconsidered in the Senate and the bill amended, in which amendments the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

SENATE

MONDAY, September 24, 1951.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. WILLIAM D. McLEAN, Pastor of St. Peters Episcopal Church, Butler, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we humbly beseech Thee as for the people of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so specially for their Senate now assembled, that Thou would'st be pleased to direct and prosper all their consultations to the advancement of Thy glory, the safety, honor and welfare of Thy people; that all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors upon the best and surest foundations, that truth and justice may be established among us.

Graciously harken to us who call upon Thee, and grant us Thy help and guidance at this time, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. HARE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, from the Committee on Executive Nominations, I desire to report the following nomination made by His Excellency, the Governor:

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, SEWICKLEY BOROUGH, ALLEGHENY COUNTY

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, September 19, 1951.
To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate William F. McCrea, 306 Broad Street, Sewickley, Allegheny County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in and for the Borough of Sewickley, Allegheny County, until the first Monday of January 1954, vice Mrs. Margaret M. Morgan, deceased.

JOHN S. FINE

NOMINATION RETURNED TO THE GOVERNOR

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, at the request of His Excellency, the Governor, I move that the nomination just reported be returned to the Governor.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The nomination will be returned to His Excellency, the Governor.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MAHANY, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1518, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 2001 of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by changing the provisions relating to protests by property owners to the exercise of zoning powers.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, in April of this year the Northeast Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce filed a bill in equity in our United States District Court, the object of which bill was to compel this Legislature to reapportionment because they had not done so since the year 1920. It was just over this week end that the Federal Court rendered a decision saying that while they greatly regret it, they feel that they do not have the power to compel this Legislature to reapportion itself.

Mr. President, I should like to read briefly a part of that opinion. This opinion, filed by Chief Judge Biggs and concurred in by Judges Clary and Bard, said:

"We are aware, as is almost everyone in Philadelphia, that what the plaintiffs assert in their complaint is notoriously true. The blunt fact," it adds, "is that the General Assembly of Pennsylvania has been derelict in their duty specifically imposed on them by the Constitution of Pennsylvania in failing to pass the Reapportionment Act, as required by the express mandate of the Constitution."

I, therefore, Mr. President, read in place and present to the Chair on behalf of Senator Byrne and myself this bill which is for the reapportionment of the Senatorial Districts in Philadelphia only.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. SILVERT and BYRNE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 866, entitled

An Act to fix the number of Senators in the General Assembly from the City of Philadelphia and to apportion the city into senatorial districts.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and fellow Members of the Senate, I think I will wait a moment because I want the Majority Leader to hear what I have to say.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny may now proceed.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President and fellow Members of the Senate, never before has there been so much rumor and so much ill-wind blasted about the Senate Chamber as there has been during the nine months of this Session of the Legislature.

For the past nine months, we on the Democratic side have waited patiently for the Republican leadership to resolve the problems of the State in such a manner that it would give the greatest good to the greatest number.

The Democratic Minority has time and time again offered to cooperate in a nonpartisan or bipartisan manner, in order to bring this Session to a successful conclusion. However, our leader, Senator John H. Dent's offers of cooperation have been repeatedly refused by the Republican leader, Senator Walker, who has flip-pantly said time after time that this is a Republican problem, a Republican responsibility, and will be solved by the Republican Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, I am convinced now more than ever before that the split on the Republican side is not motivated by opposition to the income tax as such, but as a political vendetta originated and planned by a few selfish men who have no regard for the actual needs of the Commonwealth, of the schools, the hospitals, of the needy persons and of the universities, and who are more interested in political and personal results and gains as against the welfare of the Commonwealth.

Some particularly vicious stories have been printed today in leading newspapers that have no source or no foundation of truth, and they are deliberate attempts to discredit any Member of the Senate who conscientiously is trying to solve the fiscal problem. Senator Walker and some of his colleagues are deliberately bringing into the tax fight in Pennsylvania matters that have never been discussed by me or any of my colleagues with any of the Republican leaders in or out of the Administration. The results of our deliberations have nothing to do with the affairs of the City of Pittsburgh, with political appointments or with any of the other so-called points in any secret deals. Only those Members who are seeking to make deals of their own, and whose political morality has degenerated to a low level, are responsible for these vicious and unprecedented, deliberate lies fed to the innocent newspaper men. I am more interested in the welfare of the people and the industry of Pennsylvania than I am in the political success or political ambitions of any individual in or out of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I stand here today and say to the Members of the Senate, I have not been a party to any deal and I think that the men who are responsible for the present dilemma of Pennsylvania are talking out of both sides of their mouths at the same time. In private and in committee they acknowledge the need for more money but in order to keep up the false and hypocritical front to the public, they stand before the public and deny the need for more money, while at the same time they vote for increased appropriations beyond the ability of the Commonwealth to pay.

In the Senate Finance Committee there reposes as of this date House Bill No. 840, which imposes a flat income tax, and the so-called package of bills which add up to nine in number. In this package two bills, namely, House Bills Nos. 1692 and 1695, impose a tax on dividends received from foreign companies, no part of whose activities are carried on in Pennsylvania. These bills would succeed in driving the great industries out of western Pennsylvania, would remove hundreds of millions of dollars of deposits from western Pennsylvania banks, would decrease purchasing power in the area and make its effect felt on every type of retail business activity in the district. Further, by driving these industries out of western Pennsylvania, the State of Pennsylvania would be denied millions of dollars revenue which they now receive from capital stock and income tax. To name just a few, I submit to the Members of the Senate the names of the H. J. Heinz Company, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, Gulf Oil Corporation, National Steel Company, Western Electric Company, Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation and practically every other corporation which conducts its holding company's business in western Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, if as an alternative to the Governor's tax program, this Senate is to vote the so-called amendments to the C. N. I., we in western Pennsylvania might just as well make up our minds that our cities and towns will become "ghost towns." As I see it, the welfare of any community is dependent upon the successful operation of our big industries. We are not an agricultural settlement. Our civic, our governmental and our individual welfare require that we maintain our high levels of employment and wages. Corporations are only groups of individuals, and an intolerable tax burden will drive them out of our area. Our civic drive has been to get industry into our area and I, for one, am not going to be a party to driving it out.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, we have spent nine months in this Session of the General Assembly trying to decide a fiscal policy for the Commonwealth. In this time, many members of the Senate have suggested to the Governor that he call in an outside group or groups and make a study of the costs of Government. I, personally, have introduced resolution after resolution requesting that a study be made with one view in mind, and that was to exercise economy in State Government. The only answer that we have received back from the Administration is that the figures of the Budget Controllers are so "holy" that it is a sin to even question their figures. The slogan of this Administration has been, "We want more taxes". At no time has the Administration permitted any cuts in appropriation, and when I tried to get the Main and Company of Pittsburgh, a very reliable Certified Public Accountant House, to make a study of the budget and the expenditures therein, we were refused permission.

Mr. President, in the last three week's recess I had the opportunity to make a study of some of the items appearing in the budget, and how these items increased in cost during the Administration of Governor Martin and Governor Duff. I picked this period, for today these two Governors are United States Senators, and have been traveling up and down the country talking to groups, and over the radio, demanding economy in Government after they have mortgaged their own State for years to come and deliberately lied about surpluses not existing. I am not going to read all of the sorrowful examples of spending that occurred in their Administration, for if I did, I would take in every item in the budget. However, I want to show to this Senate a few items and how a little economy on our part would not effect the hospitals, the schools or the institutional districts.

Mr. President my first item will be in the Agriculture Department. Animal indemnities have been raised by $305,000. In other words we have jumped the cost of destroying animals to $2,500,000, in face of the fact that the Agriculture Department states, and the Milk Control Commission, that many animal herds have been discontinued by farmers. I would cut this item by $305,000.

When Governor Martin came into office, the Department of Commerce and Planning Board cost the State $392,000. It now costs the State $1,490,000, an increase of 280 per cent. I have introduced a bill, and have spoken on this floor, to do away with the Department of Commerce as it is a joke and a farce. This would lop off $1,490,000 of the Budget.

The Department of Forests and Waters, under Governors Martin and Duff, jumped from $1,644,000 to $5,955,000 for salaries and departmental expenses, an increase of 262 per cent. I would cut off from this department just ten per cent, or $595,000.

The Washington Crossing Park Commission went up from $37,200 to $180,000 in these two economy minded governors' Administration, an increase of 384 per cent. I would cut off $90,000 for this commission.

The Valley Forge Park Commission jumped from $94,000 to $225,000, an increase of 139 per cent. I would lop off $75,000 for this commission.

The Pennsylvania State Park and Harbor Commission increased 98 per cent, or from $71,600 to $142,000. I would operate this commission at $30,000 less.

The Navigation Commission for the Delaware River increased 51 per cent and is now $98,000 I would take $15,000 from this commission.

Under Stream Clearance, Conservation and Flood Control, I would take $238,000 from their present figure of $2,380,000 or a ten per cent cut.

In the Department of Health the salaries and departmental expenses have jumped 101 per cent in the Martin-Duff regime. I would cut this by $250,000.

In the Department of Health they have two items for Cancer Research, one $250,000 and another for $300,000 the latter one going to the Cancer Research Laboratory at Fox Chase, Philadelphia. Now, all of us are willing to give all we can to cancer research, but there has mushroomed over the country many laboratories and cancer research societies. Nearly every Member of this Senate will verify that never a day goes by that we do not receive a letter from one of these cancer research groups asking us for personal donations to these research organizations. I believe the Department of Health should investigate all of them if they wish to give the State's money and then give it to the one they choose as best. I would cut out $250,000 from the budget at this time, until the State has made a thorough investigation.

We now spend $6,000,000 a biennium for school health examinations, which we all agree is a very fine thing to do, but I think this large appropriation of $6,000,000 can stand a quarter million cut.

In the Department of Labor and Industry $350,000 has been set up to administer the Fair Employment Practice Commission. This we know is not needed, as there is no F. E. P. C. in Pennsylvania.

I wonder when we are going to stop being the "suckers" for the coal companies, who abandon mines and compel the State to pay $1,407,000 in this biennium for sealing these mines. I think that we can save $150,000 on this item.

In the Department of Public Assistance, strange to say, this item went up under the two great economists, Martin and Duff, from $76,005,200 to $135,000,000, or about 75 per cent. Although we are now enjoying in Pennsylvania the highest employment we have ever experienced, I am sure that taking $5,000,000 away from this figure will not starve anyone in the State.

The State Teachers Colleges have always been a controversial issue in the State, and wherever State Teachers Colleges are located, the people in that community take for granted that they are there for their own personal use. It has been proven that only about thirty per cent of the teachers graduated from these colleges enter the teaching profession. When they were originally established they were needed, but I doubt that their increased cost of operation under Governors Martin and Duff, from $4,000,000 to $10,500,000, or an increase of 163 per cent, is warranted. However, I only ask to cut this item, $1,000,000.

Operation of the Thaddeus Stevens Trade School has jumped from $130,000 to $600,000, and increase of 362 per cent in the last eight years. I am not too well acquainted with the operation of this school, so I will only cut it $50,000. It certainly can spare a $50,000 cut out of a $470,000 increase.

Now, Mr. President, we come to the one figure that I believe will startle the members of the Senate. Public School Transportation is now costing the taxpayers of this Commonwealth $20,500,000, an increase in the Martin-Duff Administration of $11,500,000 or 125 per cent. This is a staggering amount, one that I think should bear investigation by the State Government Commission, in co-operation with the Department of Public Instruction. Certainly where transportation does not exist and the distance is long and hazardous, there should be some arrangements for getting the children to and from school. I do not think it fair to give free transportation to some children, for in our cities today it costs the parents (for instance in Pittsburgh) 85c per week for a school pass. I cannot see why the State should pay the entire cost, or $20,500,000 for this transportation of the school children. However, I do not at this time want to cut this item entirely out and will merely cut it by $2,500,000, and I would ask that the State Government Commission make a study of the entire problem and make their report to us at the next Session.

Mr. President, there are some items that I do not intend to cut, but I do want to draw them to the attention of the Senate.

The Retirement Fund for School Employees has gone up 461 per cent in six years, an increase of $30,774,987. It was only $6,670,000 when Martin came in; however, I would not like to give my opinion on this until further study.

The maintenance of the Pennsylvania State College has jumped in the last eight years from $5,035,000 to $15,605,000, an increase of 210 per cent. I would cut this appropriation $2,000,000.

I wonder how many Members of this Senate are acquainted with the fact that we lend our support and our votes to supply the money for the operation of ten medical and surgical hospitals in the hard coal regions that were foisted on the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as far back as 1879, by political graft. It seems, according to the records I can dig up, that the coal companies and the railroads refused to pay the hospital bills of men in their employ who were hurt while working in the mines or on the railroads. Their political strength, at that time, was so great that they forced the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to maintain and operate ten hospitals in the coal regions free of charge for their employees. I have a list of all the acts that were passed, creating these hospitals. I want to read to you the wording of these bills. In all of these bills there is a section that reads as follows, and I quote:—

“That this hospital shall be specially devoted to the reception, care and treatment of persons injured in and about mines, work shops and railroads, and all other laboring men, provided, however, that no patient shall be admitted for the treatment is said hospital to the exclusion of the classes herein stated, and who have not contracted injuries in or at the coal mines”.

In other words, these hospitals were built for the railroads and the coal companies as their exclusive properties. They refused to pay for any of their patients. Another section of these bills read as follows:—

“Trustees of said hospitals may from time to time charge any patient, other than the classes named in other section of this Act, an amount sufficient to cover the cost of treatment”.

The Trustees of those hospitals are still living up to these rules and regulations, and are furnishing the best socialized medicine that can be found in any other place in the world.

Mr. President, we have heard a great deal about Schuylkill County in this Legislature. We have been asked to pay teachers' salaries that they can't pay in the county for want of money that they don't collect from the coal companies for their just real estate taxes. Now, we find out that we maintain three hospitals for Schuylkill County, for their exclusive use. These hospitals are Ashland, Coaldale, and the Locust Mountain Hospital at Shenandoah. We have paid the bills for Schuylkill County for 118,530 patient days. I think it is asking too much for Schuylkill County to ask the Senate to pay for the cost of their schools, and also the hospitalization of its people.

Luzerne County has two such hospitals; one at Hazleton and one at Nanticoke. They received 88,781 patient day services, paid for by other taxpayers in the State. I have found out that in these hospitals the doctors in these counties (that is, a privileged few) bring their patients there to get free hospitalization, and in that way the doctors get their fees without any trouble for operations performed. When I questioned a certain doctor, he told me that there was nothing illegal in what they did, for the Trustees had the right, under the previous sections that I read you, to give free hospitalization to anyone who worked in or about a mine, railroad, or was a laborer, under the intent of this Act.

I have checked the population in the districts in which these hospitals are located and I find that every man, woman and child, according to the population, must have been in the hospital two days in the last biennium, as the record shows the ten hospitals furnished 439,080 patient days for a population of 243,690. I am positive that the rest of the State of Pennsylvania does not know where these ten hospitals are located, and I now give you the list of hospitals:

Ashland (Schuylkill County)
Coaldale (Schuylkill County)
Locust Mountain (Schuylkill County)
Nanticoke (Luzerne County)
Scranton (Lackawanna County)
Blossburg (Tioga County)
Connelville (Fayette County)
Hazleton (Luzerne County)
Phillipsburg (Centre County)
Shamokin (Northumberland County)

Each of these ten are receiving a free ride when you, back home, are paying for city hospitals and giving money and donations to private hospitals.

Mr. President, I do not know why the welfare funds and health programs enjoyed by employees of industry today are not used to pay their bills at the hospitals. We are going to give these hospitals $9,750,000 in this biennium. This amount has increased from $3,750,000 when Martin came into office, and increase of 160 per cent. I can now see why these districts turn in big majorities for the Administration (with the exception of Lackawanna County) on Election Day. At least one member of every family in these counties must have, at some time, had a free ride on the gravy train, run by the State for the railroad and the mine owners.

If we do one thing this Session, at this late hour, we should see to it that these hospitals are placed under either private ownership or local municipal ownership. That is why I cut $9,750,000 for the upkeep of hospitals who have gouged this Government since 1879—seventy-two years.

We have in the Budget this year $700,000 for a Public School Building Authority, and at another time I intend to discuss the State Public Building Authority. I am advised that the Local School Authorities can build much cheaper and save a considerable amount of money by using their own local authorities; however, I am going to be conservative and only cut their appropriation by $100,000.

Much has been said about Civil Defense and the need for this appropriation. However, I have talked to numerous people who know a great deal about Civil Defense, and who believe that volunteer civil defense is better than giving a lot of politicians jobs. I think that $5,000,000 is enough for this fund, so I will save $15,000,000 here.

The Milk Control Commission, I have told this house time and time again, is a joke. It was created in the depression years and has since outlived its usefulness. It should be completely wiped out by this Legislature and it would save another $480,000.

The Pennsylvania Board of Parole has increased the cost of their Board by fifty-five per cent since 1943. I do not think that they can prove the necessity of this increase. I would cut it $250,000.

The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission has been on the gravy train, too, as they have increased their request from 1943 to today by 108 per cent, and they are now asking for $670,000, while in 1943 they received $332,500. I am sure they can spare $200,000 in these trying times.

Gentlemen, I have made these cuts and have not hurt anyone. I have not touched the subsidies to the medical and surgical hospitals, who are now getting State aid. I have not cut any appropriations to the public school system, I have not cut any grants to our state institutions, so that our educational system, and our hospital system and the care for the aged and the mental will not be affected by these economies, although I do believe we are spending too much in the State institutions for the kind of service we are getting. I believe that we should have a business manager in charge of every State institution and let the medical profession take care of the patients, as no one can be a specialist in both.

Mr. President, the same holds good with the Department of Public Instruction. I would like to see a business executive in charge of the Department of Public Instruction, who could administer our school system with efficiency and economy. Let the educator take care of the educational program, but let a watch dog be in this department to control the spending. You know, it is hard today to say anything against education or health for fear that the public may misunderstand you. I am for a good health program, I am for a good education system, but I don't think it fair to tax the people of Pennsylvania and the industries of Pennsylvania to pay for waste and inefficiency which now exists in both of these departments.

Mr. President, if the Governor of this State was not being too stubborn in insisting that we take the figures of the Budget Controller as gospel truth;—and if he had gone along with us in having public hearings that are public hearings,—in making department heads explain every item in this Budget;—if we were permitted to use outside sources to point out the discrepancies in this budget, I am sure that we would never have been here for the nine months that we were here. Three months are all that would be required to have a Certified Public Accountant make a careful check of this budget to find out that it is loaded with fat, and that the figures were picked out of a hat. Look at the budget, and you will find nearly all round figures in it. A budget that shows economy would not be in round figures. I don't think anyone knows how this budget was computed. It would be worth the services of a Certified Public Accountant to check even the additions, because there is bound to be mistakes in computing a budget of a billion dollars or over, and I have never found, in my seventeen years in this General Assembly, that if any mistakes do occur, they are always in favor of the Administration.

No. Mr. President, I believe that the reason why the Governor does not want any outside interest to go over his budget, including the Economy League and the Chamber of Commerce, is the fact that he is afraid that the Budget Controller's figures will be exposed.

Mr. President, the Governor asked us to point out where he can save money when he said he did not know where to cut it. I am showing him where he can cut $40,418,000, which is a substantial sum. I intend to send him a copy of this speech just as soon as I am through, for him to study it. I am willing to debate it or discuss it with him in public or in private. This State must make a start in cutting down excessive spending. Let's not put it off until next session, but start this session. What's the difference of a few more months? As Legislators, let's demand proof for every dime that is spent. If we do that, we'll contribute much to the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the future greatness of this great, great State.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, we have heard so much in the last nine months pertaining to the tax program. In fact, we have heard more outside the Chamber than within the Chamber. We always pick up a paper and find where so many Democrats have changed their minds with regard to the income tax program. So many men have been accused of making deals on both sides of the Chamber, which I think is very unfair. I think innocent people are being convicted before trial.

Mr. President, there is one solution to the problem. We all realize that we have a problem confronting us, and that is to pass a tax program. Why not bring it out on the floor, bring out the income tax as you bring out any other bill? No one knows how we are going to vote until we have the opportunity. If the bill is defeated, then bring out the package bill. I realize that I have responsibilities as one man in this Chamber, because I voted for appropriations for schools, for hospitals and down the line for State commitments. I stand ready to vote for taxation to meet those appropriations, but I cannot vote for it on hearsay. I cannot vote for the income tax, and as I said before, if forty-nine men vote for it, I will vote against it. That is my personal position. How my colleagues will vote, I do not know.

Mr. President, the rumor around this Chamber of certain men trying to deal, I think is very unfair and if they deal and if they vote accordingly, then you may draw your own conclusions, but I want to pay tribute, sincere tribute, to the eleven Republicans who have stood up and said, "We are against the income tax." They are men of courage. They will go down in history as men of courage, because throughout the years, under both Democratic and Republican administrations, we have found rubber stamps in this Chamber. Whenever the Governor would say "boo," everybody would jump. Today we have men with their own convictions, honest convictions, and despite the threats that come from the upper office that the ax will fall upon a patronage list when the Session is over, to the best of my knowledge these men have stood pat, and I think when the roll call comes on the income tax, they will stand pat. You must give credit, but let us do something.

Mr. President, month after month, week after week, and day after day we come in here and nothing comes before us. Let us bring the income tax out of committee, let us pass it or defeat it. If it is defeated, then you will know where the deals are. Then bring out the package tax. We may pass all of it, we may pass part of it. If we pass part of it, then let us sit down together and think of another tax.

Mr. President, I am for the soft drink tax. I fought shoulder to shoulder with my colleague from Westmoreland County last Session, and, as near as I know, he is still against it. I voted for it, but realizing that I had commitments, I am ready to change my mind. I am ready to vote for it; not for one cent, for two cents. It will bring us in $78,000,000 a biennium. That will take care of half of our program itself, and show me where you can buy a five-cent bottle of soft drink. Back in my town it was six cents, and now it is nine cents. The tax is off, it was taken off, but the pay roll is still intact. Some thirteen hundred or fifteen hundred people who were hired by the Governor to collect this tax, I am told, are still working. They may not be working, but collecting their pay.

Mr. President, I agree with my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, but he has only scratched the surface. The huge pay roll, if it were possible, and it may be, to pass a bill where anybody working for the State Government is not permitted to vote for any State official, you would find less patronage. They can vote for some other officers, but not for their bosses. Then the Governor or anybody else in power would have no hope of placing upon the pay roll thousands upon thousands of people.

Mr. President, I recall back in 1936, and many of my colleagues do, when Mason Owlett, then Senator from Tioga County, arose in place and yelled to the blue heaven about the twenty-five thousand people on the State pay rolls in Pennsylvania. The Democrats were in power then. We had thousands upon thousands of people on relief. We were compelled to initiate immediately the emergency offices. He knew that, but despite that knowledge he yelled about twenty-five thousand people on the pay rolls. Today we have prosperity like we never had before. Every able-bodied man is working. Not twenty-five thousand on the pay rolls today, but upward of fifty-five thousand. Why? Because they vote. If these people were not permitted to vote for the men who placed them in public office, there would be less men on the State pay rolls. So, along the lines of economy, as given by my colleague from Allegheny County, that could be added, but it is getting late in the year.

Mr. President, I would like to be home by Christmas. I doubt it the way we are going. So, let us bring out today or tomorrow the income tax first. That should have preference. That is the Governor's baby. If I were on that committee, I would vote to bring it out to give us here on the floor the opportunity to vote for it or against it, and then if that is defeated, Mr. President, let us bring out the package tax. Let us do something instead of dilly-dallying around here for nine months talking about it, accusing innocent people and getting nowhere.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I just want to reply very briefly to the three speeches that have been made from the Minority Side under the heading of Petitions and Remonstrances. I very frankly want to say to my long standing friend and colleagues, Senator Barr, from Allegheny, I cannot answer in detail the gentleman's prepared speech until I have the opportunity to study it. I had a vague idea that the remarks were directed to me personally, because of his desire that I give him my undivided attention. I want to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, that at no time have I ever heard anybody, directly or indirectly, suggesting that Senator Barr was ever a party to any deal for any legislation here on the Senate floor during the time he and I have been associated together. Now, Mr. President, I know, and I think that the vast majority of people in Allegheny County know, that as close friends as we might be personally, I have no illusions as to his political alliance, and I am not anticipating his undivided and unqualified support in November.

Now, Mr. President, when he suggests, and I say this as carefully as it could be said, that somebody is taking advantage of the innocent newspaper men here in Capitol Hill, I expected the roof to fall into this building. Nobody has ever taken advantage of them, and we are not going to raise the vice versa side of that question.

Now, Mr. President, with regard to Senator Haluska's comment, we appreciate his concern. We would like to go home for Christmas, too. When he speaks of prosperity, he is not taking an accounting over on this side of the aisle. We are not very prosperous over here. It has been a long time since we have had a chance to practice law back home, Mr. President, and, believe me, the cash register can show it.

Now, Mr. President, with Senator Holland's horseback appraisal of the budget, I sympathize with his intent. He is desirous of cutting down the cost of government. Mr. President, that operation he just performed was beautiful, but the patient died. It is easy to balance the budget by just tearing four or five pages right out of the book, and I would like to say to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, that at no time would he find the majority unwilling to work on the question of economy step by step. The suggestions that he has made, it would take hours probably to analyze and debate them. I know Senator Holland is on the Appropriations Committee, and I feel confident, Mr. President, that he will be perfectly willing to attend the Appropriations Committee meetings and give that Committee the benefit of his recommendations and suggestions.

Now Mr. President, there is one thing I would like to correct for Senator Haluska's benefit. I had cause to check up on the number of employees that were attached to the Department of Revenue and specifically assigned to the collection of the soft-drink tax, and may I say to the gentleman from Cambria that I found, and I was pleasantly surprised and very happy to find, that when the tax expired with the expiration of the particular act involved, that about ninety per cent of the employees involved in that particular bureau were dropped from the pay roll, and I am sure if he would check that he will find that that is true.

Now, Mr. President, I see no need for us worrying about rumors on Capitol Hill. I have never spent a day on Capitol Hill that there was not at least one good fresh healthy rumor floating around, and I am sure at this late date none of us are going to be excited about rumors. There never was a bill passed that was the least bit controversial which did not carry with it some idea that a deal had been made, whether it was between friend or foe, Republican or Democrat.

Now, Mr. President, I am confident there was nothing personal in the remarks made by Senator Barr. Some of the insinuations directed toward a group of Republicans who have not seen eye to eye with some of their colleagues on the flat income tax met with his disfavor. Now just to show you, Mr. President, how odd that can get, Senator Haluska praises them, Senator Barr dams them. That is just what you get for holding public office. I am sure Senator Barr's mail reflects praise and glory for the marvelous things he has done here on Capitol Hill, but at the same time he has received constructive criticism. I wish to assure the gentleman that anytime he is involved in a deal, it would not be in a back room but right out in the open. I appreciate the fact that he is not going to be with us in November, and I accept it on that basis, but let us continue the Allegheny County campaign back in Allegheny County and not bore the other sixty-six counties in the State with our local struggles.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, in answer to my dear colleagues, Senator Walker, I want to advise him that this was not a horseback audit of the budget, but was made by some men, very fine men, who knew a lot about the budget, and men who knew exactly what the State was doing. It was not my entire idea, but it was the entire idea of seven people. I would be very glad to have the Member from Allegheny County sit down with these seven people, and maybe they will convince him. I thought he was looking for economy, I thought he was looking for ways and means to cut the budget. These suggestions come from some people he talked to, too, and who spent hours in the three weeks of the recess on the budget. These are their recommendations, and we are willing to meet with anyone, including that wizard, Logan, at any time to show him he knows very little about the economy of Pennsylvania, whether it is the financial condition of the companies today, in their corporate net income tax, capital stock tax and all other taxes. They are very much underestimated, and I think his records show it. Back and forth from the days of Pinchot he was a wizard with a pencil, and I always have to repeat this, that figures never lie, but liars sometimes figure.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I am reminded at this time of the statement by Cordell Hull when he said that a lie will get halfway around the world before the truth gets its pants on.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WOLFE, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 24, 1951.

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 24, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 739, Printer's No. 546, entitled "An act providing for the construction by the General State Authority of an addition of a medical and surgical hospital building to the Philadelphia State Hospital on a site heretofore conveyed to it by the Mercy-Douglass Hospital and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to sublease said land and building to the Mercy-Douglass Hospital," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RETURNING SENATE BILL No. 406 TO THE GOVERNOR WITHOUT AMENDMENT

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 24, 1951.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concurs) That Senate Bill No. 406, Printer's No. 137, entitled "An act to further amend Section 305 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2017), entitled 'An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation, and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children; prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners, county treasurers, city departments of public welfare, the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto; abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors, overseers, guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them; providing for the transfer, vesting, sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations; imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth; regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished; revising, amending changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws,' by requiring the approval of the court of quarter sessions for the erection and alteration of institutions, and further prescribing the powers of the Department of Welfare," which was recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment on June 28, 1951, be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I would like to make a short statement in presenting a resolution.

When the smoke and prejudice of this era have died away and history will correctly evaluate the events of our time, I feel confident that the outstanding event of this period was the re-establishment of the Nation of Israel directly through a promise of God to the people of the world. At the present time and in the next few years, Israel is going to have a re-forestation program to plant millions of trees on the deserts around Jerusalem.

Mr. President, just recently the United States Government and the Nation of Israel signed the Friendship Pact. I believe it would be a fine gesture for the State of Pennsylvania, which is known as the "Forest State," with fifty-two per cent of its surface covered with woodland, in presenting seedlings and seeds of our native Pennsylvania tree, the Hemlock, and, therefore, with the cooperation of my colleagues, Senator Walker, Senator Dent and Senator Chapman, I present the following resolution and move its immediate adoption.

SENATE RESOLUTION

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF WAYS AND MEANS FOR THE IM- PLEMENTATION OF THE AID OF THE DE- PARTMENT OF FORESTS AND WATERS TO THE PENN-ISRAEL AMITY WOOD- LAND PROJECT

Messrs. RUTH, WALKER, DENT and CHAPMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 24, 1951.

Whereas, the emergence of the State of Israel is the harbinger of a new area in the heretofore desolate lands of the Fertile Crescent of the fringe of the Arabian Desert and along the Mediterranean Sea, and

Whereas, the establishment of the State of Israel represents the realization of millennial dreams of the Jewish People for the in-gathering in a state of their own of exiles scattered in the lands of the Diaspora, and

Whereas, the pioneering spirit of the inhabitants of the State of Israel in vanquishing the desert and restoring to this ancient land its pristine fertility and bloom offers a definite affinity to the pioneering era in the history of our Nation, and

Whereas, the plough of the Jewish pioneer is rapidly restoring to the fields of Israel their ancient fertility that made that Land renowned in antiquity as one of the granaries of the Ancient World, and

Whereas, the hills of Judea and Galilee once densely wooded with mighty cedars became despoiled and denuded as a result of millennial neglect on the part of the backward rulers, adversely affecting thereby the water-level and the climate of the land, and

Whereas, the government of Israel has initiated an intensive program for the afforestation of the Land of Israel, and

Whereas, a segment of Pennsylvania's citizenry is planning now to initiate the planting of half a million trees suitable for the rocky hills of Judaea, preferably of the mighty hemlock, the official tree of the State of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, the forestry-experts of Israel are conducting now experiments to ascertain the adaptability of the hemlock to the rocky soil of the Judean hills and to the climate of the land, and

Whereas, the area that will be covered by the projected half a million trees will embrace the hills surrounding the Holy City of Jerusalem and will symbolize the amity of the People of Pennsylvania and the fledgling State of Israel and is to be known as the Penn-Israel Amity Woodland, and

Whereas, as a bastion of Democracy on the fringe of chaos the State of Israel is of great service to the United States and to the United Nations as a bridgehead of order and civilization, and

Whereas, the help and succor extended by the American People to this fledgling state in its formative days and trying pangs of birth forged everlasting links of solidarity and mutual understanding, and

Whereas, the People of Pennsylvania follow with great admiration the rapid and unprecedented political, cultural and economic progress of the New State and the absorption therein of hundreds of thousands of refugees saved from annihilation in the vales of Death of Eastern Europe and the degrading casbahs of Arab Lands, and

Whereas, fully realizing and admiring the magnitude of the afforestation project to be known as the Penn-

Israel Amity Woodland, the citizenry of Pennsylvania is desirous to contribute its share to this commendable project, and

Whereas, the nurseries of the Department of Forests and Waters of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can be of an immeasurable help to the planting of the trees in the Penn-Israel Amity Woodland by supplying seeds and seedlings of the hemlock tree or other trees suitable to planting on the hills of Judaea

Now therefore be it resolved, that in order to express the solidarity of the People of Pennsylvania with the fledgling State of Israel and contribute towards the success of the Penn-Israel Amity Woodland in the hills of Jerusalem, the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania does hereby direct the Joint State Government Commission to undertake the study of ways and means for the implementation of the aid of the Department of Forests and Waters to the Penn-Israel Amity Woodland project and prepare suitable legislation for submission to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in January, 1953.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Mines and Mining, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 863, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 912), entitled "An act to regulate the drilling, and abandoning of oil and gas wells, and providing a penalty for violation of the provisions of this act," by requiring the approval of the Department of Mines, authorizing injunctions and changing the disposition of fines.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

L. 512) entitled "An act relating to the administration and distribution of decedents' estates trust estates minors' estates and absentees' estates both as to real and personal property and the procedure relating thereto including the disposition of such estates or portions thereof and the determination of title thereto without the appointment of a fiduciary in certain cases the appointment bond removal and discharge of fiduciaries of such estates their powers duties and liabilities the rights of persons dealing with such fiduciaries and the rights of persons claiming an interest in such estates or in property distributed therefrom whether as claimants or distributees and containing provisions concerning guardians of the person of minors the powers duties and liabilities of sureties and of foreign fiduciaries the abatement survival and control of actions and rights of action and the presumption of death and also generally dealing with the jurisdiction powers and procedure of the orphans' court and of the register of wills in all matters relating to fiduciaries" by providing for the examination of safe deposit boxes rented in the names of decedents by an appraiser appointed by the Secretary of Revenue.

He also, from the Committee on Finance reported as committed, House Bill No. 1699, entitled:

An Act to further amend the title and the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 521) entitled as amended "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decedent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a nonresident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death defining and taxing transfers made in contemplation of death defining as a transfer and taxing the right of survivorship in property as to which such right exists and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth or national banking association located therein to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association standing in the name of any such decedent until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid and providing penalties and citing certain acts for repeal" by imposing duties on surviving parties and banks or other institutions or depositories of joint accounts or accounts in trust and by adding a new section pertaining to the opening and examining of safe deposit boxes of decedents and providing penalties.

He also, from the Committee on Finance reported as committed, House Bill No. 1698, entitled:

An Act to provide revenue by imposing a State tax upon certain documents prescribing and regulating the method and manner of evidencing the payment of such tax conferring powers and imposing duties upon certain persons partnerships associations and corporations recorders of deeds and the Department of Revenue saving certain local taxes and authorizing amendments extensions and supplements to the ordinances and resolutions relating thereto and providing penalties.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WOLFE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, September 24, 1951

The House met at 3:30 p. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Rev. Edward M. McKee, guest Chaplain and pastor of Tionesta Presbyterian Church, Tionesta, guest of the gentleman from Forest, Mr. Davis, offered the following prayer:

O God, Who art the Author of peace and Lover of concord, in knowledge of Whom standeth our eternal life, Whose service is perfect freedom, Who hast given us this good land for our heritage; we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning, and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion; from pride and arrogance; and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one happy people the Members of this House brought hither from the Counties throughout our State. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those who deliberate on the problems of the hour, those to whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be equity and understanding, and that, through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble suffer not our trust in Thee to fail. We do beseech Thee, O God, as for the people of this state in general, so especially for our Legislature here assembled; that Thou wouldst be pleased to direct and prosper all their consultations, to the advancement of Thy glory, the good of Thy Church, the safety, honor, and welfare of the people; that all things may be so ordered and settled by their endeavors, upon the best and surest foundations, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, virtue and piety, may be established among us. These and all other necessities, for them, and for Thy people, we humbly pray in the name of Jesus Christ, our most blessed Lord and Saviour. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill No. 653 which is now before this House should have the serious consideration of every Member, especially those Members from the 4th, 5th, 6th 7th, and 8th class counties.

In these days we are apt to pass legislation quickly, but this must not happen to four bills on today's calendar, 653, 654, 655 and 656. It should be remembered that the passage of these bills will not affect the following:

Philadelphia, now administered by the Board of Revision of Taxes and which Board appoints the assessors; Allegheny County in which assessments are administered by the Board of Property Assessments, Appeals and Reviews and the Board appoints the assessors there.

Third Class Counties where assessments are administered by the Boards of Assessment and Revision of Taxes and the Board appoints the assessors.

Third Class Cities in which City Councils appoint the City Assessors for a four year term. However, Council may by ordinance elect to come under the county system.

This bill affects the counties—fourth to eighth class—where County Commissioners serve as the Board of Assessment and Revision of Taxes, and the Board appoints the chief assessor and local assessors are elected from each local unit of government for four year terms.

Senate Bill 653 aims to amend the laws affecting these classes of counties by amending Act No. 254 of the 1943 session of the General Assembly; by providing for a uniform permanent record system in the boards for the assessment and revision of taxes; providing for a committee to prepare such system and conferring powers and imposing duties upon the boards for the assessment and revision of taxes, the Chairman of local government commission and chief assessors. Also it would amend Act No. 1229 of the 1947 session by defining the powers and duties of the Board to be

1. To appoint a chief county assessor and such assistant assessors, clerks and other employes as may be needed.

2. To adopt rules and regulations which shall govern the chief assessor, his assistant and local elected assessors in the making of the assessments.

3. To hear and determine appeal from the valuations fixed by the assessor or revised by the Board, as the case may be.

4. To establish within the limits of the act the form of the assessment roll and the order of listing of persons and property in such assessment roll and in the tax duplicates prepared from such roll.

5. To prepare annually and submit to the County Commissioners an estimate of the expense to be incurred incidental to carrying out the provisions of this act.

6. To examine and revise the assessments and valuation.

7. To establish a permanent system of records consisting of tax maps, property record cards and property owners index and such additional maps, materials and manuals as shall be deemed necessary.

Further, it shall be the duty of the board within five years to establish through its chief assessor and staff a permanent record system and thereafter to keep it current, consisting of

1. Tax maps of the entire county drawn to scale or aerial maps which maps shall indicate all property and lot lines, set forth dimensions or areas, indicate whether the land is improved, and identify the respective parcels or lots by a system of numbers or symbols and numbers whereby the ownership of such parcels and lots can be ascertained by reference to the property record cards and property owners index.

2. Property records cards shall be arranged geographically according to the location of property on the tax maps, which cards shall set forth the location and description thereof, the acreage or dimensions, the owners name, address, and date of acquisition, the purchase price—if any—set forth in the deed of acquisition, the assessed valuation and the identifying number or symbol and number shown on the tax map, together with the property owner's index, consisting of an alphabetical listing of all property owners, setting forth brief descriptions of each parcel or lot.

4. The Board is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into such contracts as may be necessary to establish the permanent record system, or may, through its chief assessor and staff or any other county employes, prepare and complete such system.

For the purpose of uniformity throughout the Commonwealth the form of the tax maps, property record cards and the property owners index and the manner in which the information required to be set forth thereon shall be prepared or approved by a committee consisting of ten members—five to be appointed by the Pennsylvania State Association of County Commissioners; two to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; two to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate; and the Chairman of the Local Government Committee.

Several counties in Pennsylvania are operating under the terms of the 1947 Act, of which the County of Lebanon is one. I am informed that a school for assessors was conducted during the last year, covering two hours for each of ten weeks. Interest in this program by the Tax Equalization Board and the Institute of Local and State government is reported as having been helpful to the study.

For the information of the Member of the House, I wish to insert here that the Institute of Local and State Government was established July 1, 1937 at the University of Pennsylvania through a generous grant by the Samuel S. Fels Fund, the founder of which has long been interested in the improvement of municipalities and state government.

That Institute engages in training, assistance, counseling and research. The municipal assistance service aids local governments in a variety of ways, which service is free. The research activities of the Institute are usually connected with its training and service programs, but occasionally long range studies are made. The guide book of the Institute was used by Lebanon assessors in their studies.

If I am reliably informed, Lebanon County stands third in proficiency in this effort; and it should be noticed that with all the effort toward uniformity, the tax rate has risen in a number of districts and the total assessed valuation on real estate has changed from $65,963,522 on January 1, 1947 to $79,651,920 on January 1, 1951.

In Pennsylvania value for assessment is actual value of a property—the price for which a property would separately sell at a bona fide sale. Selling price is considered, of course, but it is not the controlling factor. However, the Assessors' Handbook Guide by the Institute of Local and State Government gives the following basic value factors to determine assessments of rural land values:

1. Soil
2. Crop Yields
3. Topography and elevation
4. Timber
5. Available markets
6. Roads and utilities

The Assessor's Handbook Guide also states that rural assessment aids are tax maps, property record cards, soil maps and geological survey maps.

Meritorious as some of these aids may seem it remains that Pennsylvania law marks value as the determining factor.

To organize and operate the plan of Senate Bill 653 would require a multitude of public appointees and it would mean a heavy outlay of tax money to carry out the intent of the act.

Real estate has always borne more than its share of the tax load and this innovation of a new plan of assessment will add to the real estate tax burden. Though not listed as a property tax, many taxpayers find their taxes constantly increasing by taxes authorized under Act 481 of 1947, which taxes anything. Many taxing authorities have taken advantage of Act 481 of 1947 and unofficial estimates put the total annual revenue now produced by this law at approximately 30 million dollars. This 1947 tax measure was approved by the Legislature in line with recommendations by the Governor that local communities be given a chance to increase their financial self dependence to slow down the trend toward increasing subsidies and accompanying controls from the government.

I should like to have you notice this: many districts in thirteen counties during this year 1951 have placed new taxes under the 1947 Act, covering amusement taxes, per capita for schools, roads, deed taxes, and others, thereby adding constantly to the tax load of the citizens of this Commonwealth.

Aside from increasing taxes and costs of operation of the assessment of properties, Senate Bill 653 would take away from municipalities their powers of self government and rest that power in the hands of a few executives. In all lands there is that tendency to take away from the people that right. Our own country is not free from it, but here in the Keystone State we should oppose this trend to centralize authority and concentrate power which always follows. The centralization of assessments has always been opposed by rural organizations and there is no doubt that the passage of Senate Bill No. 653 will pave the way for the centralization of collection of taxes.

Instead of the passage of this piece of legislation, we should call a halt to the ever increasing tendency of governmental agencies to centralize the powers of government. The ideas of centralization is advanced with the though that such centralization would bring increased efficiency and economy. Experience has shown that instead of increased efficiency and economy, it has increased the burden of taxation by duplication of work with the resultant increase of governmental expenditures.

Most of the governments of the world have been the result of accidents. Ours is the result of forethought and design. It was founded by men who have grown wise through the experience of years of tyranny and war and whose only aim was to secure to the people their largest measure of liberty and happiness.

Defeat Senate Bill 653 as well as 654, 655 and 656 and it will be evidence that this Legislature aims to hold to and to retain to the people of Pennsylvania their rights of local self-government.

In this connection I would quote the words of a great scholar and a former President of the United States when he said, and I quote:

"The history of liberty is a history of the limitation of governmental power. When we resist the concentration of power we are resisting the processes of death, because concentration of power is what always precedes the destruction of human liberties."

I would ask the House to vote against 653 and other bills of the same nature.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, the package which we are discussing at the present time, as stated by the gentleman from Lebanon, is Bills 653, 654, 655 and 656. I presume from the fact that Mr. Light discussed these as an entirety it is the Chair's desire that we discuss this as a package.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will permit such latitude.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, one thing I would like to call the attention to the House is the fact that 653, 654, 655 and 656 are amendments to the act of 1943 which is your county assessment law of the fourth through the eighth class counties. It does not change in the least bit the general overall county assessment practices in a situation where all taxes levied on real estate in a particular area are uniform.

The changes in Senate Bill 653, as brought out by the gentleman from Lebanon, requires the board to make a uniform system of tax maps and tax figures. Many of us realize that this may be an expense, but at the same time it sets up uniformity and will prevent a situation from arising where one particular person may be assessed at a certain figure and a similar house located on a similar street becomes of some inequitable reason may be assessed at a much lower or much higher figure.

The uniformity set-up is presently existing in counties of the third class. The uniformity is prescribed due to the fact that the particular set-up shall be controlled by a committee of ten members, five of whom shall be nominated by the County Commissioner's Association of the Commonwealth, two by the Speaker of the House, two by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and one being the chairman of the Local Government Commission.

Now it is admitted by the Local Government Commission that initially the work on these tax facts and tax records will definitely be an expense. But I submit, that by this method it takes uncertainty out of taxes and places the certainty therein that all real estate, whether it be farm land, a city dwelling, forest land or just plain wasteland will carry its worth of the governmental expenses of the county at local levels.

Now then, there is no question that for years the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has been rather bothered by the fact that you have inequitable systems of valuation of real estate. You can have contiguous counties where in one county the valuation for tax purposes of the real estate is exceptionally low as compared to the others. An attempt was made to correct this condition by this Legislature in setting up the tax Equalization Board, but the tax inequity still continued. This plan, this package of bills, attempts to straighten out these inequities, and the answer to the county commissioners who insist on accepting the new value as placed under these laws and still continue the taxation at the present value is to relieve the county commissioners of their job next election. That seems to me to be the point blank answer.

As far as raising the expenses and adding various and sundry commissions and members and assessors, this series of acts does not change the present law under which the board, the chief assessor and the local assessors are appointed by the board. They still have the same responsibility and they still have the same pay as fixed by the county salary board.

In addition thereto, in any local municipal subdivision which issues building permits, it requires a copy of that permit to be sent to the county commissioners or the board for listing on the tax assessment record.

This is an attempt to equalize the valuation of all real estate in this Commonwealth. I will admit, as the gentleman from Lebanon said that the real estate owned in this Commonwealth is carrying a terrific load for the payment of the various governmental expenses and I submit that it will continue to do so unless some entirely different method of collecting taxes is created by this particular Legislation. That fact is with us but that is as much as the requirement of accepting the proposition that all taxes levied on real estate should be collected, and all real estate parcels should be levied upon.

Many of you may have read recently in some of the larger cities where taxes have been missed because particular properties had not been on the assessment list. This I submit will protect from that situation, you will not have any further situations of that type arise, and all property owners will pay their respective taxes toward the running of the municipal government.

I submit, that this is a proper series of bills, it has a proper point behind it and I request that the House support these bills.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, who has just spoken.

Mr. SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask if there is any limitation as to term of service or the number who will comprise this chief assessor and his assistant assessors?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, as far as the chief assessor and his assistants are concerned, they are appointed today the same way as they would be appointed under this bill, and that is by the board. Senate bill 656 on the other hand requires the chief assessor to take an examination and to devote most of his time to assessment work. That is the deviation as far as the assessors are concerned.

Mr. REAGAN. I would like to inquire how many the gentleman thinks will comprise the chief assessor's office in order to accomplish all that is supposed to be accomplished by these bills?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, the only answer I could make is that the number in the chief assessor's office will be that number deemed advisable by the board or the County Commissioners in order to do the job.

Mr. REGAN. The gentleman would expect that County Commissioners to act as the board of taxation and tax revision?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question I could say that they may; it is entirely up to them whether they act or whether they appoint other people to act as the board.

Mr. REAGAN. With all this work of an entire county assessment thrown into the Court House, does the gentleman imagine that the County Assessors along with their other work will act as boards of tax revision?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, the only answer I can give the gentleman is that if the County Commissioners personally act as a board of revision and control through the chief assessor at the present time they probably will continue under this act.

Mr. REAGAN. Does not the gentleman think that with all the work of assessing for a whole county, they will appoint another board? Will they find it necessary to do that?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, under this law and under the law as presently existing the board whether this act passes or not, the board or the County Commissioners, if they are the same persons still has the responsibility of making the county assessments. There is no change in that.

Mr. REGAN. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Erb, Regan and Wilbur H. Hamilton.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1495, Printer's No. 956, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1503, as follows:

An Act to amend the title and to further amend sections two four five seven and fifteen of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 465) entitled "An act to provide for the safety of persons employed housed or assembled in certain buildings and structures not in cities of the first class second class and second class A by requiring certain construction and ways of egress equipment and maintenance providing for the licensing of projectionists requiring the submission of plans for examination and approval providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Labor and Industry and in certain cases by the chiefs of fire departments in cities of the third class providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and repealing certain acts" by excluding cities of the first class and second class and including cities of the second class A for the licensing of projectionists covering in Class I buildings not formerly covered and authorizing the increase of ways of egress

Section 1 The title of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 465) entitled "An act to provide for the safety of persons employed housed or assembled in certain buildings and structures not in cities of the first class second class and second class A by requiring certain construction and ways of egress equipment and maintenance providing for the licensing of projectionists requiring the submission of plans for examination and approval providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Labor and Industry and in certain cases by the chiefs of fire departments in cities of the third class providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and repealing certain acts" is hereby amended to read as follows

An Act

To provide for the safety of persons employed housed or assembled in certain buildings and structures not in cities of the first class second class and second class A by requiring certain construction and ways of agress equipment and maintenance providing for the licensing of projectionists except in cities of the first class and second class requiring the submission of plans for examination and approval providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Labor and Industry and in certain cases by the chiefs of fire departments in cities of the third class providing penalties for violations of the provisions of this act and repealing certain acts

Section 2 Section two of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1016) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 Classes of Buildings The following are the classes of buildings and structures which it is intended that this act shall cover

Class I Buildings Factories power plants mercantile buildings hotels office buildings hospitals asylums public and private institutions convalescent and nursing homes schools colleges school and college auditoriums and gymnasiums when used for public assemblages airports airport buildings airplane hangars dormitories warehouses garages farm buildings where they are used on a commercial basis and all other buildings specified by the department not enumerated in Classes II III IV and V wherein persons are employed housed or assembled

Class II Theatres and motion picture theatres

Class III Buildings Public halls dance halls banquet halls lodge halls churches skating rinks armory halls or any other auditorium in which the public assembles not used for any of the other purposes mentioned in this act

Class IV Buildings Tenement houses apartment houses apartment hotels club houses lodging houses and rooming houses

Class V Buildings Grandstands stadiums and amphitheaters and summer theatres

Section 3 Section four of said act as last amended by the act approved the fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1356) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Ways of Egress From every floor of buildings enumerated in section two of this act there shall be proper and sufficient ways of egress and means of escape from fire and panic Provided That in all buildings hereafter erected or adapted for any of the purposes enumerated in section two of this act there shall be not less than two (2) ways of egress as remote from each other as possible except that the requirement for two means of egress shall not be applicable to buildings two stories or less in height with an occupancy of not more than three persons above the ground floor when it is determined by the department that adequate means of egress are available to all occupants and except that there may be one means of egress of fire-resistive construction in the case of tenement houses apartment houses and apartment hotels not over three stories in height with not more than a gross area of three thousand (3000) square feet on each floor between exterior and fire walls comprising a maximum of six (6) apartments under regulations which may be promulgated by the Department of Labor and Industry and further provided that in every building the department may require additional means of agress where in its judgment the means of egress are not sufficient

In buildings of more than one story except in special purpose buildings as defined by the department all means of egress shall be located inside the building at least one of [which] the two required interior stairs shall be an enclosed stair tower of fire-resistive construction and in addition thereto there may be used as a fire escape a mechanically operated device suitable for use as a means of escaping from windows and which shall consist of a steel cable lifeline and mechanical brake which is automatically put into action by the presence of weight at the end of the cable. Where the department finds after proper investigation that in buildings erected prior to the passage of this act the internal ways of egress hereinafter provided for cannot be installed it may direct that such means of egress be provided as will in its judgment to better advantage carry out the intent and purpose of this section. The Department of Labor and Industry may order fire walls [or] smoke barriers [or both] additional fireproofing or the enclosure of vertical openings to be built in buildings already erected or which may hereafter be erected where in its judgment the erection of such fire walls [or] smoke barriers additional fireproofing or the enclosure of vertical openings is necessary to the reasonable safe protection of the occupants. The ways of egress shall be free from obstruction lighted and ready for instant use at all times. Fire escapes now in use or hereafter erected shall be painted at least once a year and be kept in safe condition and up to such standard requirements as may be specified by the Department of Labor and Industry. The means of egress for special purpose buildings shall be approved by the Department of Labor and Industry.

Section 4 Section five of said act as amended by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1523) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 5 Theatres Motion Picture Theatres and Places of Public Assembly In every theatre motion picture theatre and place of public assembly the construction of the building the exits from the stage dressing rooms and auditorium the type and location of exit lights and signs the width and location of aisles and the arrangement of seats the construction and use of projection rooms and the equipment contained therein the height of ceilings and the ventilation of the auditorium the construction and type of proscenium walls arches and curtains drop curtains and sky borders and the amount type and location of fire preventing and extinguishing equipment for the stage dressing room projection rooms or other parts of the building shall be such as to provide reasonable and adequate protection for all persons who may assemble therein. Neither on or about the stage auditorium balconies or galleries nor in any other part of the buildings covered by this section shall any inflammable or explosive oil or material be used or stored except when special permission is granted by the Department of Labor and Industry and in accordance with specifications set forth by the said department. There shall be no smoking in any auditorium balcony or gallery of any theatre or motion picture theatre. All electrical wiring and appliances in such buildings shall be installed in a safe manner and so maintained.

In all buildings except schoolhouses normal schools academies and colleges hereafter erected or adapted for any of the purposes designated in this section the auditorium or gymnasium when used for public assembly shall not be located above or below the ground level. Provided That the Department of Labor and Industry shall have the power to permit the auditorium to be located above or below the ground level when in its judgment the number width and arrangement of exits the seating capacity and the extent of use for such purposes render such auditorium or gymnasium free from additional hazard.

The auditoriums or gymnasiums of schoolhouses normal schools academies and colleges hereafter erected and when used for public assembly shall not be placed above the first floor level nor below the grade level.

Section 5 Section seven of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 996) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 7 Licensing of Projectionists Except in Cities of the First Class and Second Class No person shall be permitted to project any motion picture either theatrical or non-theatrical until he has obtained a license from the Department of Labor and Industry after passing an examination prescribed by the said department for which fees shall be charged as hereinafter provided and no person shall be permitted in any projection room during any performance except licensed projectionists apprentice projectionists the manager or owner of the theatre or authorized officials of the Department of Labor and Industry. Any license may be suspended or revoked for due cause but no license shall be revoked until the projectionists or apprentice projectionists has been granted a hearing before the Secretary of Labor and Industry. The amendment providing for the licensing of projectionists in cities of the second class A to become effective as of the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two.

Every application for examination as a projectionist shall be accompanied by a fee of two dollars ($2.00). If the applicant is successful a certificate of competency and a license shall be issued upon payment of an additional fee of five dollars ($5.00) for projectionists of theatrical or commercial motion pictures or a fee of two dollars ($2.00) for projectionists of non-theatrical motion pictures. There shall be no examination fee required from apprentice projectionists but there shall be a license fee of three dollars ($3.00) required the same to accompany application from the apprentice projectionist. For the annual renewal of license for a theatrical or commercial projectionist there shall be a fee of five dollars ($5.00) charged the same to accompany the application for renewal of license and for non-theatrical projectionists the renewal fee shall be two dollars ($2.00). The renewal fee for apprentice license shall be one dollar ($1.00). All fees shall be paid to the Department of Labor and Industry and by the said department paid to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue for the use of the Commonwealth.

Section 6 Section fifteen of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1016) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 15 Enforcement The provisions of this act shall apply to every building enumerated in this act including buildings owned in whole or in part by the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and shall be enforced by the Secretary of Labor and Industry by and through his authorized representatives. Provided That nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting buildings in cities of the first class second class and second class A or the licensing of projectionists in cities of the first class and second class and that duly appointed chiefs of fire departments shall be equally responsible with the Secretary of Labor and Industry for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and the regulations of the Department of Labor and Industry pertaining to the removal of obstructions to and maintenance of exits aisles passageways and stairways leading to or from exits in all buildings covered by this act and the inspection and maintenance of emergency lighting systems fire alarms and fire extinguishing apparatus.

For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this act all the officers charged with its enforcement shall have the power to enter any of the buildings or structures enumerated in section two of this act and no person shall hinder or delay or interfere with any of the said officers in the performance of his duty nor refuse information necessary to determine whether the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations herein provided for are or will be complied with.

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

DuBois,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1579, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for the purpose of providing temporary emergency aid under certain conditions to school districts of the third and fourth classes in which housing projects are erected

Section 1 The sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the fiscal biennium beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-one for the purpose of paying to any school district of the third or fourth class so much money as may be necessary to pay for the salaries of additional teachers and non-certified personnel as may be necessary to enable such school district to remain open for a term of one hundred eighty (180) days when as a result of one hundred or more new family units or housing units being erected in such a school district within eight months after the budget of any such school district has been adopted the employment of additional teachers and non-certified personnel is made necessary without budgeting provisions having been made for the employment of the same

To be entitled to any such payments such school district shall have first exhausted all available funds including funds available from its borrowing power for current expenses and shall have expended all State-aid funds that it might have been paid in advance

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

DuBols,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 134, as follows:

An Act to amend further Section 5 of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six (P. L. 551) entitled "An act relating to roads highways and bridges" as amended by extending the width of a public road in the instance of multiple lane highways to increase the maximum width by the additional footage that shall be necessary in the judgment of the Secretary of Highways for center or dividing strips

Section 1 Section 5 of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six (P. L. 551) entitled "An act relating to roads highways and bridges" as last amended by the act approved the sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (P. L. 890) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 5 The breadth of a private road shall not in any case exceed twenty-five feet and the width of a public road shall not be less than thirty-three feet nor more than one hundred and twenty feet except that whenever the right of way for a public highway has been acquired solely by the Federal government the maximum width thereof may be two hundred feet and except in the instance of multiple lane highways the maximum width shall be one hundred and twenty feet plus any additional footage that shall be necessary in the judgment of the Secretary of Highways for center or dividing strips between the multiple roadways Provided That the limits of width shall not be construed to include the width required for necessary slopes in cuts or fills when the limits of the road and the extra width required for such slopes exceed the limits of width herein specified but no appropriation of property as width required only for slopes shall be construed to prevent the owner from making any use of his property which is not inconsistent with the necessary support or protection of the highway all viewers shall hereafter be required to take into consideration the equalized nature of the easement in proceedings to assess damages for the taking of land for highway purposes Anr provided further That when the public road desired to be opened is in a built up section of any township of the second class of the type commonly known as an alley and is not an integral part of a through route the minimum width shall be fifteen feet And provided further That where the breadth of a public road shall hereafter be fixed at more than one hundred and twenty feet and the right of way of such public highway has been acquired solely by the Federal government and it shall become necessary to move or relocate any public service facilities the cost and expenses incident to such removal or relocation shall be paid by the Federal Government

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NOT VOTING—1

DuBois.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 230, Printer's No. 384 and

Senate Bill No. 319, Printer's No. 270 were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 441, as follows:

An Act to add Sections 602.1 and 705.1 to further amend Section 802 to add Sections 804.1 and 901.1 to the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 752) entitled "An act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employees of the Commonwealth authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof" by providing that substitutes may hold positions only until employees on military leave return relating to rights of transferred reassigned or promoted employees during probationary periods and providing for employee audits from time to time

Section 1 Sections 602.1 and 705.1 are hereby added to the act approved the fifth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 752) entitled "An act regulating and improving the civil service of certain departments and agencies of the Commonwealth vesting in the State Civil Service Commission and a Personnel Director certain powers and duties providing for classification of positions adoption of compensation schedules and certification of payrolls imposing duties upon certain officers and employees of the Commonwealth authorizing service to other State departments or agencies and political subdivisions of the Commonwealth in matters relating to civil service defining certain crimes and misdemeanors imposing penalties making certain appropriations and repealing certain acts and parts thereof" to read as follows

Section 602.1 Substitutes During Military Leave Whenever an employee in the classified service is granted military leave the position so vacated shall be filled only by substitute appointment or promotion and the employee so appointed or promoted shall vacate the position upon return of the employee from military leave any such substitute employee when required to vacate such position upon the return of the regular employee shall have the right to return to his previous civil service position and status

Such substitute appointments or promotions shall be made from lists certificated by the State Civil Service Commission in keeping with the provisions of this act

Section 705.1 Further Rights of Transferred Employees Any classified employee transferred reassigned or promoted from one position to any other position in the same or another classification and remaining in the position through a period of time equivalent to the accepted probationary period for that position shall be deemed to have vacated the position from which he was transferred reassigned or promoted and to have acquired status in the position to which he was transferred reassigned or promoted provided that during such period of time he shall retain reemployment rights in the former position

A position so vacated shall be filled by appointment or promotion from eligible lists certified by the commission

Section 2 Section 802 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 835) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 802 Furlough In case a reduction in force is necessary in the classified service no employe shall be furloughed while any probationary or provisional employe is employed in the same classification and no probationary employe shall be furloughed while a provisional employe is employed in the same classification. An employe shall be furloughed only if at the time he is furloughed he is within the lowest quarter among all employes of the employer in the same classification on the basis of their last regular service ratings and within this quarter he shall be furloughed in the order of seniority. Provided That the appointing authority may limit the application of this provision in any particular instance to employes in the same classification with headquarters at a particular municipality county or administrative district of the Commonwealth.

A furloughed employe shall have the right of return to any classification and civil service status which he previously held provided such classification is contained in the current classification plan of the agency or to any classification and civil service status in the same or lower grade provided that he meets the minimum qualifications given in the classification plan of the agency [provided that in both instances there is a vacancy with the same appointing authority]. The appointing authority shall promptly report to the director the names of employes furloughed together with the date the furlough of each is effective and the character of his services. Under the rules a permanent employe furloughed shall for a period of one year be given preference for reemployment in the same class of position in the department from which he was furloughed and shall be eligible for appointment to a position of a similar class in other agencies under this act provided that in case of a promotion of another employe such preference shall not be effective if it necessitates furloughing such other employe.

Section 3 Sections 804.1 and 901.1 are hereby added to said act to read as follows

Section 804.1 Rights of Promoted Employee During Probationary Period If the probationary period has resulted from a promotion such removal shall not be from the classified service. A classified employe so removed during a probationary period resulting from promotion shall have the right to and shall be returned to the position or classification held immediately prior to such promotion without necessity of appeal or hearing.

Section 901.1 Commission to Make Periodic Audits of Employees The commission is hereby authorized to and is held responsible for conducting audits of changes in employment and promotions of employes in the various departments bureaus and agencies under its jurisdiction to assure strict compliance with this act and the commission rules and regulations.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 796, Printer's No. 555 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 819, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1358) entitled "An act relating to chattel mortgages on any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including but not limited to livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops grown growing or to be grown designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages providing for the filing indexing and docketing of such mortgages and related instruments in prothonotaries' offices and prescribing prothonotaries' fees providing for the filing in Pennsylvania of similar lien instruments originally filed or recorded in other states regulating the assignment release satisfaction and extension of the lien of such mortgages prescribing methods of foreclosure defining defaults and violations and fixing penalties" by providing that chattel mortgages may be given as security for principal obligations other than bonds or notes eliminating the requirement of witnesses providing additional remedies to mortgagees as against third persons and providing that the provisions of the act be liberally construed

Section 1 Sections 1 and 2 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1358) entitled "An act relating to chattel mortgages on any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including but not limited to livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops grown growing or to be grown designating the operation and effect of the lien of such mortgages providing for the filing indexing and docketing of such mortgages and related instruments in prothonotaries' offices and prescribing prothonotaries' fees providing for the filing in Pennsylvania of similar lien instruments originally filed or recorded in other states regulating the assignment release satisfaction and extension of the lien of such mortgages prescribing methods of foreclosure defining defaults and violations and fixing penalties" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Any person association partnership or corporation may give as security for any funds borrowed or to be borrowed or any pre-existing indebtedness a chattel mortgage without another principal obligation or a bond or note with or without a confession of judgment clause secured by a chattel mortgage upon any chattel or chattels of any kind or description including but not limited to livestock poultry farm machinery farm equipment and crops including annual or perennial crops and other plant products either grown or growing at the time of the execution of such chattel mortgage or to be planted or grown within one year thereafter For the purposes of this act all such chattels and crops shall be deemed to be personal property and mortgageable as such The indebtedness secured by any such chattel mortgage shall not bear interest in excess of the rate which the creditor is permitted by law to charge at the time of the execution of such mortgage

Section 2 Any mortgage executed under and pursuant to this act shall be in writing and signed [witnessed] and duly acknowledged by the mortgagor or his agent duly authorized and constituted The property covered or to become covered by any such chattel mortgage may be described as all that property of a specified class so identified by reference to location brands marks numbers or otherwise as to distinguish it from other property of the same class or such property may be described in any other manner permitted or authorized by law

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 13 a new section to read as follows

Section 13.1 A mortgage may after default repleven any goods subject to a chattel mortgage and in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) in value in the hands of a third person who took title to such goods with actual or constructive notice of the mortgage or if such goods have been consumed or are not in the possession of such third person the mortgagee may recover the value of the goods in an action in trespass for conversion

Section 3 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 17 a new section to read as follows

Section 17.1 The provisions of this act shall be liberally construed to hold valid chattel mortgages made in good faith to secure bona fide loans and which substantially comply with the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by further regulating the leasing and sale of State forest and park lands by the Commonwealth and defining the powers and duties of the Department of Forests and Waters and the rights of lessees with respect to such leased lands.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 811, entitled:

An Act to add section 1501.1 to the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by empowering township supervisors to compel connection with and use of sewer systems constructed by municipal authorities to impose penalties to enforce regulations and orders and to connect properties of owners failing or neglecting to make connection.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 840, entitled:

An Act imposing an income tax on residents of Pennsylvania as herein defined including trusts and estates and on income of non-residents derived from property business or other sources in Pennsylvania defining taxable income and requiring filing of returns thereof providing for the assessment collection and lien of said tax providing for administration and enforcement of the act by the Department of Revenue conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons fiduciaries partnerships associations corporations political subdivisions State officers employees and departments saving certain local taxes and authorizing amendments extensions and supplements to the ordinances and resolutions relating thereto and imposing penalties and restricting the use of the moneys derived from said tax.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I arise at this time to clarify my position in regard to House Bill No. 840, Printer's No. 1031. I want it distinctly understood that any vote on my part to advance this bill to Third Reading is not to be construed that I am in support of this legislation.

Mr. President, I also want it understood that the reason I am not making a motion to recommit the bill is that I have listened to the advice and counsel of my lawyers on both sides of the Senate, and we have agreed that we will band together tomorrow and hope to retire this bill to where it belongs, in the ash can.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I also wish to go on record that in not voting against this bill on Second Reading, that it is to be very definitely understood that I intend to oppose this bill and I intend to vote against this bill, and I just feel as though it should be known that I am not in any way concurring with this bill on Second Reading, other than with the understanding that it will be voted on tomorrow.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think it is clearly understood, and, if we can have a blanket suggestion, I think the record should show that under no circumstances or under any consideration will any action taken on this bill at the present time, in advancing it to Third Reading, indicate directly or indirectly the vote that might be cast by any gentleman of the Senate when the bill is before us for Final Passage, when a record roll call will be taken.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REQUEST THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1416, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 512) entitled "An act relating to the administration and distribution of decedents' estates minors' estates and absentees' estates both as to real and personal property and the procedure relating thereto including the disposition of such estates or portions thereof and the determination of title thereto without the appointment of a fiduciary in certain cases the appointment bond removal and discharge of fiduciaries of such estates their powers duties and liabilities the rights of persons dealing with such fiduciaries and the rights of persons claiming an interest in such estates or in property distributed therefrom whether as claimants or distributees and containing provisions concerning guardians of the person of minors the powers duties and liabilities of sureties and of foreign fiduciaries the abatement survival and control of actions and rights of action and the presumption of death and also generally dealing with the jurisdiction powers and procedure of the orphans' court and of the register of wills in all matters relating to fiduciaries" by providing for the examination of safe deposit boxes rented in the names of decedents by an appraiser appointed by the Secretary of Revenue.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his point of information.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, has House Bill No. 1416 passed Second Reading?

The PRESIDENT. No, it has been requested that the bill go over in order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would suggest that the bill not go over in order, and that the bill be passed on Second Reading in order that it may be placed upon the Special Order of Business in order that the complete tax program may be debated at one time.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Majority Floor Leader desire to change his request?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am sorry, I apologize to the gentleman from Westmoreland. I was engaged and did not hear him.

Mr. DENT. Well, Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, I believe that if we have an ounce of sincerity left in the Senate we ought to at least put all the tax bills in a position to be debated at the same time.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I do not know whether my religion is being raised again. All I do is defend my honor and my sincerity any more.

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 BE READ FOR SECOND TIME

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1416 be read for the second time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair regrets to advise the Senator that his motion is not in order. We have to dispose of the previous request.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, yeild? May I interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand that the gentleman from Westmoreland is suggesting that I withdraw my request that House Bill No. 1416 go over in its order?

The PRESIDENT. No, he is objecting that it be passed over in its order.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Mr. President. I could not have done as good myself.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have inquired from the gentleman if he is requesting me to withdraw my request that House Bill No. 1416 go over in order so it could be read for the second time, and I gather the impression he is objecting, and I was just standing here thinking how sweet life would be if he would request it now. This is the first I knew that the gentleman did not want House Bill No. 1416 to go over in its order.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I only sent out a feather, I did not suggest it go over or anything else. I asked the Chair a question, and upon the answer from the Chair I said that if we had an ounce of sincerity left in the Senate of Pennsylvania, we ought to pass this bill and the other tax measures on Second Reading in order that all the tax bills could be debated and disposed of at the same time. I think some of us have come to the point where we cannot fool the people any longer.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, this seems to be the week that we must defend our honor. Yesterday the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, and now I gather very distinctly that my friend from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, is suggesting that if I have an ounce of sincerity I will move that bill up and debate it, too. Mr. President, I am entirely in favor of that and perfectly willing to do it, and if I could have understood the gentleman's request the first time it went around the track, I would have been very happy to have seconded his motion.

Mr. President, as I understand the present state of the record, there was a request made by the Majority Floor Leader to have House Bill No. 1416 go over in order. Now, Mr. President, I will be very happy to withdraw my request so that we can have it read for the second time. Then if the gentleman from Westmoreland desires to place it on tomorrow's Calendar as a Special Order of Business for any set time, I will be very happy to second that motion, and without sacrificing one bit of my sincerity or casting any smirch upon my shield or my escutcheon, I will be ready to discuss the tax program.

Mr. President, when it comes to fooling the people, I am sorry, I am still an amateur.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not going to defend my honor. The record speaks for itself.

REQUEST THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I withdraw my request that House Bill No. 1416, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1416, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 512) entitled "An act relating to the administration and distribution of decedent's estates trust estates minors' estates and absentees' estates both as to real and personal property and the procedure relating thereto including the disposition of such estates or portions thereof and the determination of title thereto without the appointment of a fiduciary in certain cases the appointment bond removal and discharge of fiduciaries of such estates their powers duties and liabilities the rights of persons dealing with such fiduciaries and the rights of persons claiming an interest in such estates or in property distributed therefrom whether as claimants or distributees and containing provisions concerning guardians of the person of minors the powers duties and liabilities of sureties and of foreign fiduciaries the abatement survival and control of actions and rights of action and the presumption of death and also generally dealing with the jurisdiction powers and procedure of the orphans' court and of the register of wills in all matters relating to fiduciaries" by providing for the examination of safe deposit boxes rented in the names of decedents by an appraiser appointed by the Secretary of Revenue

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 BE MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move you that House Bill No. 1416, Printer's No. 926, be made a Special Order of Business tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

(The Senate was at ease.)

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 BE MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I withdraw my previous motion that House Bill No. 1416 be made a Special Order of Business at 2:30 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 BE MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS AMENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I now move that House Bill No. 1416, Printer's No. 926, be made a Special Order of Business at 2:45 p. m., Eastern Standard Time tomorrow.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have heard of political chicanery and I see it displayed right now. I made a motion that House Bill No. 840 become a Special Order of Business at 2 o'clock, and the Majority Floor Leader asked me to yield, and then I made it for 3 o'clock, for reasons better known to him and his Party. I did not care what time it was. It was my intention then to bring up House Bill No. 840 because it was the first bill on the Calendar covering the tax program, and now I find my colleague from Westmoreland County saying 2:30, then saying 2:55, five minutes before House Bill No. 840 comes up.

Mr. President, I think it comes in poor grace. I have no objection to making any other bills a Special Order of Business if they come up in order, because House Bill No. 840 would have been up at 2 o'clock had I not yielded to the Majority Leader. I expect the Majority Party to keep faith and I ask him to yield until 3 o'clock or thereafter. I think it is very unfair to pull these tricks at the last minute.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, request a roll call, on the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. I certainly do, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Is there a seconder?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not know what is agitating certain individuals, but I know that the same motive does not agitate me. The only reason I asked that House Bill No. 1416 be made a Special Order of Business at 2:45 is because I felt, and I still feel, that House Bill No. 1416 should be passed, and as to House Bill No. 1698 and House Bill No. 1699, which are also revenue bills, I was going to ask that they, too, be made Special Orders of Business prior to the vote on the so-called income tax.

Mr. President, my purpose, and I will put it where everybody can understand it, because there is no secret, there is no ulterior motive, there is nothing dishonest in it. The only thing I am trying to do is to have these bills, which are of a less controversial nature, voted upon by the Senate of Pennsylvania in order that we can have at least $26,500,000 worth of revenue to take care of the appropriations that this Senate, including myself, have voted for or indicated they will vote for over and above the budget. Then if House Bill No. 840 falls, these bills will not become the victims of a political vendetta. When men lose their tempers, they lose their sense of justice.

Mr. President, I want an opportunity to vote on these bills with a cool, clear head. When House Bill No. 840 comes up, it will stand or fall upon its own merits. I am not afraid of the vote on House Bill No. 840, I am not afraid of the outcome on House Bill No. 840, and I am not a bit disturbed about how any other individual votes. I am disturbed about how I stand up upon my own record when I face the people of my constituency and my own conscience.

Mr. President, I want to make a further motion when the time comes on the other revenue bills. I do not want them to become embroiled in the bitterness that may follow a strictly partisan or bipartisan fight.

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Certainly, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, what time will we convene tomorrow?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I was going to suggest 12:30, but I am a little reluctant to make a commitment on that until I see how far these motions go. The present thought, Mr. President, is that we will convene tomorrow at 12:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. YOSKO. And what will the program be when we convene?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the first order of business will be the prayer by the Chaplain.

Mr. YOSKO. Don't start getting funny, and don't start getting sarcastic. I am just asking a question. We know all that, but lately here we have been following the procedure of going up as far as the Calendar, and then recess. Do you expect to do that tomorrow?

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, that is a different question. I apologize. I thought the gentleman wanted to know what the order of business was.

Mr. President, my intention at this point, and I do not think there will be any change, is that we will open as usual and go right straight through the Calendar with slight intermissions for debate on bills that might be controversial.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the reason I asked, the Majority Leader said we were going to convene at 12:30. I know that the Calendar is in such shape that it is not going to keep us here from 12:30 to 3, or from 12:30 until 2:30 or 2:45, according to the motions made over here, and I just wanted to get an expression from you to help solve this thing.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the reason for saying 3 o'clock is that there are a couple of Members of the Senate who have other legislative business that will keep them out of the Senate Chamber for part of the afternoon. They will have completed that particular phase of their official business by 3 o'clock. They wanted to be here in order to hear the debate on the tax program and that is why I suggested to the gentleman from Cambria that he set 3 o'clock as the time for the Special Order of Business. Now, it may be that there might be slight hiatus in the program if we have to wait until 3 o'clock, but, on the other hand, there may be committee meetings. For example, at the present time on my memoranda here I have requests for seven or eight committee meetings for this afternoon that I am going to try to work in before we adjourn for the day.

Now, Mr. President, I do not know how many requests I will have for tomorrow, but the reason for the 3 o'clock request of the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Yosko, was that I wanted to be sure that all the Members of the Senate would have an opportunity to be here so that they could be enlightened by the debate on the tax program.

Mr. YOSKO. That is a satisfactory explanation, and, in my opinion, from what you have said I think Senator Haluska is right, and I think Senator Dent, after what you have just said, ought to change his motion to have the other tax bills considered after 3 o'clock.

Mr. WALKER. That is no question, Mr. President. I cannot answer that one.

Mr. YOSKO. I am saying in their regular order. If you are going to meet at 12:30 and you are going to go through the preliminaries and then recess until 3 o'clock, come back at 3—there has been a motion made for something for us to do at 3 o'clock, and I think all the other business ought to come after 3 o'clock, just from what you have said.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I believe in fair play, and I believe all my colleagues do, and if it will help the situation, I am willing to ask the Senate to reconsider the motion that I made on House Bill No. 840, and let all bills come up in their order and have no bills made a Special Order of Business.

Mr. President, I request—I realize I am out of order now, but I would request the Senate to reconsider my previous motion and let all bills come up in their order.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL No. 840 BE MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I now move that my previous motion that House Bill No. 840 be made a Special Order of Business be reconsidered.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of information.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, which motion prevails, Senator Dent's motion or this one? There is a motion on the floor.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska is out of order.

Mr. HALUSKA. I yield to the gentleman from Westmoreland County, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to advise the Senator from Washington that there is a motion before the Senate, properly seconded, and a request for a roll call on the motion. Now, with that explanation, the Chair recognizes the Senator from Washington, Mr. Lane.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am speaking on the motion made by Senator Dent. I believe that his position is sound, because I realize that tomorrow the debate on House Bill No. 840 is going to be rather bitter. I do not believe we should have these other tax measures made a victim of the debate on House Bill No. 840. Therefore, I take the position that we have to bring a little order out of this chaos, and I am in support of Senator Dent's motion because I realize this Commonwealth needs money, and we do not want to defeat all the tax bills because we may have a fight over House Bill No. 840.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am in support of Senator Dent's motion.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it appears from the remarks made by the gentleman from Washington County that there would be no fight whatsoever over the other bills. I cannot understand his reasoning. There will be a fight on the other measures just as well as on House Bill No. 840, you can rest assured.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his point of information.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chair on the question. If this motion prevails and House Bill No. 1416 is called up at 2:45, and in the midst of the debate or at the beginning of the roll call on House Bill No. 1416, the Senate clock shows that it is 3:00p. m., Eastern Standard Time, Mr. President, do we stop the proceedings on House Bill No. 1416 and proceed with House Bill No. 840, as we have now decided?

The PRESIDENT. Very definitely.

Mr. WALKER. Or do we ignore the step that we have already made on House Bill No. 840?

The PRESIDENT. Regardless of what the status of House Bill No. 1416 may be at that time.

Mr. WALKER. Now, Mr. President, I just merely submit to the gentlemen of the Senate, and I will say very frankly that in spite of the embarrassing position that we might be placed in tomorrow, I intend to vote in favor of Senator Dent's motion. I am perfectly willing to have these bills given a Special Order of Business. They can be lined up on the legislative track at whatever time or in whatever order the Members of the Senate decide, but I think it is getting a little silly when we are liable to run into the middle of a roll call and may be calling the roll on House Bill No. 1416 and voting on House Bill No. 840.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have somewhat of a reputation of being a confusionist, but I never knew how badly I could be confused.

Mr. President, my original motion was made with the intention that we would have enough time to operate upon this piece of legislation before House Bill No. 840 came up. There was a request of the Majority Leader that we move that time up. He said, "Anywhere, 2:50, 2:55, I don't care." Did he know then that if this was made a Special Order of Business that House Bill No. 840 then would be interfered with?

Mr. President, I have no intention of interfering with the vote or debate on House Bill No. 840. I am trying to tell the Senate of Pennsylvania that I want an opportunity to vote upon $26,500,000 worth of new revenue, in order to meet the requirements that I have placed upon the books by my vote in this Senate, before we become embroiled in any debate on House Bill No. 840. Now, if we want to make House Bill No. 840 a Special Order of Business for 3 o'clock, 2 o'clock or 1 o'clock, that is the business of the Senate.

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 BE MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS WITHDRAWN

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, again, with the permission of the seconder of the motion, I would like to again withdraw the motion that House Bill No. 1416 be made a Special Order of Business at 2:45 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, tomorrow.

MOTION THAT HOUSE BILL No. 1416 BE MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS AMENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I now make a motion that House Bill No. 1416, Printer's No. 926, be made a Special Order of Business at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. That will give us plenty of time to debate this question.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, may we be at ease a minute?

The PRESIDENT. For the information of the Senate, the Chair wishes to state the condition of the record.

The Members will recall that the Minority Floor Leader made a motion, which was seconded by Senator Barr, that House Bill No. 1416, Printer's No. 926, be made a Special Order of Business tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 p. m., Eastern Standard Time. He subsequently withdrew that motion and made another motion, with the consent of the seconder. #### STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to state for the information of the gentlemen of the Senate that I have requests at this time from the chairmen of eight different Senate committees, asking for short recesses to hold five-minute meetings of their committees. Now, we all appreciate the time element involved and, Mr. President, in the sincere attempt to get through with these, I respectfully ask the cooperation of the gentlemen of the Senate. The order in which these committee meetings was requested was Highways, Labor and Industry, Public Health, Elections, Local Government, Banking, Law and Order and, last but not least, Rules.

Now, Mr. President, in light of the time element. I withdraw the request for a meeting of the Rules Committee and ask that the Senate do now take a five-minute recess to permit a meeting of the Senate Committee on Highways, with the full understanding, and with the cooperation of the Senate, that as soon as the Highways Committee is completed, I will call a meeting of the Labor Committee, Public Health and Welfare, Elections, Local Government, Banking, Law and Order, in that order, so that it will only be necessary to hold one committee meeting at a time. The meeting on Highways is to be held in the conference room to the rear of the Senate Chamber.

Mr. President, before I make the motion, I yield to the gentleman from Lehigh.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed, will state his point of information.

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, I would like to know if it is possible to get an amendment to House Bill No. 1698 on Second Reading?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would say that it would not be a physical impossibility, but at the moment the bill has passed Second Reading and it is now being prepared for the Third Reading Calendar.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER HOUSE BILL No. 1698

Mr. FREED. Mr. President, may I ask to have the vote by which it went on Third Reading be referred back to Second Reading for the purpose of putting in an amendment?

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator propose to make a motion that the vote by which House Bill No. 1698 passed Second Reading be reconsidered?

Mr. FREED. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. FREED. With the majority, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Is there a seconder to the motion?

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I will second that motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. STEVENSON. In the affirmative, Mr. President.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, September 25, 1951

The House met at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

Lord God, Ruler of all the earth, receive our prayer, we beseech Thee for our State. We pray Thee that Thy power and mercy may rule those who guide, and order those who legislate. Let all seek the good of all people and not of self. Let them govern in the fear of God and not the fear of man or for personal advantage of their own, O Lord bless us, cleanse us and defend us and revive Thy work in this Nation, that we may indeed be a people fearing Thee and doing righteousness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, September 24, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE RECALLED FROM GOVERNOR

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1404, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by authorizing the reassessment of certain property in school districts of the third and fourth class in certain cases and imposing liability for school taxes upon the owners thereof

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. KELLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Bucks Mr. Keller vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. KELLER. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Bucks Mr. Yeakel vote on the third reading of this bill?

Mr. YEAKEL. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. KELLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 677.1), page 2, lines 8 and 9, by striking out the words "Five or more family units are occupied in new housing developments" and inserting in lieu thereof "there is any construction of a building or buildings."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 677.1), page 2, line 10, by striking out the words "units are" and inserting in lieu thereof "building is."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 677.1), page 2, line 12, by inserting after the word "city" the following: "borough, township."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of Senate Bill No. 636, as follows:

An Act to amend subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" by authorizing investments in common stocks and similar securities of unincorporated associations meeting certain qualifications and eliminating the requirement that stock and similar securities must be listed on an exchange as to the stock and securities of banks and insurance and investment companies

Section 1 Subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 9 Stocks

(a) Preferred and Common Stock Preferred and common stock of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any commonwealth or state thereof or of the District of Columbia shall be an authorized investment if

(1) purchase in the exercise of that degree of judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of prudence discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds considering the probable income to be derived therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital

(2) in the case of preferred stock the corporation issuing the stock has earned a net profit in eight of the preceding ten fiscal years as reflected in its statements and during each of the preceding ten fiscal years has paid dividends in the specified amounts upon all its preferred stock if any outstanding during such year [and]

(3) in the case of common stock the corporation issuing the stock has earned a net profit in twelve of the preceding sixteen fiscal years as reflected in its statements and during each of the preceding sixteen fiscal years has paid dividends in the specified amounts upon all its preferred stock if any outstanding during said year and in each of at least twelve of the preceding sixteen fiscal years has paid dividends in some amount upon all its common stock if any outstanding during such year and

(4) in the case of any stock other than stock of a bank or insurance company or of an investment company (as hereinafter defined) the stock is listed or traded (or if unlisted or not entitled to trading privileges shall be eligible for listing and application for such listing shall have been made) on the New York Stock Exchange or any other exchange approved by the Secretary of Banking

No investment in common stock shall be made which at that time would cause the market value of the investments in common stocks to exceed one third of the market value of the estate not including in such market value the value of any participation in a common trust fund No sale or other liquidation of any investment shall be required solely because of any change in market values whereby the percentages of stocks hereinabove set forth are exceeded In determining the market value of an estate a fiduciary may rely upon published market quotations as to those investments for which such quotations are available and upon such valuations of other property as in his best judgment seem fair and reasonable according to available information

When a corporation has acquired a substantial part of its property within sixteen years immediately preceding the investment by consolidation or merger or by the purchase of a substantial part of the property of any other corporation or corporations the earnings of the predecessor or constituent corporations shall be consolidated so as to ascertain whether the requirements of this section have been satisfied

"Corporation" as used in this section shall include a voluntary association a joint-stock association or company a business trust a Massachusetts trust a common-law trust and any other organization organized and existing for any lawful purpose and which like a corporation continues to exist notwithstanding changes in the personnel of its members or participants and conducts its affairs through a committee a board or some other group acting in a representative capacity

"Investment company" as used in this section shall mean a corporation which is registered as an investment company under the Federal Investment Act of 1940 as from time to time amended and which has no preferred stock bonds loans or any other outstanding securities having preference or priority as to assets or earnings over its common stock

"Common stock" as used in this section shall include the stock certificates of beneficial interests or trust participation certificates issued by any corporation or unincorporated association included under the definition of "corporation" in the preceding paragraph

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, it is not my desire to engage in a prolonged debate regarding the merits of Senate Bill 636 due to the fact that we discussed the merits of this bill on several previous occasions, and in addition to that, I am quite certain that the Members have given very serious consideration to the important features of this particular measure.

However, I would like to call your attention to several salient facts concerning mutual trust funds, as they are operated, the kind of investment companies they are and their methods and soundness in doing business.

I would like to acquaint each Member with this situation so they are thoroughly familiar with the investment companies. No investment company that is eligible under this bill has ever failed. Each and every one is solvent and in splendid financial condition as far as every measuring rod of investments is concerned.

No investment company eligible under this bill has ever failed to pay the dividend when it was due, and in the amount it was supposed to be paid. No investment company has failed to redeem any of its shares when presented for payment through any source and they have always paid the current market value.

I believe if the Members will examine the situation very carefully they will find that there are 1,500,000 people investing their funds in this type of investment. In addition to that the average mutual trust fund is less than $2,000. Sixty percent of the money invested in mutual trust funds are less than $1,000. Therefore, this method of investing funds conservatively and with the highest degree of safety is for the benefit of the small investor and the small estates.

Under Senate Bill 636 no trustee is compelled to invest funds if they are acting in the capacity of a trustee in the mutual companies. It merely gives the opportunity for a trustee to take advantage of equity, diversification and soundness in investments. Also, the organizations behind the mutual trust services are financial experts and adhere to every sound measuring rod in picking the investments for these mutual trust shares.

Mr. Speaker, I recommend to the Members of this House that they give favorable consideration to Senate Bill 636.

Mr. LORPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I listened with interest to the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia. He made the statement that none of the companies eligible under this bill have failed to redeem certificates when presented, but he was also careful to say at the current market value.

As has been pointed out here a number of times, this bill is designed for the small trust, the small estate or the small investor. With regard to the small trust in many instances, in fact in most instances, it is not so much, or should not be so much concerned with the rate of income, because in most cases whether it is 5, 6, 7, 8, or 10 percent it would not be enough to support the person or the ward involved. So principally, a small trust should be concerned with the safety of the corpus of the estate.

If you have $3,000 or $4,000 or $5,000 coming in at a certain time, that is a lot of money. But the interest rate on $3,000 or $4,000 or $5,000 over a period of a year, whether it is five or six percent, means very little in dollars and cents. In this same situation, if man were endowed with the memory of an elephant—unfortunately we are not—in days of depression trust funds fluctuated, their values went way up and came way down, and they went fast when they were going down. A great many investors could not get out fast enough to save the corpus of their fund or at least a great portion of it.

Then, after that, we proceeded to put up the protective wall around trusts. We proceeded to regulate investments and we proceeded to place limitations upon trustees, guardians and persons entrusted with the funds of individuals. We are now starting on a course with Senate Bill 11 and following it by Senate Bill 636 to tear down all the real safety measures that we put in to protect the things which people were unable to protect themselves.

I say that this is a step in the wrong direction because the valuation of their certificates fluctuates with the market and they fluctuate up and down mightily rapidly at some times.

The corpus of small estates should be invested in funds which retain their value year in and year out, so that if you have a $1,000 bond in bad times or good times, that $1,000 remains practically the same.

We are not so much interested in these small estates in the income, as I say, because the additional percentage gained on a $5,000 or a $10,000 estate does not make the difference between that individual starving or living under decent circumstances. The most he could hope to realize would be a difference of $200 or $300 a year and that is not enough to risk the corpus of the estate itself.

As I say, I think this is a bad precedent. It is opening the doors to open speculation. And I say it will continue. We started with Senate Bill 11 and Senate Bill 636, and just as sure as we let the bars down on 636, we will in the next session endeavor to allow those who we are now taking out, we will endeavor to allow them to come in also and to share in this particular thing.

It seems significant to me that the State Banking Department, the Secretary of Banking of this Commonwealth is opposed to Senate Bill 636. It is also significant to me that every bank in my neighborhood has contacted me either directly or indirectly asking me not to vote for this bill.

For the reasons set forth I believe it is bad legislation and I urge the Members to vote it down.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, no one is infallible. I know that I am not. I know there are those who favored Senate Bill 11 and not 636. As you know Senate Bill 11 is now Act No. 340 of this Commonwealth of this session.

Personally I am a small town banker. I think Senate Bill 11 was a bad thing for the small town banker. I shudder to think of my trust officer investing in common stocks. I think Senate Bill 636 is his life saver. It will give him a chance to invest in these mutual fund shares which have an element of great diversification. In the event of the loss of a single common stock that trust officer who thought he was doing the right thing under Senate Bill 11 may see the trust fund exhausted by an unwise investment in common stock. I say a good many common stocks in themselves are really investment trusts or mutual fund shares.

You take General Motors Corporations, that is one of the biggest investment trusts, you might say, in the world. The portfolio of General Motors consists of all kinds of stocks; motor boat stocks, refrigeration stocks, turbines, automobiles and airplanes, and that is one advantage General Motors has, a great diversification of its portfolio.

That is one of the advantages of 636. It permits the small town banker who does not have the advice of an investment counselor to choose a good sound investment trust or mutual fund share company that has a wide diversification of stocks. Common sense will tell you that in a large portfolio a drop in the market in a few of the shares would not affect the security as a whole.

Therefore because of this diversification and because of this aid, shall I say, to the small banker, I think we should vote in and make the law of this state Senate Bill 636.

I think Senate Bill 11, while it might be fine for the large banker, gives him a chance to buy control, shall I say, in a big corporation of common stock, it is not a good thing for we country bankers.

Therefore, we would like to see the members support Senate Bill 636 in its present form.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to enter into this debate. But the gentleman who has just addressed the House has stated what was on my mind in such impressive fashion that I felt I must rise to express a word of approval.

My understanding of Senate Bill 11 was that under its provisions, the gentlemen at the head of the banks which have recently come before the public by reason of the fact that their executive heads had stolen all the way from three hundred thousand to a million and a half, under the Berger bill would have been empowered to invest trust funds in those banks themselves.

As I understand the Berger bill opens the door to the investment in shares in banks and in markets.

I am in thorough agreement with the position the gentleman has taken with reference to the trust officer in a small bank, who is not required to rely solely upon his own judgment in investing trust funds, but can summon to his assistance whatever wisdom the major investment trust concerns have managed to accumulate by reason of their experienced staffs.

I conclude by saying what I said some weeks ago on this floor, that a House that could swallow the Berger bill has no excuse for drawing the line at 636.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, all I want to say at this time is that if we have swallowed one dose of poison is no excuse for swallowing the second dose of poison.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I believe maybe the former speakers on this bill missed one thing that should have been brought out, and that is that no mutual fund has ever missed a dividend. No mutual fund has ever been forced out of business. That is something that cannot be said for a lot of companies, neither can it be said about a lot of banks.

Any fund that would be eligible for these trustees to invest in would necessarily have had to have earned money twelve of the last sixteen years and would have had to have paid a dividend each one of those years. I, myself, believe that this is worthy legislation. I think it is safe and I believe that it should receive favorable consideration.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, the House in its wisdom a couple of weeks ago passed Senate Bill 11. That was an advancement on the right of fiduciaries in the Commonwealth to make investments in certain stocks which previously had been prohibited by statute.

That did not constitute an abandonment of the prudent man rule. Even though this House now permits a fiduciary to make such investments the prudent man rule is still in force.

The only thing that happened a couple of weeks ago when we came to Senate Bill 636 is that the Members of the House did not realize that Senate Bill 636 was a better bill than Senate Bill 11. The Senate realized it because the Senate passed Senate Bill 636 by a vote of 46 to 3 and they only passed Senate Bill 11 by a vote of 29 to 9. Yet Senate Bill 636 in the House fell.

If Members in the House examined both bills, they would find that Senate Bill 636 is word for word exactly as Senate Bill 11 with the exception of the last page in which it is set forth that mutual funds must comply with the Federal Investment Act of 1940. It can have no loans, no debts, no liens. The severe restrictions which have been imposed in Senate Bill 636 to make the mutual funds unusually safe limits practically the mutual fund sources to 38 institutions which are so safe as to constitute the safest sort of investment for a fiduciary going into the stock field.

How can we possibly compare Senate Bill 11 with Senate Bill 636? The only thing it possibly involves is the question of competition; competition between the banks and the mutual funds. On that score I suggest that you take a cue from our Minority Leader who said that this great Commonwealth is big enough to stand for both types of institutions, a great banking institution and a great source of investment in mutual funds.

You will be doing a favor for the trustees of the Commonwealth by permitting them to invest in mutual funds because they are definitely safer than those which are permitted under Senate Bill 11.

I ask you to support the bill.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman from Erie made the statement that none of these mutual funds have ever failed, am I correct in that?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Waterhouse, to tell us whether there has been a fluctuation in the value of certificates issued by the investment companies?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that is pertinent to this bill, because we know there has been wide fluctuation in values of everything over the past twenty or thirty years.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, was there a fluctuation in the value of government bonds?

Are the $1,000 government bonds still worth a $1,000 year in and year out?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, no, I believe there have been times that you could not get face for a government bond.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in other words that fluctuates too? Does the gentleman from Erie know the extent to which these certificates have fluctuated since 1925 up until the present time?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I would not know about these but I sold General Motors for $15 a share.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, if the value of the trust certificate fluctuates and the value decreases rather suddenly, does not a $1,000 investment become an investment of a much smaller size perhaps?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman please repeat that question?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, if the values were to fluctuate with the stock market, which he doubts they do, would it not be possible for a certificate which is worth a $1,000 today to be worth only $500 a month from now?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, well a fund would not fluctuate nearly as much as the market itself due to the diversified lines they hold. In other words, they have so many different interests, if you get a fluctuation of one, you are apt to get the exact opposite from the other so they are very stable.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, when we go into a general deflation or a general period of depression do not they all go down so that all of the stocks held by the fund go down in the same proportion?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, that is true of anything. If the gentleman has watched the papers in recent weeks he will find that railways, oils and many others have been showing a lot of strength while some show some losses. With your trust funds you pretty much get an even keel.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe perhaps that I made my point clear in the beginning. The point that I am trying to make is that in periods of depression, not in normal times, not in times of particular activity like we have now when the market is good—when the market is good any investment is good—any investment that you make today you would consider safe,—but in periods of depression, that is the time that the persons we are concerned about need protection. Not now.

Any investment fund that cannot show a profit is certainly a very loose, uncontrolled investment. But in times of depression these investment funds, the stock market generally takes a tumble and the common stocks, the securities, the investments take a serious tumble; there are certain things which do not tumble so fast such as government bonds, such as first mortgages and a great many other safe investments. They do not pay the return that you get now, that is true, but they do not tumble as fast come depressions.

That is why I object to opening the door, not for the present time, but I am trying to look into the future when another 1929 may come upon us and the values of these securities may be seriously affected.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman in regard to deflation in the value of investment fund shares, one advantage of the investment fund share is the flexibility of the operation of the fund.

As I pointed out, the idea back of it is to have skilled men in the investment world running these large funds. They have that flexibility which permits their getting out of the market, shall I say, when storm signs appear.

I think you will find that in investigating the balance sheets or portfolio of the 38 or 40 some funds that would presently be authorized for investment under this bill, you will find that they are presently holding a large number of government bonds in their portfolio and other gilt edge securities which might not be as speculative as they would have been several years ago. That is to say they have unloaded as I understand it, a good many stocks which a few years ago looked very fine, which today are speculative, and are filling their portfolios with government bonds. That is an advantage of mutual fund shares, shut flexibility of investment.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I want to make this observation taken from a statement made by the late Justice Brandise, "capital is a risk no matter where you place it."

In my own experience during the 1930's, I had the occasion to receive a number of bonds of a large hotel in Philadelphia. First mortgage bonds. I would say, at that time, the largest hotel in Philadelphia. A $1,000 bond was of the value of $250 and that is the only cash you could acquire or receive for it.

Now my answer to the gentleman from Cambria on the question of the reduction of the value of mutual funds as against stocks: in the worst period in American history where the stocks were reduced during the years from 1929 to 1932, the worst bear market in history, the best stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange declined 73 percent. No mutual fund declined that much. The average decline in these funds being 47 percent. That you can see is simply due to the fact that the diversification is better whereas individual stocks would decline.

The early war market from 1939 to 1943 is another interesting period to test the ability of mutual funds. The increase during these war years, the best stocks on the Stock Exchange as reported by Dow-Jones averages, increased 22 percent while for the same period, the average mutual funds increased 38 percent. They are better going up and they are slower going down. They are a better investment all around.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to call the attention of the House to the fact that our Secretary of Banking recently wrote us a letter on this subject in which he was decidedly against this bill.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate one of the proponents of this bill, as to the workings of these mutual funds. I do not know whether anyone knows or not but I would like to find out something about it.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell me under what regulation these mutual funds are accorded any regulation at all as to the type and the manner of investment?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, that is an excellent question, and I would like to reply to the gentleman from Delaware by saying that mutual trust funds are now carefully regulated by the United States government through the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the securities and Exchange Commission sets up many safeguards even to the extent of publicly advertising the statements and operations of mutual trust funds.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, a further question, may I ask the gentleman if the Securities and Exchange Commission tells the trust funds as to the amount and the proportion of the various types of investments which the trust fund can have in its portfolio?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, the Securities and Exchange Commission makes absolutely certain that the investments in the portfolio are in their judgment, the soundest kind of investments at the present time. Whether or not they specifically tell them to invest their money in certain companies I do not know. But there are so many companies of various kinds involved, and the scope is so wide, providing the diversification necessary and covering the basic industries and businesses of the United States, that I presume the Securities and Exchange Commission are interested in seeing that those portfolios measure up to their expectations.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, a further question. In other words if I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia if the Securities and Exchange Commission thought it proper, the trust funds themselves could invest their entire capital in common stocks?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, in connection with Senate Bill 636, the trustees can only invest one third of the estate in mutual trust funds.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Frankly the gentleman misunderstood my question Mr. Speaker. My question was directed to him because I believe the gentleman stated the Securities and Exchange Commission controlled the investment of mutual trust funds, which is the subject of Senate Bill 636. My question, if that is true the Securities and Exchange Commission could if it so desired permit the investment of mutual trust funds one hundred percent in common stocks, is that correct?

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. I do not know, Mr. Speaker, but I believe the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, is familiar with the handling of trust funds and has undoubtedly acted in the capacity of a trustee, and would arrange a portfolio not to invest all the funds in any particular kind of investment; and to use the old expression in economics, not to carry all your eggs in one basket.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, the question I want answered, is there anything in law which would prevent, other than the whims of the Securities and Exchange Commission which would prevent a particular mutual fund from investing all of its funds in one particular type of investment.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I am not a lawyer, I am not a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission. We could be here all afternoon if I were to read a printed statement of one of the leading mutual trust funds in America, to tell you the kind of investments, the amount of investments, and the various industries that they represent.

If this pamphlet would enlighten the gentleman from Delaware I would certainly like to give it to him, and that might answer his question. But I am not a lawyer, I am not on the Securities and Exchange Commission, and I am not a financial expert, so I might not be giving him the proper answer to his specific question, but I believe it has been covered here this afternoon in the discussion of the bill.

Mr. ROBERTSON. I wish to thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I will admit that I am a lawyer but I am not a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission. As far as I can determine the mutual trust fund as such is a fairly recent development in the field of investment. When I say "fairly recent" I mean in comparison with the corporate structure.

But in all the debate, Mr. Speaker, which I have heard today on this bill, apparently there is on person who happens to be the forgotten man. He is the man whose money you are kicking around. My position on this bill is the same as on Senate Bill 11. Any who dies and leaves a will or who dies and does not leave a will, of course, is foolish—but those who do leave a will, they can in their will authorize a trust and authorize the trustee and give him the power to invest the funds in anything he desires. The only thing that he is responsible for is to follow the prudent man rule.

Mr. Speaker, I say to you as I said on Senate Bill 11 I do not feel that this House or this Legislature should tell the person who has passed on that no matter what his desires are we are still going to permit his trustee to go out and beyond what he has set forth in his will, and permit him to invest in common stocks and now in the mutual trust funds.

I will say this, so there is no question about it, I have recommended to clients to invest in trust funds of this type because I feel it is a good investment, but at the same time my position is the same, that we should not dictate to the decedent whose will we are handling how his funds should be invested if he has the opportunity to state it in the instrument itself.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, one brief statement in connection with a reference that was made by the gentleman from Cambria Mr. Lopresti concerning the banks in his particular area. I would like to say that the banks in our area,—and I am acquainted with quite a number of the officials of those institutions,—have not registered any complaint with me, or with anyone on our side of the House concerning the merits of this bill, and we do have some mighty strong banks in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I merely would like to call the attention of the House to one statement made by the learned gentleman from Delaware County about the matter of dictating to a fiduciary on what investments he is to make. There is nothing in Bill 636 which dictates how a fiduciary is to invest the money. It gives him permission, he is authorized to, if he wants to, if in his prudent judgment it is as good as the investment which he makes of his own funds, because the prudent man rule, either as to Senate Bill 11 or 636 has not been abandoned. The trustee or fiduciary is still responsible for the investment of the money. He is given permission to invest one third in this type of fund. If he does not want to, nobody makes him do it.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Just a brief reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll. That is the point I made, that the decedent in his will can stipulate that the trustee can invest in other types of securities not presently known as legal. An attorney drawing a will should properly discuss that. My position is that if the will is quiet and says nothing about investment in other types of securities you must assume that the trustee is bound by the decedent's desires and that it is to be invested in bonds and mortgages. That is the point I want to make.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1676, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by empowering boards of school directors with the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction to alter the prescribed number hours and days of classes in certain emergencies for a limited period of time. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Article V of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended by adding immediately after Section 520 a new section to read as follows

Section 520.1 Temporary Emergency Provisions (a) Whenever an emergency shall arise which the board of school directors of any school district in the performance of its duties could not anticipate or foresee and which emergency shall result in any such school district being unable to provide for the attendance of all pupils during the prescribed length of school days number of days per week or usual hours of classes it shall be found as a fact by the school directors of any school district and so recorded on the minutes of a regular or special meeting of such board and certified to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and such board of school directors subject to the approval of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall have power to put into operation in such school district any one or more of the temporary provisions hereinafter provided for but in no event shall such temporary provisions remain in effect for a period of more than four years after they are first put into effect

(b) Subject to the foregoing provisions any board of school directors may

(1) Keep the schools of the district in session such days and number of days per week as they shall deem necessary or desirable but the provisions of this act requiring a minimum of one hundred eighty (180) session days as a school year shall not be affected thereby

(2) Reduce the length of time of daily instruction for various courses and classes

(c) Any school district by invoking the powers herein granted shall not thereby forfeit its right to reimbursement by the Commonwealth or other State-aid as otherwise provided for by this act

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 404 Powers of Sequestator A sequestator shall have power to retain possession of the property as sequestator until all taxes owing to the several taxing districts shall have been collected or paid He shall have power (a) to lease the property for a period not exceeding one (1) year with the usual privilege of renewal or termination thereof upon three (3) months' notice [but not for the purpose of extracting any minerals or oil or the cutting of timber] (b) to make such repairs to the property as may be reasonably necessary to restore and maintain it in a tenable condition and to carry insurance on such property (c) to advertise the property for rent (d) to collect the costs of repairs advertising and commissions of rental agents from rentals collected or from a redeeming owner (e) to sell and dispose of growing crops and (f) to appoint a licensed real estate broker or agent as agent to collect the rentals of the property and pay such agents the customary commissions for rent collection. The bureau shall not in any case without prior approval of the county commissioners or in case of cities of the first class the city council incur any expense for the maintenance repair or alteration of any property in excess of eight per centum (80%) of the amount of rental to be received from such property within a period of one (1) year under a lease entered into at or before the time such expense is incurred All commissions costs and necessary expenses shall be deducted from the rents collected before paying the net balance towards taxes

Section 608 Deed When the purchaser has paid the amount of his bid it shall be the duty of the bureau to make to the said purchaser his or their heirs or assigns a deed in fee simple for the property sold Each such deed shall be in the name of the bureau as trustee grantor and shall be executed and duly acknowledged before the prothonotary by the director and a notation of such deed and acknowledgment shall be duly entered on the proper records The deed shall before delivery be recorded in the office for the recording of deeds at the cost of the purchaser

Section 5 Section 612.1 of said act as added by the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1579) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 612.1 County Commissioners May Bid and Purchase Property [When No Bids Offered] Costs Paid by Taxing Districts Whenever any property shall be put up for public sale upon order of court as provided in section six hundred twelve the county commissioners are hereby authorized to bid [the sum of one dollar ($1)] up to and including one dollar over and above all costs as prescribed in section six hundred twelve for said property at such sale and if the property is sold to them for the county the county shall take and have an absolute title free and clear of all tax and municipal claims mortgages liens and charges and estates of whatsoever kind except ground rents separately taxed in the same manner and to the same extent as a private purchaser would have taken. In such cases the proportionate share of said costs shall be paid to the county by the respective taxing districts in proportion to the taxes due them on such property. An amount equal to such costs due the county from any taxing district may be deducted from any tax moneys thereafter payable to such district under the provisions of this act. Upon the sale thereafter of such property by the county the proceeds from the sale shall be distributed to the taxing authorities in proportion to the taxes due them on such property at the time of the last tax sale.

Any property purchased at such sale by the county may thereafter by the county commissioners be (1) leased to any taxing district to be used for public purposes (2) used for any suitable public purpose by the county [or] (3) sold in the same manner as any other real property owned in fee simple by the county or (4) sold upon petition to the Court of Common Pleas which shall fix a day not more than thirty (30) days thereafter for a hearing and sale. At least five (5) days notice of such hearing and sale shall be given to all the taxing authorities having an interest therein and notice shall also be given by publication at least two times with approximately ten (10) days intervening in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation published in the county setting forth the location of the property that was acquired at a public tax sale giving the date and place the terms of the proposed sale and that the property will be sold clear and free of all liens and charges (except ground rents if any) and the lowest amount which the county is prepared to accept for the sale of the property.

If after such hearing the court is satisfied that the proposed sale is proper and to the advantage of the county and the other taxing districts interested it shall allow any person to offer more than the minimum price fixed by the county or other price as the court may find proper and enter a decree approving such sale and directing a conveyance of such property to the person or persons purchasing the same upon the payment of the purchase price and all costs of the proceedings. The title conveyed shall be free and clear of all tax and municipal claims mortgages liens and charges and estates of whatever kind except ground rents separately taxed.

Section 6 Sections 615 and 702 of said act are hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 615 Deeds. When the price for the private sale of any said property has been finally approved or confirmed as hereinbefore provided the bureau shall upon payment over of the purchase price less the option money if any make to the purchaser his or their heirs or assigns a deed in fee simple for the property sold. Each such deed shall be in the name of the bureau as trustee grantor and shall be executed and duly acknowledged before the prothonotary by the director. Such deed shall convey title to the purchaser free clear and discharged of all tax claims and tax judgments whether or not returned filed or entered as provided by this or any other act.

Section 702 Powers and Duties of Bureau as Agent. The property turned over to it as provided in the preceding section shall not be subject to redemption and until finally sold as hereinafter provided the bureau shall manage and control the property for the trustee county with power (a) to lease the property for a period not exceeding one (1) year with the usual privilege of renewal on termination thereof upon three (3) months' notice [but not] and any such lease may be on a royalty basis for the purpose of extracting any minerals or oil or the cutting of timber (b) to make such repairs to the property as may be reasonably necessary to restore and maintain it in a tenable condition and to carry insurance on such property (c) to advertise the property for sale or for rent (d) to appoint an agent or agents who shall be a licensed real estate broker or agent to collect the rentals and pay such agents the customary commission for rent collection (e) to harvest and sell the crops or produce of the property (f) to sell any scrap or salvage resulting from repairs or alterations to buildings on the property or from the demolition of buildings no longer safe for occupancy (g) to recover the cost of advertising repairs alterations or demolition of buildings the harvesting of crops and the commissions of rental agents from the rental or sale of the property or any crops or salvage therefrom and (h) to sell the property at private sale or give options thereon and receive option money and to make deeds for such property when sold in the same manner as provided in Article VI.

The bureau shall not in any case incur any expense for the maintenance repair or alteration of any such property in excess of eighty per centum (80%) of the amount of rental to be received for such property within a period of one (1) year under a lease entered into at or before the time such expense is incurred.

Section 7 Section 703 of said act as amended by the acts approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1579) and the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1602) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 703 Such Properties to be Sold Under Provisions of Article VI. (a) All properties so turned over to the bureau which have not been sold at private sale as hereinbefore provided with the exception of such properties leased to a previous owner or other member of his family dwelling therein and receiving or within the preceding sixty (60) days having received assistance from any public agency [shall be sold by the bureau at public sale held not later than the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one or at a public sale held not later than two years after this act becomes effective as to such taxing district. Such sales shall be made if requested by the county commissioners taxing district or trustee which delivered possession thereof to the bureau in the same manner as if said property was being sold at a first sale on a tax claim as provided in Articles III and VI and if no such request is made] may be sold at public sale by the bureau upon written request of any taxing authorities having any tax claims or tax judgments against the property. Such sale shall be made at the time specified in the request and in the same manner as if the property was being sold at a first sale on a tax claim as provided in Articles III and VI except that it shall be a simple public sale with no upset price and shall divest only the lien of tax claims and tax judgments. The purchaser of any such property shall be given a deed executed and acknowledged as hereinbefore provided which shall convey title free clear and discharged of all tax claims and tax judgments whether or not returned filed or entered as provided by this or any other act. The notices to be given of such sale as required in Article VI shall state that there is no upset price and that the sale shall divest only the lien of taxes and tax judgments.

(b) In lieu of the public sale provided for in the preceding subsection or if such sale is held but the property is not sold due to the absence of any bid the bureau upon written request of any such interested taxing authorities may sell such property upon petition to court for an order to sell clear and free of all claims liens mortgages and estates in the same manner with like proceedings and with like effect as if said properties had been first exposed to public sale as provided in Article VI but not sold because of insufficient bid. The sale of properties turned over to the bureau under the provisions of this article shall except as herein otherwise provided be subject to all the provisions of Article VI in so far as they may be applicable and when sold at public sale by order of court as above provided such properties shall be sold free and discharged from all tax and municipal claims mortgages liens charges and estates whatsoever.

[It is the intent of this section that where said property is exposed to a first public sale at the request of the county commissioner or trustee as above provided but is not sold because of insufficient bid the property shall thereafter be sold by order of court as herein provided freed and discharged from all liens and encumbrances as provided under Article VI.]

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if there is opposition to this bill I would like to have some of those who are in opposition state what the grounds of their opposition happens to be.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, in reference to the question of the Minority Floor Leader, there are four bills: 653, 654, 655 and 656. They are companion bills. 653 was defeated yesterday and they all have to do with the new assessment law. As I understand the proponents, they do not want one without the other.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Delaware after simply observing, I see nothing in this bill regarding the assessments, but simply a safeguarding of sales that are to be made by county commissioners. This bill was amended to safeguard them by putting in an amendment that sales could only be made with permission of the court. I cannot see personally how this ties in with some of the other bills the gentleman from Blair has in mind, and I yield to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, who will correct me if I am wrong.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria is exactly right on the bill with which we are concerned. I believe that the gentleman from Union, Mr. Reagan, is also correct insofar as 653, 654, 655 and 656 are a package which has come out of the local government commission.

As I stated yesterday, this package having passed the Senate, is presented to the House as a recommendation of the Local Government Commission after a long time and a long period of study in order to streamline the collection of real estate taxes and to accurately collect all taxes on all lands.

As far as that is concerned, it is a package, but we are proceeding in accordance with the calendar and I ask that you vote for this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is not Senate Bill 654 a bill that would stand on its own feet, independent of any other bill now pending on the calendar?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria that is correct.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that is the point that I wanted to emphasize, that this bill even of itself stands on its own feet and is not tied up directly or indirectly with the intent carried in the other bills that are part of the package.

This bill simply deals with the sale of lands that have been taken over by the county and safeguards them by prescribing—instead of the bill as originally framed—that the sales must be made with the sanction of the court. It is a way of disposing of property that the county has come into possession of and has nothing to do with assessments.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, there is a matter involved in this bill which touches very nearly on the question which the other bills contain. That is that here we have a delinquent tax board appointed to take care of this. This is an appointed board. Previously it was handled by our County Commissioners and by the County Treasurer and handled satisfactorily. This takes it out of the hands of the elected officials and puts it in the hands of this board, which is an appointed board, and they not only have control over sales, but they handle all the money. The County Treasurer is the elected officer to handle the money of the county, but this takes the delinquent tax sales out of the hands of the Treasurer and puts it in a board which is appointed.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to clear up a bit of the thinking of Mr. Reagan insofar as this is an amendment to the 1947 Act which set up your Delinquent Tax Bureau. That was appointed under the '47 Act. This does not appoint the Bureau; this merely clarifies the procedure of the disposal of the properties taken over by the County Commissioners at the Treasurer's sale. That is all it does—it appoints no new person and it appoints no new board, but merely clarifies and safeguards the disposition of the property obtained by tax sales.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask him if the money collected from delinquent tax sales is not to be turned over to this delinquent board.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, not the board; the Treasurer. If the board holds the title which is set forth in the Act, it gives the deed as trustee grantor, and on disposition of proceeds from the sale it disposes of the proceeds of the sale pro rata, if the sale is not sufficient to take care of all delinquent taxes, or it disposes of the proceeds in accordance with the amount of the tax money judged sufficient to take care of all of the back taxes which are on the property held by the County Commissioners.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, but does not the board take over the duties of the County Treasurer in handling the money from these sales, divide it out then to the taxing authorities as their interests appear?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, if the County Commissioners hold the title, it is handled by the Treasurer; if title is held by the Bureau it is distributed by the Bureau itself and accounted for by the Bureau to the Treasurer.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker. I thank the gentleman.

This is another instance where the business of the County and the money of the County is taken out of the hands of the Treasurer and put into a board which distributes that money as it sees fit. We have had no difficulty with our County Treasurers and County Commissioners along this line heretofore, so why is it necessary to have a board which will take this all over and take the money which is the prerogative of the County Treasurers and give it into the hands of a board which is not elected?

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?
